IN LOVING MEMORY.

James Cummings, son of Malcolm and Mrs. Cummings, of Darlington, P. E. I., aged twenty five years was accidentally killed recently by being caught under a log while employed as brakeman on a logging train for the International Timber Company, of Campbell's River, British Columbia. The remains of the late Mr. Cummings were brought home on Dec. 7th by his brother Allan. The deceased was possessed with many charming qualities of mind and manner and by his kind and sympathetic nature has left lasting remembrances on the hearts of those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance and by whom his death shall be sincerely mourned. His life, though short, was bright and full of promise, but it is little matter at what hour of the day the rigorous fall asleep. Death cannot come to him untimely who has learned to die, "the less of this brief earth the more of Heaven, the shorter time the longer immorality." That the deceased young man was beloved and esteemed was attested to by the large concourse of acquaintances who notwithstanding the state of the roads gathered at his funeral on the 8th to pay their last tributes of respect to his memory. The funeral services, which were strongly impressive, were conducted by the Rev. John Gillis, pastor, Strathalbyn. He leaves a sorrowing father, mother, three brothers and one sister to cherish his memory. Leaves have their time to fall and flowers to wither. As the north winds breath and stars to set. But all thou hast, all seasons for thine own, O death.

The buying days glide swiftly by

JUST ONE SHORT, desperately busy week before you now—all the undone things MUST be cleared out of your way, if you want to have, on Christmas eve an easy consciousness of being finished—nothing forgotten or overlooked. To get it all out of the way—shop now—shop in the mornings as far as possible—make a list of your requirements, before you do another thing—and the list finished—you'll be half done.
