They say that "Sabotage" will be applied in such a manner as to secure the complete success of the movement. The government officials declare that they are ready to adopt extreme measures including the militarization of the railway men.

STEAMER MAKES A LONG VOYAGE

NEW YORK, December 28—One hundred and five day out from Russerah, Asiatic Turkey, the Hamburg-American steamer Cheruskia arrived here today in tow of the Welking steamer Rescue.

Since October 88 she had been floundering without a propeller, and as a sailing ship she was not a success. With favoring winds she some times logged 14 knots for the 24 hour. Once she was provisioned American gunboats, twice she was driven back to port of call by rough weather, and in one heavy lurch Chief Engineer Winkleman broke a leg.

SACO, Me., Dec. 27—Miss Gertrude L. Sawyer, the only woman in the country to hold the distinction of being pastor of two churches, will be married soon to the Rev. J. Bertrand Coy of Lewiston, with whom she first became acquainted while a student at the Thornton Academy Theological School.

FIND BOY SUICIDE HANGING TO TREE

FAIRHAVEN, Dec. 27—Hanging from a rope attached to a limb of a pine tree in the midst of the woods the body of Herbert Potter, a Fairhaven boy, who had been missing for several weeks, was found today. The boy had left his bicycle beside the road a quarter of a mile from the place where he committed suicide. No reason is known for his act.

NORTH SYDNEY HAS CEMETERY SCARE

SYDNEY, Dec. 28—Two young men of North Sydney have been arrested on a serious charge and are now awaiting trial. The men are Erwin and Bruce Bragg, who are held for wrongfully interfering with the interred remains of their brother-in-law, Theodore Vardy, who died about a month ago and was buried at Lakeside Cemetery. The information was laid by the deceased man's sister, Mrs. Jane Marsh, who alleges that on or about November 27th, the Bragg brothers removed the remains from the earth, and buried them in another part of the cemetery. The case is creating considerable interest.

KILLED BANKER IN RUSH TO SAVE SICK HORSE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 28—Surrounded by members of his family, R. Winder Johnson, head of the banking firm of Lawrence Johnson & Co., of this city, who was knocked down and injured by an automobile ambulance of the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals last night, died in a hospital today. Mr. Johnson was crossing Chestnut Street when a big ambulance with a sick horse in it came dashing down the street and ran him down. His skull was fractured and one of his legs was broken. The driver of the ambulance was placed under arrest. Mr. Johnson was 56 years old.

CHILDREN PLAYED WITH MATCHES AND HOUSE WAS GUTTED

ST. JOHN, Dec. 28—Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the three-story house at 207 Carmarthen street, owned by Mrs. W. Eagle and occupied by Mrs. Emma Brown and family. The blaze was discovered about 3.30 o'clock and before it could be extinguished the house was practically gutted. Mrs. Brown was out working at the time and had left her four small children, the oldest ten years of age, in the house alone. They found some matches and while playing with them set fire to the curtains in the middle flat. The flames spread rapidly, and in a few moments the upstairs flat was on fire. An alarm was rung in from box 35, and the fire department responded quickly. The greater part of the damage was done by smoke and water. The all out alarm was sounded about 4 o'clock.

Neither Mrs. Nagle nor Mrs. Brown carried any insurance, but the total damage will not exceed three hundred dollars.

FLOG WOMEN TIED TO TREE

CHARLOTTE, N. C. Dec. 27—A small riot was precipitated last night near Wadesboro, in a camp of several hundred gypsies when a man who gave his name as "Chief Mitchell" entered the tent of another member of the band, and, it is charged, attacked a woman. County officers were summoned and several arrests followed.

At a preliminary hearing today Mitchell was held without bail to answer the charge of criminal assault a capital offence in this State. Officers who went to the scene found several men and women tied to trees and severely beaten.

Mitchell claims that as he is chief of the band, he has committed no wrong.

DEATH-BED WIFE NOW HEIRESS

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Dec. 27—Happy in the consciousness that he had won as his bride the 27-year-old daughter of a comrade in the Civil War, and that he thus had made her heiress of his small estate, Leon A. Canter died today on the bed from which he had been carried in order to wed the girl.

His bride was Miss Emma M. Moore of 1815 North Twentieth street, who was also his ward, and during her guardian's long illness she went daily to St. Joseph's Hospital. where he had been confined to a cot with an incurable malady, and had been in almost constant attendance upon him.

HOW TO GET HENS TO LAY TWO EGGS A DAY.

(New York Herald.)

Elaborating a scheme of a fellow tradesman in Connecticdt who induced his hens to lay by deceiving them as to the season of the year, Charles S. Cooney, who conducts a greenhouse Livingston (N. Y.), has succeeded beyond his hope. The Connecticut man screened one end of his small greenhouse as a hen yard. His chickens, turned into this enclosure and looking through at the geraniums and other plants, were fooled into a belief that summer was at hand, and they began laying at top speed.

Mr. Cooney entered into the experiment on a large scale. Three weeks age he fenced off with a large mesh wire screen a space about twenty by thirty feet in the centre of his plant. He picked out eight of his finest Leghorn hens and put them in the corral. Mr. Cooney figured that if looking through a screen on one side of a hen yard would make hens think summer had come the prospect on the four sides of a yard would make them think several summers had arrived and thus stimulate them to even greater egg laying activity.

He theorized correctly. First he began to get eight eggs a day from the eight hens. Then the number began to increase until about two weeks ago, on the word of Mr. Cooney, who is a man of heretofore unquestioned veracity, each hen began laying two eggs a day. At least, that average was maintained. Several days later the average increased to two and one-eighth eggs a day. This rate has been maintained since. The pleased owner is in doubt whether the extra egg is laid always by the same hen or all of the colony take turns in laying it.

The strangest part of Mr. Cooney's experiment, however, lies in the influence on the chickens of the proximity of the plants and flowers that surround them on all sides. The eggs from the chickens used in the experiment after the first few days of their confinement began to have a peculiar and especially dainty flavor. The shells were more or less tinted. He observed that when not engaged in scratching for food, and even on their nests, the birds would stand or lie in rapt admiration of the flowers. Some would gaze for several minutes at a time at American beauty roses, while others would find pleasure in viewing the carnations or violets. Others were wont to cast their eyes on geraniums that flanked one side of the enclosure. The eggs, according to Mr. Sooney, seemed to take on distinctive flavors and distinctive tints of the flowers most admired by the birds.

The demand for the geranium flavored, rose colored and other tinted eggs is likely to be such, Cooney hopes, that the price he may demand will be much higher than the present rate of sixty cents a dozen.

PLOT AGAINST DAVID RUSSEL AT MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Dec. 28—David Russell, made the following startling statement at the Windsor Hotel this evening, and it looks as if there would be a tremendous sensation here within a few days.

"William J. Burns, the famous American detective has uncovered," said Mr. Russel, "three daring plots directed against me, the like of which would scarely be heard of in Russia. Mr. Burns is in Montreal for the purpose of making several arrests, and an application will be made to the Dominion Government for an investigation, as it is of the utmost importance to ascertain who is supplying the money by the barrel to carry on conspiracies of an appalling character and which will soon be uncovered."

"For instance," added Mr. Russel, "I have had my offices guarded at the Windsor and my apartments at the Bellevue by eight of Mr. Burns's men since the 24th of October last. This is indeed a nice state of affairs when a Canadian citizen is compelled to bring in American detectives to guard his person, his reputation and his property.

"As a matter of fact," he concluded, "every business man in the Dominion will be interested in having the guilty parties brought to justice."

Mr. Russell also stated that Mr. Rose of the well known firm of Kellogg and Rose will be here in a few days in connection with the prosecution, while Mr. Donald McMaster, K. C., M. P., who has also been employed, will sail on the Empress of Britain on Saturday.

FREE LUXURIES FOR U. S. SENATORS.

The vanities, follies and eccentricities of statesmen are brought a trifle further into the limelight through the secretary of the senate's annual report, made public this week at Washington. It discloses the little odds and ends of luxury and comfort near a senator's heart when it can be obtained at government expense; also are shown some of the ups and downs incident to ordinary life.

It seems that many senators became infatuated with the desire to have sofa pillows in their rooms over at the senate office building. Accordingly 27 of these were purchased. The price ranged all the way from $2.37 to $3.50 a pillow. Not more than two were placed in any room.

From May 1 to June 28 there were 232 cases of apollinaris "splits" furnished the senate, costing $1,856. Taxicabs for taking senators home at the close of sessions cost $110.

It was a fairly good year for telegraphing although franks remained good until August 17. The amount turned over to one company for the wires of senators was $29,011.

Twenty-six boxes of lemons were used during the month of July last year. They cost more than $1.75. It required two barrels of granulated sugar, costing $36.33, to sweeten them.

Five gallons of witch hazel cost $3.25.

One dozen bottles of soda mint and pepsin tablets to cure indigestion were purchased for $2. A dozen bottles of Jamaica ginger, for more severe cases, cost $4.20. Three large bottles of bromo-seltzer were worth $2.

Nineteen dozen of assorted hair brushes took $320.

Ten cases of soap were obtained for $27.50. Twenty-four dozen whisk brooms cost $50. One bag of ground alum salt cost $1; two ounces of quince seed, 20 cents; one quart oil of rose, $1; and two bottles of sal hepatica, 90 cents. Two thousand quinine pills were bought. The small items of the pharmacy and toilet cost $215.47. The barber's accessories, including three blackhead removers, cost $32.20.

One pound of snuff, to replenish the two boxes just within the senate chamber, cost 80 cents.

The engraving of six new copper plates for the desks of senators cost but $4.50. The rental of 45 antiseptic telephone mouthpieces was $45. One steel-lined cash bag represented $5.50.

Frederick M. Kerby, who created a sensation by disclosures regarding the Ballinger-Pinchot episode, and lost his government job in consequence, was paid $3 for appearing before the investigating committee.

SIR E. CARSON AIRS VIEWS ON DIVORCE

LONDON, Dec. 28—Sir Edward Carson, K. C., who practiced in Ireland for many years before coming to England, and who was an expert witness before the Divorce Commission here last week expressed the belief that every obstacle should be thrown in the way of those who seek divorce, to make it difficult to obtain decrees. He said that it would be a fatal mistake to make the obtaining of divorce easier. He believed a judge should exhaust every effort to induce those seeking divorces to settle their difficulties out of court and to become reunited.

When he was told that working people had not the faculties of the wealthier to obtain divorces, he invariably replied that he would equalize matters if he could by cutting down the faculties of the wealthy classes.

In his opinion the damages given in divorce cases were as a rule entirely inadequate. He thought it would be a salutary thing if the damages were much heavier. In the case of a man with £20,000 to £30,000 a year who coveted another man's wife and took her away from him the damages should not be £5,000 but £100,000. This certain would increase the worth of a wife.

When asked if he would not be in favor of leaving the matter of damages to the Judge, Sir Edward replied that he thought judges were inclined to be even more parsimonious in such cases than juries. In reply to a question by a member of the commission the lawyer said he would not put the sexes on terms of equality and advanced the startling theory that a woman should not be able to divorce her husband for infidelity because men, on account of the customs of the age, looked upon this matter in a different way from

BIG SNOW STORM CRIPPLES WIRE SERVICE IN THE WEST

CHICAGO, Ills., Dec. 28 — Telegraph and telephone companys report early today that weather conditions threaten a serious crippling of service in the middle-west with a possibility that Chicago may be out of direct communication both East and West.

A wet heavy snowstorm originating in the west travelled eastward all night and interfered with the transmission of messages on nearly all trunk lines. Rain, gradually turning to snow in Indiana, caused serious wire trouble there. This necessitated the re-routing of much telegraphic matter. If the weather turns cold soon it is feared that a general prostration of wire service may result.
