of some wild beast as it passed around the dwelling or beat with powerful hoofs against the door. At other times, the chairs would take to moving about the place, seemingly under their own power, and one

Bras d'Or OIL TREATED STOKER COAL

"FOLKS! why not try this BETTER Coal?"

First you'll find it absolutely FREE FROM DUST. That's because it's thoroughly oil-treated—which means cleaner, brighter homes and offices. And MONEY SAVED in every ton, because of its greater heating power and lower ash content.

Then because it is graded to the best sizes for combustion, Bras d'Or gives MORE EFFICIENT stoker action—longer stoker life too—by preventing rust formation on metal parts!

So gain these advantages with Bras d'Or Oil-Treated Stoker Coal and get GUARANTEED delivery from dealers all over the Maritimes... But order your winter supply now, and avoid possible delays and price advances later on.

Other fine Bras d'Or Coals—Screened Lump—2' x 1' Oil-treated Nut—Bridge Stoker 1 1/4"—or Slack Coal—and each the best of its grade. They are distributed throughout the Maritimes by S. Comrod & Co. Ltd., Halifax, N.S.—who invite orders from dealers.

Girl Guide News

1ST NORTH RUSTICO COMPANY

The Guides of North Rustico really excelled themselves on Wednesday evening when the play "Our Japanese Cousin" was produced. There was a full audience who highly appreciated the entertainment. To the writer's amazement Mrs. Laskey (Capt.) said that the girls had only been rehearsing for two weeks. This seemed incredible as the performance of perfect. Much credit indeed is due to Mrs. Laskey, Mother Superior and the Sisters and they have every reason to feel justly proud of the 1st Rustico Guide Company. The department and courtesy of appreciation. The curtain went up on a formation of all Guides in immaculate uniforms with singing, followed by an address to Rev. Father, teachers, parents and friends by Alvire LeClair, whose diction was perfect. She said:

"Perhaps because you have not heard much from the Guides this being inactive. Indeed, we are not, but are planning to carry our Glad indeed are we to have you with us here tonight to have your encouragement goes far towards bringing into our lives that coming that our best friends are pleased with us. Young though we are, we realize that we owe you all a deep debt of gratitude. To kindly care and fatherly guidance for your timely interest in every detail of our young lives, and generosity and encouragement, you, our teachers, for all that you can ever say, far more than words our filial affection and gratitude. To you our loving parents, whose self sacrificing lives make possible, led at each other, astonishment and fear written all over their faces. The next story: The House of Death, not only this night, but many other jolly days and nights, we say "Thank you and God Bless you!" Please accept our little program you our sincere gratitude. And may we here say a grateful and heartfelt "Thank you" to our Guide Captain, Mrs. Charles Laskey, long since taught us that the training of the intellect is but a paltry part of education and so with this in mind, they have sought to instill along with their secular knowledge, the secret and culture nobility of the heart, ever impressing upon us the truth of those mighty words of Holy Scrip-
