ALL BUT 25 WERE LOST

The Minister of the Colonies has issued a note in which he stated that the French steamer Ville D'Alger, which left Reunion Island in the Indian Ocean, off the Madagascar, February 1, with 91 passengers and fifty members of her crew had been lost and that it is believed that with the exception of 33 persons, all on board perished. The disaster was due to a fire which broke out on board the vessel.

On February 1, the steamer, which was loaded with rum and sugar sent out wireless appeals when about 130 miles off Reunion Island. The Ville D'Alger, which was in port at Tamatave, was on the following day and found the Ville D'Alger still burning but completely abandoned and drifting northward. The steamer Parnassos left Tamatave February 3 and made a search of the scene of the disaster but found no survivors. The sea at the time was extremely rough and the searching steamers gave up their task and returned to port, where later a whale boat with the 33 survivors arrived. The governor of the Reunion Islands says the wreck of the Ville D'Alger is a menace to navigation. The steamer registered 4,857 tons.

Admiral Wilson in command of the United States Atlantic fleet, which has been in Bridgetown for some time, gave a reception on Sunday in honor of the people of Barbadoes. Later four of the United States ships left for Colon. A most marked friendly feeling was manifested between the American sailors and the British people of this island during the visit of the United States ships.

The Situation in South Russia Is Uncertain

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 18.—The situation in southern Russia is so uncertain that the allied officials are fearful of a general Bolshevik triumph, however, from internal dissension than from the entrance of red forces from the outside. General Schilling is now at Sebastopol, the great Russian seaport in the Crimea, commanding the volunteer forces which hold the Crimean Isthmus. The surrounding lagoons are frozen hard, however, and it is feared the Bolsheviks may approach on the ice. Sebastopol harbor is cluttered with useless shipping. Ten thousand persons of the city are registered as wanting to get away, while eleven thousand more are on the ships from Odessa, without adequate food or medicine. Typhus is raging among the refugees.

The British battleship Marlborough and French, Greek and American destroyers are at Sebastopol, but it is impossible to evacuate the population, as the commanders of the warships apparently lack authority for such action from their governments. Also, there are no ports available where such a large number of refugees can be received.

An agreement has been reached between General Denikine and the Cossack supreme council. The Tersek Cossacks are giving their whole-hearted support, but the Don and Kuban Cossacks are making reservations which weaken the anti-Bolshevik and make the Crimean situation doubtful.

forepeak, will undergo repairs. Tuesday afternoon a survey was held on board and it was found that there was 18 feet of water in the forepeak. Immediately the work of pumping this out was commenced, so that the survey would proceed. Her cargo of wheat is undamaged.

The Aghios Gerasimos, which is under command of Captain Costaropoulos, is bound from Portland, Me. to Greece, and was to call at Louisa for bunkers. While going through the ice to reach that port, she suffered damage, and thus headed for Halifax, Furness, Withy and Company are her agents.

SHIP RELEASED AFTER EIGHT WEEKS IN ICE

A Newfoundland exchange says:—Owing to a railroad tie-up due to the severity of snow storms, inland settlements are faced with a serious shortage of foodstuffs and feed for cattle and horses. Lumbering camps are hard hit by the loss of work due to the scarcity of food and other essential supplies.

The railway tie-up is partly due to the severity of the weather, but in a great measure to inefficient motive power and snow fighting apparatus, such as rotary plows. The Government cannot remedy matters very much and the Railway Company is powerless to cope with the situation unless a prolonged period of mild weather sets in.

The steamer Prospero, after being for eight weeks jammed in the ice. For the past three weeks the passengers, and 15 crew on board, reached Twillingate Tuesday night. The vessel was in danger of being forced on the rocks last week, but westerly winds loosened the ice. For the past three weeks the passengers and crew have been short of rations, and supplies had to be taken to the ship by landmen over the ice on sleds.
