C. P. R. COMMERCIAL TELEGRAPHERS VOTE TO STRIKE

MONTREAL, August 26.—The call for a vote on the proposed strike among commercial telegraphers in the employ of the C. P. R. has resulted in a vote of 98 per cent in favor of this form of protest against the recent award of the conciliation board. Operators in Montreal and Toronto voted en bloc for a strike. The call was sent out on telegraph instructions on Friday evening and the results came in by wire tonight.

No date for the strike has been mentioned so far, but it was intimated that it would not be long delayed.

TELL YOUR WIFE CORNS LIFT OFF

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift corns or calluses off with fingers

Not a twinge of pain or soreness before applying, or afterwards. This may sound like a dream to corn-pestored men and women who have been cutting, filing and wearing torturous plasters. Yes! Corns lift off and calluses peel off as if by magic, says this Cincinnati authority.

A quarter ounce of freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops directly upon your tender corn or callus, and instantly the soreness disappears; then shortly the corn or callus will be so loose that it lifts off.

Freezone dries instantly. It doesn't eat out the corn or callus, but just shrivels it up so it lifts away without even irritating the surrounding skin. Women should keep it on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

TRADE FOLLOWS RED TRIANGLE

As the war has revealed the stamina of Canadian manhood to the world, the canteens of the Canadian Y. M. C. A. in France have no less discovered to thousands of Imperial and French soldiers the merits of Canadian manufacturers. In pre-war days goods "Made in Canada" compared favorably with their competitors, but since the screw of food regulation laws has been tightened almost daily in France and England, for soldier and civilian alike, the contrast has been most distinctly in favor of the Canadian article as sold in the Red Triangle huts.

Canada has been in the fortunate position of not requiring such rigorous use of "substitutes" called for elsewhere, and so far as supplies for the soldiers are concerned, quality has been kept as far as possible at top notch. By special permission of the authorities the Canadian Y. M. C. A. has been permitted to ship many hundreds of tons of supplies of all kinds to France and England. These goods have won the enthusiastic praise of thousands of British Tommies, and letters from Canadians at the front tell how the Imperials will gladly walk twelve miles or more in order to buy genuine Canadian "cents" at a Canadian Y. M. C. A. canteen.

One line of goods popularized "over there" by the Red Triangle is canned meats, fish, fruit and vegetables from the Dominion. Needless to say the Imperial canteens are unable to supply either the quality or variety sold at the Canadian counter, and the superlative excellence of the maple leaf product has developed an unsatiable appetite amongst those British and French soldiers who have been fortunate enough to be in touch with a Canadian Y. M. C. A. This achievement is quite notable in view of the fact that so much of Tommy's everyday "tuck" has to be discovered with the aid of a tin-opener, and that he is strongly prejudiced against anything whose habitat is a can.

Manufacturers of Canadian athletic goods will also find that the Red Triangle has proved to be a good advance agent for their wares. The amount of vigor put into his play by the Canadian sportsman calls for equipment that will stand far more than a slap on the wrist. An enormous quantity of first-class athletic material has been practically the sole source of supply for such articles near the front and in the base camps. The unbounded admiration of Imperial onlookers at Canadian field sports for the agility and prowess of the player has been equalled by their envy of his excellent outfit. Himself a keen sportsman, the Britisher, when he bids a regretful adieu to the fields of war and turns again to those of play, will do so with less of prejudice in his heart in favor of the home-made bat or ball. Undoubtedly Canadian athletic outfitters have gained a foremost place in the respectful esteem of the Britisher as purveyors in a sphere wherein the latter imagined himself out of sight supreme.

A perusal of the price list displayed prominently in every Canadian Y. M. C. A. carrying a canteen, naturally reveals a preponderance of Canadian goods. These comprise biscuits, candies, including gum and maple sugar, soap, scotch, tobaccos, cigars and cigarettes. It is a marvellously varied and comprehensive list, ranging from

LUXURY TAX AND FOX INDUSTRY

Sir,—Having had a number of letters from P. E. Island Fox Breeders relative to the tax on luxuries which is now about to go into effect in the United States, and to what effect it will affect the Silver Fox Industry, I beg to say that I have taken considerable trouble to find out if this tax will in any way seriously interfere with the Island Industry, and from what I can gather, I can positively state that no fox rancher has anything whatever to fear.

In the first place, money is easy with almost everyone, and hundreds of thousands of people who before the war were only making a moderate income, are now getting in one year, as much money as they formerly received in three years. These people are paying more for everything, and have become accustomed to it. When they want anything, the matter of price does not stand in the way, and if they want silver fox the extra luxury tax will not prevent them from buying—especially as they know this goes to the Government to help the soldiers at the front.

All the fur manufacturers are very busy, and fur houses report that more sales of all kinds of furs are being made at this season much in advance of any other season.

All the silver fox industry needs—and it needs this very badly—is to make the public and the thousands upon thousands of people who have the money and are spending it for luxuries of all kinds, understand about Silver Fox—and there will be no difficulty in the ranchers selling all they can produce at good figures.

I am Sir, etc.

bootlaces to peanut butter, and including the proverbial needle, although the anchor is missing.

Another item of Canadian manufacture "placed" by the Red Cross Triangle overseas is the heating stove. A British Tommy who has crept in out of the deadly chill of the trenches and cuddled down beside a genuine Canuck heater is not going to be so sure in future that his own wanted and certainly more spectacular "open fire" is the last word in warming apparatus.

Whatever any "League of Nations" or Zollverein may do in post war days of stimulating trade between the allies generally, it is certain that several thousands of Imperial troops are convinced that if the Canadian manufacturer can maintain such high standards as shown in the Y. M. C. A. canteens in France during hostilities he can do even better in times of peace. That they will regulate their buying accordingly goes without saying, and the manufacturers of Canada may be trusted to make the most of this opportunity to expand their trade provided by the operations of the Red Triangle overseas.

FOOD BOARD FLASHES FOR FEMINE FOLK

Foremost among our wheat substitutes is corn in its various forms, for the simple reason that it happens to grow plentifully on the North American continent and does not have to be borne across an ocean to reach Canada.

It is estimated that Mexico's production of corn is worth more in normal times than her production of gold—and this is saying a good deal.

In 1909 the grist mills of the United States produced 27,000,000 bushels of corn meal and corn flour and 837,000,000 pounds of hominy and grits while the factories canned 168,000,000 cans of corn. In fact, the United States produces two-thirds of the world's supply of corn.

Canadian mills are turning out more corn every day to meet the increased demand for substitutes and at present between 15,000 and 25,000 bushels a day are being handled throughout the Dominion.

GROCERS WARNED TO OBEY FLOUR REGULATIONS.

The Canada Food Board has received reports that certain sale of white or standard flour to any person for private consumption, who does not purchase from him substitutes in the proportion of not less than one pound of substitutes to four pounds of white or standard flour. The Board, in a statement tonight, reminded dealers that this regulation applies to all parts of Canada, and that dealers who fail to govern themselves accordingly are liable to a heavy fine and also to cancellation of their licenses.

Regulations now in force, not only require the purchase of at least one pound of substitutes to every four pounds of standard flour, but also require the use in private households of at least ten percent of substitutes in baking of bread, rolls, pastry, or any other product in which standard flour is used.
