THE KAISER VISITS AUSTRIA HEADQUARTERS

Is Enthusiastically Received. Political Development in Hungary Includes Formation of New Cabinet. Roumania May Not Enter War.

(Special to the Guardian.)

BERLIN, June 6.—Emperor William arrived at the headquarters of Field-Marshal Archduke Frederick, Austrian Commander-in-Chief, yesterday to take part in the celebration of the Archduk's birthday. The visit was made the occasion of rejoicing at the fall of Przemysl. Emperor William was greeted wildly by enthusiastic crowds. The Emperor is holding a series of audiences with the leaders of the opposition party of Hungary, including Count Julius Andrassy, Count Albert Appenli and Count Ataderzichy. These conferences are considered of great importance in relation to political developments in Hungary. The formation of a coalition ministry with the three counts named and Count Steppentizza, the present Hungarian Premier at the head has been considered. Another proposal is for the creation of a new Cabinet, with Count Tizza as Minister of the Interior, in cluding M. Popovich, former Finance Minister. The Allies have failed in their efforts to induce Roumania to follow Italy into the war. Russia and Roumania have been unable to come to terms, and private advices received here to-day indicate that the threat of a Roumanian invasion of Austrian territory has at least been temporarily removed. Russia, according to reports brought here, refuses to accede to some of Roumania's territorial demands. The pressure of England and France and finally of the Italian King failed to move the Czar, and Roumania is reported to have ended negotiations.

WINSTON CHURCHHILL VISITS CONSTITUENCY

(Special to The Guardian)

DUNDEE, Scotland, June 6.—Mr. Winston Churchill, formerly First Lord of the Admiralty, who is Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, in the coalition Government, arrived today in Dundee, which he represents in the Commons. He was received enthusiastically at a meeting of his constituents. He told them he did not come to make explanations or indulge in reproaches or recriminations, for the only thing he cared about was waging a successful war on the enemy of Britain. "For four years I have borne a heavy responsibility, being according to the time-honored language of my patent, responsible to the crown and parliament for all business of the Admiralty." Churchill said, "When I say responsible, I was responsible in the sense that I would have to bear blame for everything that occurred. Three years have comprised the most important period of our naval history, a period of preparation for war, a period of vigilance and mobilization. I have done my best. The archives at the Admiralty will show the part I played in all the great transactions that have taken place. To them I look for my defence. I look also to the general naval situation. The terrible dangers at the beginning of the war are over. The seas have been swept clear. Everything is in perfect order. Nearly everything had been foreseen, we have taken the measure for our foe, and have gone forward with confidence."

SUMMARY

(Special to the Guardian.)

LONDON, June 6.—The Allies in their offensive on Gallipoli Peninsula on June 4th captured and held two lines of Turkish trenches along a front of nearly three miles. In Mesopotamia the British forces have received from the Turks the surrender of Amara and taken more than 2,000 prisoners, thirteen guns, a gunboat, barges and steamers. Pursuit of Turks who were dispersed into the marshes continues. As in all trench warfare, which character the fighting on Gallipoli Peninsula has assumed, the Allies found their general advance hindered through inability on the part of their force to penetrate the wire entanglements, which the artillery fire had not sufficiently destroyed. This left other sections of the force open to fire and therefore part of the ground gained had to be given up. Some also was lost when the Turks counter-attacked. A gain of 500 yards on a front of three miles in this sort of fighting, however, is considered satisfactory by the British, particularly as it induced the Turks to counter-attack, in which they suffered very heavy losses. Two battles are in progress in Galicia. The Russians made considerable advance on the lower reaches of the San and have driven the Austro-Germans back, while to the south-west the Austro-Germans are advancing, although the Russians are contesting every inch.

The region north of Arras remains an interesting point. Here the French claim to have gained ground, repulsing violent German counter-attacks. The Germans, on the other hand, assert they repulsed the French attacks.

The first important battle of the Italian campaign is raging for possession of Tolmino, where the Italians met their first serious opposition. Italian warships have been busy destroying cables and lighthouses in the Adriatic and bombarding Monfalicon. There has also been some naval action in the Baltic. Russian and German squadrons exchanged shots in the vicinity of the Gulf of Riga

Roumania is going through a crisis similar to that experienced by Italy before the latter country entered the war Those who favour neutrality and those who favour war held counter demonstrations, and political parties are getting into shape to put forward their views. The general opinion is that Roumania will join the Allies when Italy gives the word and Bulgaria follows.

With the King of Greece suffering a relapse, his condition being serious, a new change in the attitude of that country is expected immediately.

RUSSIAN OFFICIAL

(Special to The Guardian)

PETROGRAD, June 6.—An official communication issued to-night says in the region of Riga and Shavli there have been no important changes. On the front of Narrew on the morning of the 5th, the enemy opened a violent artillery fire on that region on the left bank of the Pissa River. On the Vistula one of our aviators successfully bombarded a train of enemy boats and sank one of them. On Rawka the enemy attempted to employ gases and set fire to chemical composition producing a poisonous smoke. In Galicia on the left bank of the Lower San our troops captured on the 4th, after fighting, the village of Grobles. To the north of Lejaisk our troops who crossed the San are consolidating their positions notwithstanding the enemy's attack and violent fire.

FRENCH OFFICIAL

(Special to the Guardian.)

PARIS, June 6.—(Official)—"In the sector north of Arras we have realised important progress. Within Neuville we are holding at present more than two-thirds of the village. We have likewise gained 450 metres in the northern part of the Labyrinth and made slight progress in the centre of that work, where the struggle continues without cessation.

(Special to the Guardian.)

PARIS, June 6.—(Official)—"The German offensive is overwhelmed everywhere and we maintained all our positions, inflicting heavy loses on the enemy. We took several trenches from the enemy, in which we made some prisoners."

CANADA MANUFACTURING HIGH EXPLOSIVES

OTTAWA, June 5.—A plant for the manufacture of large quantities of trinitroluol, one of the highest explosives known to modern science, has been erected in Canada and is now in operation. Its location is beign kept a secret at present, but General Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, inspected the works to-day and expressed himself as highly gratified with the progress which has been made. Work was started on the factory seven weeks ago and it had not been expected to be ready for four months, but operations were rushed, with the result that the plant is now running. The new plant is turning out the immense quantity of 800,000 pounds of trinitroluol per month and constitutes a record both as regards erections and production. It is announced that Canada will shortly be in a position to turn out 1,000,000 pounds of gun-cotton per month. She has for some time past been producing large quantities of cordite.

SOLDIER SHOT DEAD NEAR BARRINGTON

BARRINGTON, N. S., June 4.—One soldier is dead and another has been arrested as the result of an accidental shooting, which occurred at Heigh-Ho, near here, on Thursday. Private Grooves was the victim of the shooting and was killed almost instantly, while Sergeant Lohnes, who fired the fatal shot, is under arrest and an investigation will be held.

The entire district has been greatly disturbed over the affair. It appears that the shooting took place when the two soldiers, who belong to the detachment of volunteers stationed at Heigh-Ho, were mimicking a military arrest, when the revolver, in the hand of Sergeant Lohnes, was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck Private Grooves in the eye. As soon as Sergeant Lohnes realized that his comrade had been hit every effort was made to save the unfortunate man's life, but it was all to no purpose. Death was almost instantaneous. Sergeant Lohnes is stricken with grief at the loss of his comrade.

The news of the accident did not reach here until to-day. It happened at five o'clock Thursday morning. Later in the day the body of Private Grooves was sent to this town and this afternoon the funeral was held here. Private Grooves was buried with military honors.

During the operations the allied fleet gave effective support. The losses of the enemy were very high. Several hundred soldiers and ten officers were made prisoners. Among the prisoners there are six German sailors. The artillery enemy has been dominated constantly during the fight by ours. Two Turkish counter-attacks during the night of June 4-5 were repulsed easily.

The church, which was very prettily decorated for the occasion, was crowded, and the service was very impressive, Rev. F. W. Thompson, of Calvin Church, St John, presided, and in his quiet, pleasing and forceful manner, carried on the service of induction. After Mr Stavert had been given the right hand of fellowship, Rev. J. J. McCaskill, addressed the minister and Rev. T. P. Drumm, the people. (Rev. Mr Stavert above referred to is a native of Wilmot, this province.)

MUNITIONS OF WAR INCREASING

The visit of the new Minister of Munitions was received with much applause, and committees already have been appointed in Lancashire. Colonel Sir Percy Girouard, chosen as chief organiser of the Department of Munitions, told the committees Mr Lloyd George aimed to secure an output of a quarter of a million shells monthly. The reply was a promise of a million shells monthly, soon.

CUNARD PEOPLE LOCATE BOMB MAN

(Special to the Guardian.)

NEW YORK, June 4.— A detective stationed at the Mail Drop in the General Post Office here today arrested Frederick A. Stillwagon, a resident of Long Island, charged with sending fourteen threatening letters to officials of Cunard Line demanding sums of from $20,000 to $25,000. The police declare the prisoner admitted mailing the letters. In several letters Stillwagon is alleged to have threatened to blow up vessels of the Cunard Line unless his demands were complied with. Immediately after the destruction of the Lusitania the police charged, the writer of the letter received at the Cunard Office, stated that one of his bombs placed in the ship before she sailed from New York was responsible for the disaster. The police have been hunting

LONDON TIMES EXONERATED

(Special to the Guardian.)

LONDON, June 6.—The Government's case against the London Times and Major Richardson, charged with giving aliens information useful to the enemies of Britain, was dismissed. The defence contended the information in question, contained in a letter written by Richardson and published in the Times, was perfectly well known in Germany, which was to the effect that the last French reserves were in the field, raw recruits being called up. The case was heard under the Defence of the Realm Act.

WILD CATTLE ASSIST ITALIANS.

ROME, June 4.—via Paris, June 5—Fifty wild cattle materially aided Italian troops in capturing a strong Austrian position on Monte Cordo, according to the Corriere d'Italia.

The Austrian garrison had surrounded itself with a high barbed wire entanglement against which the Italians drove the cattle. Startled by exploding bombs, the animals attacked the entanglements with hoofs and horns, and in a quarter of an hour had swept away the obstacle so that the Italians were able to gain the summit easily. The charge of the battle, for which no previous military experience had prepared them, is said to have stampeded the Austrians.

LIEUT. DODWELL IS A PRISONER.

HALIFAX, June 6.—Mr C. E. W. Dodwell, 46 Coburg Road, whose son, Lieut. Cyril G. Dodwell, of the East Lancashires, has already been reported missing, has received a cable from England announcing that his son is a prisoner. This news, sorrowful though it is, is cheerful compared with the anxiety that his relatives have had since the bare report that he was missing came in. The cablegram merely said that he was a prisoner. There was no particulars as to where he now is. As there was nothing in the cablegram about his being wounded, it is presumed that Lieut. Dodwell has not suffered any injury. He is a Royal Military College man, having been given last August a commission in the East Lancashires. Lieutenant Dodwell is about twenty years of age.
