W. C. T. U. NOTES

THE PLACE

There is a place where thou canst touch the eyes
Of blinded men to instant, perfect sight;
There is a place where thou canst say "Arise!"
To dying captives bound in chains of night;
There is a place where thou canst reach the store—
Of hoarded gold and free it for the Lord
There is a place—upon some distant shore—
Where thou canst send the worker and the Word.
Where is that sacret place—dost thou ask "where?"
O soul, it is the secret place of prayer!

THE DOMINION Y.T.C.'S

Mrs. Hazel Howard, Cornwall, P.E.I.

"I will trust, and will not be afraid, for the Lord, even the Lord is my Strength."—Isaiah 12:2.

The earliest Temperance Society appears to have been the Order of St. Christopher founded in 1517. This fact is sufficient to remind us that we represent a cause of which the real potency and significance must be gauged not in terms of hours, nor even of years, but of centuries. And in terms of the centuries the temperance movement has been an authentic instrument of human progress.

From the time of our most primitive past alcoholic beverages have been a scourge to human life and a problem to human society. A tomb of early Egypt bore the inscription: "His earthly tenement was shattered by beer and wine and his spirit departed before it was called for," and in every generation from that day to this, the same inscription might have been re-written times without number as the epitaph of shattered lives. Alcoholic liquor has always been the enemy of man. Yet we go on allowing it to destroy character, to corrupt morals, to ruin homes and to take away the health and even the lives of many people. God does not want His people to live under this curse.

Discipline can be of great value when it is imposed by another, but the most valuable of all is self-imposed discipline when an individual reaches the place where he can truly discipline himself, then he has become a man, or she has become a woman. Laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages are helpful to those who cannot refrain from drinking. But the person who of his own accord chooses to abstain is the person who has gained knowledge, strength and courage.

Let all Y. T. C. members have self-imposed discipline and so have strength and courage to overcome the evils of this day and generation.

E. M. H.
