Humors

They take possession of the body, and are Loosers of Muscles. They are attended by giddiness, boils, the itching toilet, salt humors, and other cutaneous eruptions; by feelings of weakness, languor, general debility and what not. They cause more suffering than anything else.

Health, Strength, Power and Pleasure require their expulsion, and this is positively effected, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Which radically and permanently drives them out and builds up the whole system.

It appears that poles are in evidence in other cities as well as in Charlottetown. The Ottawa Free Press says: The scheme of civic decoration on the occasion of the royal visit should embrace the telegraph poles along the route. The ungalvanizing can be made less conspicuous by judicious decoration.

SEARLETON NOTES.—Harvest operations have begun and the wheat crop promises good.—Our school has re-opened after mid-summer holidays.—The many friends of Mr. T. R. Wright of New York State are pleased to see him looking so well and to have him pay them a visit which is to extend some two months. The Commissioner of Agriculture and Mr. Joseph Read, M. L. A., met a goodly number of the farmers of this locality on the 8th inst., with a view to organizing an Agricultural Society and Farmers' Institute. After laying before us the benefits to be derived from such an organization, they proceeded to take the names of those present who were willing to be enrolled, and so started the nucleus of the society, then the meeting adjourned to meet on the 10th inst., at Middleton, which evening, however, proved stormy and but very few attended. The meeting adjourning to meet at the call of the Executive when we expect to have our two representatives with us and confidently hope to form a society of not less than 150 members which we ought easily to get if our farmers are true to their own interests. The members of Aurora Division expect to meet with Advance Division in a picnic at Crapaud on Saturday the 17th inst.—Com.

MEAT TABOOED.

Montreal Lady in a Bad Fix Until Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Rescued Her.

Some people believe that a purely vegetable diet is the most wholesome. They may be right. They are entitled to their own opinion. But most of us think the natural diet is a mixed one. To be deprived of meat would be a hardship to the majority. Mrs. Blair, 1010 1/2 St. Denis Street, certainly thought it so.

Mrs. Blair was not a vegetarian of her own free will. She ate no meat because she dare not. She could not digest it. It was an involuntary deprivation, enforced on her by the weakness of her stomach. Mrs. Blair was a Dyspeptic.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are well known in Montreal. They have cured hundreds of people in that city of Dyspepsia in all its various forms and manifestations. They are the simplest, easiest and most reasonable treatment known. They act on the food and the stomach gets rested. Nine times out of ten that is what it wants. Mrs. Blair used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and she is one of the large number of Montreal people who know what they are from experience.

"I have been troubled for over a year writes Mrs. Blair, "with a gnawing sensation at the stomach and pressure of wind on the heart. I had no disposition to eat and found it impossible to eat anything in the nature of meats. My son induced me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing of so many cures effected by their use among his friends. Before I had finished the first box, I found great relief. After taking four boxes I was able to eat meat again or anything else I fancied. I gladly certify to their merits as a Dyspepsia medicine as I have had no return of indigestion since using them."
