TO SEEK DEATH PENALTY?

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP)—There were indications tonight that a military court might try the eight men accused of landing from German submarines on the east coast to sabotage the United States war effort. This raised the possibility that the death penalty might be sought, but justice department officials declined to speculate along that line, on the grounds that final decisions had not been reached.

Repairs Are Completed At Electric Plant

After almost 20 hours of continuous work on the part of Maritime Electric workmen, the electric current in the city and eastern section of the province was returned to normal shortly after 11 o'clock last night. The breakdown in the electric plant occurred about 4.45 Sunday evening and since then the service has been interrupted almost continuously since.

Mr. V.A. Ainsworth, Manager of the Maritime Electric, announced late last night that the break in the water pipe had been repaired and the trouble was over. After toiling about twelve hours repairing the broken length, the men discovered that another length of pipe had been broken also. They then had to disconnect this and repair it. The break is believed to have been caused by a settling in the earth.

The plant continued to operate most of the time on a reduced load. To distribute the power through the city, men at the plant had to shut off different circuits at various times. This had the effect of closing of the current in various sections of the city at different times thereby lightening the load.

The power at the Guardian Office was again off for several hours during the course of the night. Hospitals, theatres and other places were also affected at different times during the day.

ski) told the house he would vote against the bill in accordance with the negative vote given in the plebiscite by his electors and said the government, in presenting the bill was "more nefarious than the government of 1917."

14th Day of Debate

It was the 14th day of debate on the second reading of Prime Minister Mackenzie King's bill to repeal section three of the mobilization act which prevents sending conscripted men for service outside Canada.

Before the house took up Bill 80 Dr. Herbert A. Bruce (Con. Toronto-Parkdale) asked about the attitude of the government toward Lt.-Col George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative assembly member for Lotbiniere, in the light of a Toronto Star editorial on the actions brought against 6th members under Defence of Canada regulations.

The question was ruled out of order because of the rules against referring to matters which are before the courts.

At question time Finance Minister Ilsley told the house that there was no way of determining specifically whether or not the $1,000,000,000 gift credit to Britain was being used to cover present sales of wheat to the United Kingdom.

1942—Canada's Call—1942

By John "Of The Lilacs" P. E. I.

The Pipes are sounding far across the water,
Across the lakes and dells comes their refrain;
The pibroch strains are calling from the distance—
O Bonny lad guard well thy great Domain.

Guard well thy Freedom! Flower of Canada's greatness,
Far o'er the ocean waves thy help is needed still;
"Lest we Forget," these words live in our memory:
From out the past—from Flanders field and hill.

There in the hands of Heroes great—thy fathers,
A torch was lighted; brightly burnt its flame;
They passed its sacred precepts on Victorious:
Fail not nor falter now—in Canada's name.

Its flame was kindled in the heat of battle,
Today it burns with greater, fiercer, fire;
For Freedom was the cause that raised our standard,
Oppression by cruel tyrants roused our ire.

Guard well each privileged right—"Our Heritage";
Ennobled by greatest deeds from out the past.
Deeds, of her valiant sons that shine with glory;
Deeds that will live, as long as time shall last.

Let not time's awful thief—procrastination
Lull into dull inaction, ambitions greatest aims;
That pirate meant the loss of many a Victory
To leave a would-be conqueror in chains.

Guard well our shores! The warning voice of waters
Call out: as wave on wave roll from the sea;
The time to act is now! That time means VICTORY:
O Canada as one we stand on guard for Thee.

We have no fear of that phrenetic gorgon,
Nor all his slithering, reptile, Nazi horde;
For in the Power Supreme from out the Heavens
Is all the faith of this great Nation stored.

Ours is no empty boast, nor words vainglorious—
Of flattering tongue, or craven servile race;
Upon the undying page in deeds immortal;
There Canada's sons have won a glorious place.

No pen however great could write the glory
Of Canada's Heroes who braved wars awful Hell;
Their names shall live Forever; through the ages;
Where history's chronicle of valorous stories tell.

Probe Base Metals In N.B.

GRAND FALLS, N.B., June 29—(CP)—Investigation of base metals resources in New Brunswick is still in the preliminary stage and no definite statement on the situation can be made at present, Hon. F.W. Pirie, Minister of Lands and Mines for New Brunswick, said tonight.

Commenting on decision of the reconstruction finance corporation in the United States to finance development of mines in Canada, Mr. Pirie said that United States geologists now were working in Carleton County, across the border from Houlton, Me.

They were particularly concerned with manganese. As yet, said Mr. Pirie, he had received no reports indicating any great quantities of copper, zinc, lead or graphite in the province but manganese was being produced.

ARMY WEEK

man spoke briefly to the thousands of citizens who gathered on Queen Square. The various units were lined up on Grafton Street facing the square at the time. Mayor Holman spoke of the importance of the observance of Army Week and paid tribute to the fighting forces.

The parade, headed by Lt. Col. F. I. Andrew, M.M., Officer Commanding No. 62 Canadian Army Basic Training Centre at Beach Grove left the the Armouries at 7.30. It was composed of the following units: 17th (Reserve) Armoured Regiment in command of Capt. L. W. Goodwin; 204th (Reserve) Field Battery,-R.C.A., under Major A. W. Matheson; 6th. (Reserve) District Signals, R.C.C.S., under Lt.-Col. K. S. Rogers and No. 62 C.A.B.T.C., under Major A. S. Robertson. With Col. Andrew were Capt. W. J. Rollinson as adjutant, and R. S. M. George Brady.

The band of No. 62 C. A. B. T. C. under bandmaster Sgt. Lloyd Ward accompanied the parade and provided martial music. The band was in the centre of the parade which was the length of several blocks.

An unusual but interesting item on the program was the Army Post Office which was established in a marquee tent in front of the Charlottetown Post Office. It was in charge of three members of the local post office who are returned soldiers. They are: Mr. J. Finlay McLeod, R.S.M. W. C. DeCoste and Mr. Leo Berrigan. The two latter were in uniform. The post office will operate until this evening at 10 p. m.

Two military policemen and three runners from Beach Grove assisted in the work at the army office. A large quantity of parcels and letters were received for mailing yesterday and it is expected that many more messages to the troops in all parts of the Empire will be posted today. Letters to civilians are also accepted and many stamps are sold.

Mr. McLeod says that many stamp collectors were in yesterday looking for stamps. They thought a special stamp would be issued for the occasion. Mr. McLeod is of the opinion they would have sold many bearing the date line of Charlottetown Military Post Office had they been available.

Private homes and business places in the city were flying flags yesterday and also patriotic bunting as citizens honored the army boys. Today is "Civilian Day" and demonstrations by detachments from No. 62 C. A. B. T. C. will be held in various parts of the province.

EXPECTED TO

stem the tide.

Great gasoline dumps were set aflame between Matruh and Salum as the Allied fliers strove mightily to cripple Marshal Erwin Rommel's tenuous supply lines.

The British announcement that Matruh was "evacuated" was taken to mean that the 8th Army had retired in good order.

The normal 135 degree desert heat by day had abated somewhat and the refreshing coolness of night gave the battle-grimed combatants greater energy to carry on.

The decisive battle ranged over a vast brown wasteland and it was apparent that both the Germans and the British were more intent upon destroying each other than upon holding any particular point.

May Make Stand

The bottleneck of hard desert floor between the Mediterranean and the Qattara depression narrows to about 45 miles at a point some 50 miles east of Matruh and it appeared possible that the 8th Army might attempt a stand there. Strong defence positions, too, were prepared at Daba, 75 miles east of Matruh.

The battle was joined Saturday afternoon and has been going on without quarter ever since. It is a hot battle of movement and early developed into scattered contests between mobile artillery and opposing tanks. The infantry merely occupied overrun points and rounded up prisoners.

A bright desert moon allowed the fighting to continue during the nights.

Sees Danger To Communications

FREDERICTON, June 29—(CP)—Hon. J. B. McNair, Premier and attorney-general of New Brunswick, said in a statement tonight that the risk of sabotage against industry was less serious in New Brunswick than possibility of an attack on communications. His comment arose from arrest of German saboteurs in the United States.

"The risk of sabotage to essential industry is less serious here than in some other provinces on account of the lack of war industry in New Brunswick, and an attack on communications is a more dangerous possibility," he said.

"This is primarily a federal responsibility and has already been under discussion elsewhere. The United States incident must arrest one's attention and will doubtless serve to initiate further discussion on these matters when the (New Brunswick) government meets."

Approved War Service Emblem

Approved this week by the Department of National Defence, the official design for the service emblem to be displayed by families and relatives of members of the Canadian Armed Forces on Active Service is shown above. The border is bright red, the Dominion crest black and the background white. The maple leafs, one to be mounted for each member of the family on active service, are coloured in accordance with the service of the individual being honoured—navy blue for the naval services; khaki for the army, and air force blue for the R.C.A.F.

In view of the fact that permission has been granted for these emblems to be produced by manufacturers without further reference to government authority, it is expected that they will be available for purchase in stores throughout Canada in time for army week. All families with members on active service are authorized to display this emblem in whatever size or material they may so desire as long as there is no departure from the official design and colour.
