Many citizens received something in the nature of a surprise yesterday when they glanced at their barometers, which were going up rapidly. During the day the barometer at the Meteorological station here registered as high as 36.64, denoting a sudden change with northeast turning to easterly gales.

Dr. Warburton and Dr. Murchison attended at the time of the accident stitching the wound. Dr. Murchison is now in attendance.

An interesting ceremony took place yesterday forenoon in the Assembly Hall of the railway station in this city where Imperial Service medals were presented to the following: John Casimir Perry, John Henry Burns, Henry Sterns Coffin, James Merry, John Thomas McNally. Also to a member of the family of the late Henry Sutherland. These medals are granted by the King as a reward to persons who serve at least 25 years, and whose service has been meritorious, after their retirement from the service. The presentation was made by Superintendent Sharp in a fitting speech. The recipients replied in suitable terms, and brief addresses were also given by W. L. Poole, J. J. Bethune, S. F. Hodgson and George Ryan.

A telegram to Mr. McCreedy announces the death of Dr. Phineas Pendleton Nichols of Northampton, Mass. The sad event occurred on March 6 in Bermuda, whither he had gone some months ago in the hope that a change might result in a restoration of his impaired health. For a time there was an apparent improvement, but his hopes were doomed to disappointment and the end came somewhat suddenly. His wife, formerly Miss McCreedy, daughter of Mr. McCreedy of this city, two children and his mother and a large circle of relatives and friends are left to mourn. Dr. Nichols and his family visited this city some years ago. The deceased gentleman was greatly esteemed and beloved by a large circle to whom he was known in his native town of Searsport, Maine, in Northampton where he lived and was engaged in his profession as a doctor. The guardian tenders his heartfelt sympathy to the family so sadly bereaved of a husband and father, called away in the prime of life.

The Mimac Hockey team from Lennox Island will play the St. Dunstan's College team in the Arena on Friday evening. There will be an hour's skating with band after the game.

Major Clark Esq. and Mrs. Clark are the guests of John and Mrs. Manson, Victoria Farm, North River. Mr. and Mrs. Clark drove from Cape Traverse, the home of good horses, to this city in four hours.

The Charlottetown markets yesterday was quite lively but the only change in former prices were those of butter, twenty-one and twenty-three cents and pork six and a half cents to eight and one quarter cents.

The Physiology classes of St. Dunstan's College yesterday celebrated the feast of their patron St. Thomas Aquinas. The day was declared a college holiday and in the afternoon a grand banquet was held, the guest of honor being Rev. D. P. Croken, Professor of Physiology. Afterwards a program of toasts, addresses and musical numbers was given and the happy gathering dispersed after singing Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

The death occurred in this city yesterday of Margaret, wife of John Callaghan, Alley St., City. The deceased had been ill for some time but her death at the early age of twenty-five years will excite many expressions of sympathy from all. The late Mrs. Callaghan was the daughter of James and Mrs. Turner, Lake Verde, and besides her parents, leaves to mourn her husband and a child of three years, as well as two brothers and a sister in Lake Verde. The Guardian extends sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The case of Rev. James McDougall and others vs Laughlin McKinnon and others, known as the Canoe Cove church case, came up for hearing before the Vice Chancellor yesterday. The suit was brought to try the right of ownership of the church property at Canoe Cove, formerly belonging to the Rev. Donald McDonald and by him devised to the elders then in office and their successors of the Canoe Cove Congregation. The Bill of complaint was demurred to upon several grounds, alleging want of equity in that all proper parties are not before the court. Stewart, K. C., and Martin for Complainants and Johnston, K. C., and McPhee for the defendants. The case will be continued this morning at ten o'clock.

CARTER'S SEED CATALOGUE FOR 1911.

As regularly as the season comes round Carter's Seed Catalogue makes its appearance. Copy of same has just been laid on The Guardian's desk. Messrs. Carter & Co. are issuing 10,000 copies this season as usual. Its many pages are illustrated and descriptive of the different varieties of field, flower, and vegetable seeds, handled by this firm, who have done an extensive and increasing seed business for the past thirty years. Carter's Seed Catalogue tells how to get and grow the varieties best suited for soil and climate of this Province. On the introductory page they say "By careful study as to the best varieties for our soil and climate, and with strict attention to business, we have built up the largest seed business in the Maritime Provinces, and that supplies are drawn from the best seed growing districts of England, Canada and the United States, and that Carter's Seeds are tested at the Dominion Seed Laboratory, Ottawa, each season, as to growing quality, purity, etc., and that their supplies of clover and timothy has been pronounced by the Dominion Seed Inspectors, the best sold in the Province for years, and that their supply for this year will be even better than in the past." Carter's Seeds are sold by upwards of two hundred merchants in Prince Edward Island. The Catalogue are now being mailed to their numerous customers throughout the Province, and many copies are sent abroad. If any farmer or gardener not receiving a copy will drop a card to the firm, a copy will be promptly mailed. It is to be hoped the firm will receive the generous patronage they deserve in their honest endeavor to get and sell the best seeds procurable.
