With a simplicity of ritual and a beauty of appointment that lent dignity to the occasion, the marriage of Miss Annie Elizabeth Humlong and Mr. George W. Stewart was solemnized in the Germantown Christian Church Thursday afternoon, January 5th, at 2 o'clock.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh S. Calkins, of Lexington. Miss Jean Humlong, petite young cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer, while Frank and Ruth Humlong, cousins also, acted as attendants. The ushers were Messrs. Emery Allen Yelton, Darrel Hill, Donald Griffith and Ellis Hartford.

The Christian Church was a fitting frame for the wedding, solemnized before a sea of verdure, with the altar banked in cedars, palms and ferns. Softly glowing cathedral candles sentineled the little sanctuary where the bride and groom plighted their troth.

After the guests had assembled a group of lovely vocal selections, the traditional marriage music, was rendered by Mrs. Donald Griffith, formerly Miss Evelyn Lloyd, who is well known for her superb, melodious voice.

At the stroke of the appointed hour, Lohengrin's Wedding March, appealingly played by Mrs. C. O. Pickett, of Danville, announced the approach of the bridal party.

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. R. Graham Humlong, was radiantly beautiful in her wedding gown of virgin white georgette, trimmed in real needle point lace. Her veil, a creation of lace, was adorned with orange blossoms.

Following the ceremony, an information reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Humlong.

The bride, a young lady of great personal charm, was graduated from the Germantown High School and latter attended Hamilton College and the University of Cincinnati, where she was exceedingly popular in all campus activities.

The groom, the son of Mrs. Edith Stewart, of Montague, Prince Edward Island, Canada, has served as pastor of the Germantown Christian Church for the past two years, and is held in exalted esteem throughout Mason and Bracken counties. He is a graduate of Transylvania College.

HAS RELATIVES HERE.—The New York Journal-News and Mirror, of recent date, contain an account of a sad drowning of three Queen's Village Boy Scouts, also pictures of grappling and finding of the bodies also of how a boy scout, led the police and detectives to where the canteens and knapsacks were found. The Scout mentioned is John Howrigan, of Troop 7 B.S.A., being the fourth chum and was supposed to have gone on the hike with them. When the boys failed to return the police appealed to him for aid in the search. He was praised very highly by Police Captain Copeland, and by his Scout Major for his wonderful work and good service, and will receive special honor from his Troop Master. This young lad is a grandson of Capt. and Mrs. John Smith, of Georgetown, P.E.I., is fifteen years of age and has begun his third year in Jamaica High School, Jamaica, N.Y., of which he is a member of the Glee Club.

Twenty four guests sat down to a banquet, given last night in the Willingdon room of the Victoria Hotel, for the purpose of inaugurating the subscription campaign of the Prince Edward Island Publicity Association for 1928.

After the dinner, which was most thoroughly enjoyed by all, had been served, the president of the association, Mr. Justice Arsenault, addressed the assembled members of the society.

After welcoming the new faces which he saw about the board for the first time that evening, he stressed the importance of the tourist traffic to the province—that invisible export, which last year had proven one of the largest revenues producers in Canada, bringing in as it did, about $200,000,000.00 to the country. The revenue to the society last year had been $16,000.00 but, when office expenses had been deducted not much was left to pay for publicity. If we get the tourists, said His Honor railway and hotel accommodation will come of themselves. With regard to subscriptions he said that these he had so far canvassed had exceeded their fast years amounts by from 40 to 100 per cent. He expressed his confidence that the government would generously recognize their work, and concluded by saying to the canvassers that they might go out, not hesitating to press people to subscribe generously "for you know even if they do not, that what they thus subscribe they will receive back later on ten fold."

Mr. Saunders then addressed the members, promising his personal support though, as he had not consulted his colleagues, he could not speak for the government, who all, however, were glad to see the good work carried out by the association. But in the legislature there were 90 per cent of farmers, and considering their views in the matter of taxation, also because they did not see how the work of association would benefit them it was hard to predict what could be done. Mr. Saunders closed by assuring the society that anything within reason that he could do to help them, he would do.

Mr. S. A. MacDonald pointed out the great increase in the number of cars that visited the province during the last year. These cars, all burnt gasoline, and the extra tax so collected would he felt sure make up a large part of the government grant.

As regards tomorrow's drive—eleven or twelve hundred dollars had already been collected. The objective was $3,000, and the teams going out next day should get half of that.

Mr. Justice Arsenault again spoke briefly, calling the Premier's attention to the fact that the tourists who come must be fed, and that the foods which they consumed would help swell the farmer's business very largely. He requested all to meet there again tonight at the same hour, and bring their reports.

Mr. Al Stewart raised the point that some said most of the tourists were home comers, who, when they were here, lived with their relatives and spent little money.

The president replied that they had investigated the matter, and found that they spent a good deal of money in buying articles for the homes of their relatives.

Mr. Hyndman brought up the question of obtaining suitable camp sites for tourists. He believed, too, that if, the aims of the Tourist Association were put before the Women's Institutes and the farmers meetings in the right way, the farmers would both understand and help, to attract capitalists here, also wealthy tourists we must advertise our province.

Perry's) premises on Water Street, Summerside. The transfer is being made by open sleigh and from a hurried glance we got of the faces of some of the onlookers, it would be an act of common humanity on the part of the authorities to have a sheet of tarpaulin placed over it whilst in transit. (Summerside Farmer.)

At a largely attended meeting of delegates and others representing the congregations of the Central Parish, presided over by Rev. D. M. Lamont, a resolution was unanimously adopted to extend a call to the Rev. T. W. Goodwill, B.D., son of a revered former pastor, the Rev. John Goodwill.

The discussion that led up to this resolution was characterized throughout by the spirit of hopefulness and harmony. Mr. John Goodwill MacFadyen, expressing his regrets that Mr. Lamont had made clear to them his decision to accept a call from Toronto, moved, in order to proceed with the business before them, that the resignation be accepted. Mr. Angus MacPhee, M.P., in seconding said he had learned of this resignation with disappointment and regret. Mr. Lamont had laboured among them for seven years, and during his incumbency there was remarkable unity and prosperity throughout the whole parish. There was also an encouraging growth, the leadership has been enlarged and strengthened and, on the temporal side, all our churches are in good structural condition. Several of them (particularly Churchill) have been thoroughly renovated.

Mr. James MacFadyen, speaking for People's Church, said that never did this congregation show such signs of prosperity as now. Not only were the financial givings of the congregation higher this year than any previous year, but the attendance at the S. School and the evening services showed an increasing interest and what was still more hopeful harmony and goodwill prevaded the congregation with a deeper sense of the divine presence in the sanctuary.

Several other speakers from various sections made encouraging speeches. The whole message and issue of the meeting seemed to be, "We have never been left without a Shepherd, let us keep united and prayerfully await upon the Lord to send us a Shepherd from his own right hand!"

The Moderator called on an aged elder of the Church, Mr. Henry Compton, who closed the meeting with prayer.
