ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION TO SOLDIER

Mr. Hartie Brown, of Kensington, came to the city yesterday having enlisted with the 105th Highland Regiment. Last Saturday Mr. Brown was the guest of honor at a farewell banquet given him by the members of the Kensington Dairy Association, of which he was manager, and at which quite a number of the fair sex were in evidence. The Chairman was Mr. George E. Brown, who made a few complimentary remarks and was followed by Rev. G. Sutherland, Mr. John R. Sharp and the Secretary of the association, Mr. J. P. Proffitt, who spoke in eulogistic terms of the character of Mr. Brown. The affair, which was held in the Kensington Temperance Hall, speaks well for the popularity of Mr. Brown, who was the recipient of a handsome watch and fountain pen.

Needless to say Mr. Brown was overcome by their kindness, as he feels it only his privilege and duty to do his part in this great struggle.

To Hartie Brown.
Dear friend,—The tidings of your departure from our midst has been received with expressions of pride and yet sincere regret. Pride, occasioned by the thought that true patriotism for our King and Empire has caused you to lay aside your work and go forth clad in the King's uniform to fight for our flag and country; a pride, Sir, that you yourself will experience, deep down in your heart will be the satisfaction of knowing that when the testing time had come that God had given you the strength and courage to go and play your part in the struggle for freedom. It is for this we point to you with a legitimate pride. Regret, occasioned by the fact that in your departure our association will deeply regret the loss of a capable, energetic and efficient maker and manager.

We have therefore deemed it fitting and just on the eve of your leaving to express to you, though our deep regard for yourself personally, and our appreciation of the excellent services rendered by you. In your official capacity we have found you to be trustworthy, honest and faithful; as a result our relationship has been most harmonious and agreeable.

In the social life of our town your high qualities of mind and heart have ever stamped you as a real gentleman. Need you marvel then, in your humility that your associates and friends regret your departure? One thought, however, tends to console us, and it is that the call which has become so urgent, has received on your part a ready response. In recognition of our esteem for you and your laudable purpose, we herewith present you with this watch and fountain pen as a slight remembrance of our goodwill and respect for you, with the earnest desire that you may be spared to return from the battlefield and join us in grand chorus "God save dear old Britain and God save Britain's King."

Signed in behalf of the Directors of Dairy Co. J. F. Proffitt, Secretary.
