Stresses Power Of Christianity At Rotary Club

"Building the Inner Wall" was the subject of an inspiring address at Rotary Club luncheon yesterday by Rev. M. D. Dunbar, pastor of the Central Christian Church.

Mr. Dunbar, in his opening remarks, stated that democracy could not survive without the power of Christianity and would perish unless we have a revival of pure and undefiled religion.

He claimed that countries are preparing for war and that it should be the utter concern of all to know how he can best serve his country.

As a Christian he stated we believe that there is something bigger than armament which constitutes the surest lines of defence.

He stated that "we should like to feel that the outer wall we are building for our country today is unnecessary, and that we could live without police for our cities, prisons for our criminals, and armaments for the nation."

He warned the members that the outer walls would not avail against the infiltration of false ideas, the work of the inner man, which he pointed out the recent espionage scare.

History has shown that nations sought to preserve themselves by armaments and fortifications which proved futile when they were attacked by the forces of Hitler, and China and its great wall and Tyre, the greatest maritime city of antiquity, which fell herself invincible because she was mistress of the sea but which fell to Alexander because he built a causeway out from the shore.

He claimed that the building of the inner wall is to acknowledge the work of the church, which is the guardian and promoter of the intangible values which are the very roots of civilization.

"If unbelieving people will honestly search," he continued, "they will find the answer to the very door of the Church of God, where they will find the cause of all the privileges they enjoy under a democratic government."

He lamented the fact that democracy by many meant nothing more than to be given license to do as they please. He stated that we stand ready in some way to bring about a day promising advantages of liberty when they themselves are bondservants of corruption.

"We stand on the intersection today of world affairs and see the great lines of tension stretched tautly this way and that, and that we stand ready in some way to bring about a day promising advantages of liberty when they themselves are bondservants of corruption."

Mobile Blood Donor Unit Here Next Week

Prince Edward Islanders will be given an opportunity to restock the Blood Bank next week when the Mobile Unit from Halifax will be on its third visit to the Province. This time the objective will be 600 bottles which will be collected at clinics which are being arranged in Summerside, Charlottetown, Montserrat and Souris on June 28th, 29th, and 30th.

Since this service was inaugurated in the Province last December 1,071 transfusions of whole blood have been given in the seven hospitals in P. E. I. but to date just 985 bottles have been collected.

This means that the Province is in debt to the Maritime Dept. of Halifax to the extent of some 106 bottles. By the splendid reports of an organization for donors being conducted in Montserrat and Souris this situation will be rectified after next week's clinics.

Mr. Gilbert Clements, who is in charge of the drive for donors in Montserrat has made over 100 appointments by soliciting the people of Montserrat alone. He has been assisted by Mr. Harold Lansdowne and Mr. Archie Hillech. Through the Women's Institutes and Catholic Women's League donors are being solicited in Montserrat.

Mr. Melvin McQuaid is the chairman of the committee in Souris which is lining up donors in that community where ten canvassers are at work. Mr. Andrew F. Peters of Rollo Bay, Mr. Hugh MacAulay of Souris Line Road and Mr. Peter MacAulay are soliciting donors for the Souris Clinic.

Carload Of Young P.E.I. Sows For Quebec Club

In a few days time, a Quebec Boys' and Girls' Swine Club will get a carload of Prince Edward Island gilts and hope next year to enter them for advanced registry as a unit from the club.

These 35 young sows are being selected by Mr. J. P. Fleury, District Live Stock Fieldman, Dominion Department of Agriculture with headquarters in Montreal, who arrived on the Island yesterday.

Mr. Fleury is accompanied by Dr. Adrian Morin, eastern director of field services for the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian meat packers. Dr. Morin was on Cap Rouge, Quebec and is making his fourth routine visit to the Island as good-will ambassador in the promotion of the production of meat.

The visitors from Quebec were met at Borden by Mr. W.H. Clay, senior livestock field man, Dominion Department of Agriculture. On the trip to Charlottetown, the party called at Mr. Heber MacPhail's, New Haven and the farm of Mr. Sterling Willis, Kingston, and looked over a number of swine at each farm.

On his first visit to the Island, Mr. Fleury stated that he had been "sold on Island pigs for the past few years" and has sought, for the last year at the Summer Winter Fair. He was impressed with the "natural outside environment" and pointed out that Quebec pigs were confined indoors to induce more rapid growth.

"This method does not seem to produce as satisfactory an animal as your Island swine," he remarked. Mr. Fleury said that he is impressed with the exceptional length of the Island strain of Yorkshire and the clean and thrifty state of the pigs. He is also including a few boars in the shipment.

Boys and girls of the 32-member St. Marie Salome Club, situated some forty miles north-east of Montreal will receive the swine.

Annual Meeting Of Notre Dame Alumnae Ass'n

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Notre Dame Alumnae Association was held on Wednesday, June 15th, when the members entertained at a most enjoyable tea honoring the graduates of 1949 and welcoming them as prospective Association members.

The large number of guests were received by Reverend Mother Superior, the President, Mrs. F.A. Coyne, and the Vice-President, Mrs. J.F. MacMillan, and ushered to their places at the attractively arranged tea tables by Mrs. F. Christopher, Mrs. W.D. Gillis, Mrs. James Blake and the past president, Miss Anna MacCormac.

With windows open to the warm sunny day and a light breeze, the room presented a pleasant scene dominated by the tea table gaily decorated with flowers and lighted tapers, while the smaller tables each held a fresh bouquet of sweet pea and lily of the valley.

Tea was poured by Mrs. J. Cyril Arsenault and Mrs. E.C. Tanton, assisted by Mrs. V. Pincus and Mrs. F.L. Shannon, and served to the guests by members of the Junior Sodality under the supervision of Mrs. G. MacCormac and Miss Ruth McQuaid.

The success of the tea owes much to the splendid work of the tea conveners, Mrs. Mitchell MacDonald and Mrs. G. Chandler, as well as to the invaluable aid of the Vice President, Mrs. J.F. MacMillan and the other devoted members of the executive.

The tea was followed by the annual meeting, during which the President reported a most successful year. Reverend Mother Superior, in her remarks, gave a charming and interesting account of her attendance in Montreal on June 12th at the Golden Jubilee of Mother St. Gerald and Mother St. Mary of Miracles, both of whom were once teachers at Notre Dame.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.
