FOURTH OF JULY IN WAR RIDDEN MEXICO
CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 16.—War-ridden as is this republic there was no appreciable diminution in the crowd that assembled in the Zocalo last night to hear Provisional President Victoriano Huerta cry "Viva Mexico" and ring the liberty bell. The ceremony, known as the "Grito of Hidalgo," ushers in the annual celebration of the Mexican independence day.
It was on September 15, 1810, that the patriot priest, Padre Hidalgo, began the revolution which resulted in the overthrow of the Spanish power in Mexico. During the preceding year the revolutionary spirit was rife throughout the country. Many attempts to perfect an organization that might contend with the Spanish power were made, but they uniformly ended by the execution of all the leaders in the plots. The Grito of Hidalgo was one of the leaders of an undiscovered plan and it was intended, as in other cases, to perfect organization before striking the first blow. Word came to Hidalgo that the plot had been discovered and the troops were even then on the way to arrest him.
Then it was, so the story goes, that Hidalgo rang the bell of his little church in the town of Dolores and summoned the band of patriots about him. A mass was said and he announced that the time had come for action. About 300 men, poorly armed and with virtually no equipment of war, responded, and the march on the city of Guanajuato was commenced. As the motley band of insurgents passed the church at Atotonilco Hidalgo took the banner illustrating the appearance of the Holy Virgin at Guadalupe and raised it as the battle flag of the war of independence.
But while Hidalgo and his compatriots were fearless, they were not soldiers nor skilled in the art of war. After achieving wonderful success and with a constantly increasing army he had reached almost in sight of the City of Mexico, when the tide turned. His army was dispersed and he fled northward toward Chihuahua, where he and his chief lieutenants were captured. They were

Kidneys Wrong?

If they are you are in danger. When through weakness or disease the kidneys fail to filter the impurities from the blood, trouble comes at once. Backache, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel, Diabetes, Call Stones and the deadly Bright's Disease are some of the results of neglected kidneys. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills contain a most effective diuretic which strengthens and stimulates the kidneys so that they do their work thoroughly and well. Try promptly executed and their heads placed on spikes at the four corners of the prison as a warning to other revolutionists. Other leaders arose, and Mexico continued in a state of upheaval and unrest for seventy years, until the soldier and statesman, Porfirio Diaz, was elected to the presidency.

Thus, briefly sketched, was the beginning of Mexican independence, and this is the reason that September 16 is celebrated throughout the Republic of Mexico.
The beginning of the annual celebration last night was marked with all of the customary enthusiasm. In the great square where their forefathers lifted their eyes to the top of the tocalli to see the throbbing heart that the priest cleft from the bosom of a fair prisoner, the peones, jammed a hundred thousand strong, gazed on the clanging bell that Hidalgo used 103 years ago. The poor or classes occupied all the central part of the square. Directly in front of the National Palace, the Municipal Palace and the Cathedral, the three great piles which bound three sides of the Zocalo, chairs were placed for the better classes. The numerous windows and balconies of the edifices mentioned were reserved for invited guests.
From dark the crowd were entertained with fireworks, while half a dozen picked military bands, playing alternately, never allowed the music to cease for more than an instant. Five minutes before the hands of the great clock over the Palace indicated the hour of 11 the bands stopped. There was a hush that only emphasized the burst of applause that greeted Gen. Huerta when he appeared on the brilliantly lighted central balcony of the Palace. He took hold of the gilded cord that reached up to the historic bell, the crowd again was stilled. With the first clang of the hour the time-honored "grito" was delivered by the executive. Then the massed bands burst into the national hymn, accompanied by a chorus of a thousand voices. For nearly an hour the Provisional President was cheered. In the excitement of the occasion there were many "mueras" for the "Americanos" and many "vivas" for Don Victoriano.

Today the celebration of the national independence day was continued with unabated enthusiasm. The decorations of business houses and residences were on a more elaborate scale than ever before. The grand civic and military parade this afternoon numbered thousands of marchers. It was several hours in passing the stand, whence it was reviewed by Gen. Huerta, the officers of the cabinet, members of the senate and chamber of deputies, high officers of the army, and many prominent citizens.

FIRST THINGS
The first tunnel through the Alps, the Mont-Cenis or Col de Frejus tunnel, was formally opened forty-two years ago today, when a train of twenty-two carriages passed through in twenty minutes. The tunnel is a little less than eight miles long, and cost $13,000,000. Plans for the tunnel connecting Italy and France were drawn up in 1848, but their execution was prevented by the war of the following year. The work of excavation was commenced in 1857. The Italians were in charge of the work, but the French government bore the chief expense. The next Alpine tunnel was inaugurated. The Wasserluh tunnel was completed in 1903, the Simplon in 1905, the Loetschberg was inaugurated this year, and the Mont d'Or is now building. The longest, is that through the Andes, connecting Argentina and Chile. It is 12,000 feet above sea level, and was opened in 1910.

Save One Ton of Coal in Every Six

The Economizer will do it. While the cost of living has undoubtedly been growing greater, at the same time it is true there are some inventions that will offset this increased cost of living, and the careful housewife takes advantage of these inventions.
On every Gurney-Oxford range there is an Economizer which controls not only the drafts but also the entire combustion or burning of fuel to create heat.
This Economizer will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would use with the ordinary range.
The Economizer is a simple device, absolute in its control. By merely moving the lever you can obtain any degree of even heat in the oven. This insures the satisfaction of always having light, delicately crusted bread and biscuits.
The kitchen fire ceases to be a worry if the Economizer is on your stove.
The Gurney-Oxford is the final result of experimental thought. Science has given it a Divided Flue, a new Special Grate, and a Broiler attachment.
This Gurney-Oxford range is primarily a saver of money, time, and energy.
