CANAL MAN CONFESSES FORGERIES

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 2.—G. W. Cobb, 24, of Kingston, Mass., was arraigned in the Sixth District Court recently, charges with passing a forged check on Marcus W. Jones. He entered a plea of guilty, was adjudged probably guilty and was bound over to the grand jury in bonds of $1000. Cobb was brought back from Hingham, Mass., by Inspector Maguire of headquarters. He had been arraigned in the district court there on the charge of passing a forged check on a Hingham bank, and had been placed on probation. His appearance bore out his statements to such a degree that, it is said, he was able to get $102 worth of board and lodging out of his Sandwich house keeper, Mr. Craven of Sandwich, before he finally left the town. By Labor Day, Cobb became dissatisfied with the progress which he was making in the Canal Zone. He accordingly threw up his position in the engineering department of the Canal Company and went to Providence, where he lived at Park Hotel, and so, it is claimed, began to pass worthless checks. It is said, was on the superintendent of the engineering department of the Canal Company and another on Knox Brown, the owner of the garage from which he got his automobiles while he was in the Canal Zone. This check was for $50. In addition Mr. Brown declares he had left Sagamore owing $83 for automobile hire. After about a week in Providence he moved to Boston. In Boston it is said he attempted to do the hotel at which he stopped out of his board bill. The hotel, however, got into touch with his family. They paid his bill for him. From Boston he went to Hingham. On Monday, Sept. 25, he appeared at the Hingham National Bank with a check for $20 which he wished cashed. The indorser of this check, was David Cobb of Hingham, no relation of George Cobb.

OVER A MILLION WAS COLLECTED.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2.—A feature of the session of the Triennial Convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England was the preface to the report of Miss Edith Carter, of Quebec, general treasurer. Miss Carter summarized the financial history of the auxiliary since its organization. During the 25 years of its existence $1,095,000 has been collected. Of this amount Canadian missions have received $225,000; foreign missions have received $170,000, distributed equally between China, Japan and India; diocesan missions have received $125,000, and 25,000 has been spent in educating missionaries. For the triennial period just past the total receipts reached $175,334.15. On Canadian missions $95,927 was expended. Regarding foreign work, the treasurer recommended a policy of concentration upon the recognized fields of the Canadian church in China and Japan.

The cable to the Magdalen Islands is interrupted, but messages are being forwarded via Fame Point, Que., by wireless. The rate from P. E. I. land is $0.05 for 10 words and five cents for each additional word to all offices except Grandstone, to which point an additional rate of 25 and 1 cent is now in effect. Last winter when the Magdalen cable was interrupted, quite a large business was carried on by wireless from Cape Bear and Picton, but as these stations are dismantled in the summer time, messages are being handled via Fame Point.

Corner Stone Laid (Continued from page one) south and east of the new edifice. The proceedings began with singing the metrical version of the 100th Psalm, Sing to the Lord with Cheerful Voice, after which Rev. J. W. Falconer read from the service of the Presbyterian Church for such occasions and Rev. T. P. Fullerton offered an impressive prayer. Murdock McLeod, secretary of the building committee then deposited in a cavity in the corner stone a sealed metal box containing various mementoes of the auspicious occasion. The pastor remarked that Elder S. C. Nash had been the committee to select the articles thus to be preserved, and by a happy coincidence the date of the laying of the corner stone is also the anniversary of Mr. Nash's birth and of his marriage. The contents of the box are: History of Zion Church from building of first Zion to date, compiled by Samuel C. Nash, Esq. Description of New Zion Church with cut of same, taken from architect's sketch, etc. One of the tokens used at Communion, when congregation was started. Samples of Communicants' Creeds, now used in place of tokens. Sample of Duplex envelopes used for weekly offering. Four different views of Hobbs Corner on which the Church will stand. Photo of Rev. R. J. Strathe, present pastor of Zion Church. Photos of their Majesties King George and Queen Mary, reigning sovereigns. List of Synod under whose auspices corner stone was laid and which also shows the names of those who entertained the members of the Synod. Also copies of the daily press and Presbyterian publications, P. E. I. R. Timetable, Coins of the realm, official program of the Coronation celebration, etc. The Lieutenant Governor, on being called upon to officially lay the corner stone, was presented with a handsome silver trowel, the gift of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. He expressed his great pleasure in complying with the request to lay the corner stone of a New Zion Church, which was increased by the fact that he had been acquainted with every pastor of this congregation from the first. He named those in the order of their succession, with a fitting commendation of their zeal and devotion to the Master whom they served. Citing the history of Solomon's temple, which was typical of the more glorious edifice of Christianity, he quoted from the Scriptures that Jesus Christ is the precious Corner Stone of His Church on earth. The suspended stone was then lowered to its position and Hon. Honor declared it "well and truly inner speaking eloquence and oratory were coupled with brilliant flashes of wit and humor, the speakers being Lt. Gov't. Rogers, Principal McKinnon, Mr. Archibald, Dr. Duncan, Dr. A. S. Grant, Dr. Forest, the latter being most enthusiastically received. Throughout the evening the old college yell of Pine Hill rang out, stirring the hearts of the old "Grads" anew to a reawakened love of its familiar halls.

The Synod took up the question of Foreign Missions and Rev. Mr. McDermott was appointed a delegate to the Dr. Morton Jubilee in Trinidad in 1912. Addresses on this topic were delivered by Rev. Harvey Morton and Rev. Dr. Jamieson, from the Trinidad field. These were of great interest and contained many facts about the fields not hitherto known generally. A. S. Barnstead spoke on the coming conference in November to be held in St. John, Halifax and Sydney.

Prof. Stewart reported on Home Missions. A resolution of appreciation moved by Dr. E. C. Jack, Rev. James Ross, Rev. M. Kinsey, and Dr. A. S. Grant were the concluding speakers. Yesterday morning's session of the Synod opened with devotional exercises, the new moderator, Rev. Dr. Archibald in the chair. About 300 members were present. "God is our refuge and our strength," and "All hail the Power of Jesus' Name," were sung as only a body of Presbyterian clergymen can sing them. After the prayer by the Moderator the Synod got down to business, the minutes of the last meeting being read, and other routine work carried out. The report of Sabbath School Committee was next taken up. Rev. J. C. Crowdis of Durham, N. S., spoke of the need of getting not only the ministers, but elders and members of the Church interested in the Church work. He emphasized the need of studying the Bible in the home. He had much to say regarding the influence of Home Department as an aid to establishment of a family altar. He dwelt at some length on the influence of Teachers' Training Department. He moved a resolution favoring more attention to Teacher Training Department. He was supported by the Rev. D. H. McKinnon, New Aberdeen, who said that baptism and the Sunday School are the great agencies whereby the church can perpetuate the training of the young.

Rev. Mr. Fraser, Little River, N. S., Rev. Mr. Hardy, North Sydney, and Rev. Mr. Sedgewick, Rev. Dr. Duncan, Toronto, took part in the discussion which followed. Dr. Duncan represented the Publication committee of the Church and spoke on publications. He dwelt on the indebtedness to the men of the church, who contributed to the work of publication. Many of the contributors were now Principals of leading Universities, such as Dr. Falconer, Prof. Walter Murray and others. Dr. Duncan asked for fair minded criticisms. Their object was to expand the Bible. They wanted to know the truth and Paton & Co. are certainly to be congratulated on the exquisite taste of their buyers who have the markets of the Continent to choose from and who annually send them to get the choicest these markets afford, regardless of price, and thus the shoppers of this Province are kept fully in touch with styles as seen in other countries, even to gay Paris.

Dr. Shearer dealt vigorously with Race Trac' Gambling, and the White Slave Traffic, announced some startling revelations in regard to the latter question. He closed with an earnest appeal for preventive as well as redemptive measures.
