INVESTORS SHOULD NOT OVERLOOK WAR SAVINGS STAMPS. Make Saving Easy and pay over 4 1/2 per cent compounded half-yearly.

The paying of $4.00 now for a War Savings Stamp and getting $5.00 for it from the Government in January, 1924, is a method of investing that appeals strongly to the average person. Nor is this surprising, for the money thus invested yields a little over 4 1/2 per cent, compounded half-yearly. With a War Savings Stamp goes a War Savings Certificate to which the stamps are to be attached. Obviously this is an excellent return when the nature of the security is taken into account. There is nothing safer in the world than Canada, and these Stamps are backed by all the resources of the Dominion.

A person does not need to have $4.00 in cash in order to take the first steps towards purchasing a War Savings Stamp. Thrift Stamps, which sell at 25 cents each, have been provided. When 16 of these have been purchased they may be exchanged for a War Savings Stamp. With the first Thrift Stamp purchased goes a Thrift Card, to which the Stamps should be affixed as soon as received. After the 16 Thrift Stamps have been exchanged for a War Savings Stamp, the person doing so should start in again to buy Thrift Stamps and thus begin saving for the second War Savings Stamp.

—W. M. S. MEET.—The annual thank offering of the W. P. M. S. of the Kensington Presbyterian Church was held on Sunday evening, Dec. 21st. The church was well filled and Rev. T. W. Goodwill addressed the meeting in his usual inspiring and impressive manner. A sweetly sung duet, rendered by the Misses McMurdo, was very much appreciated. A collection was then taken up which amounted to $78.00. This speaks well for the missionary spirit of the church and the ladies of the Auxiliary are to be congratulated on the splendid work they are doing.—R

Galant Summerside Boys From Overseas

Among the soldiers who returned home from overseas recently were Pte. J. W. O'Brien and Pte. Mark Wedge, of Summerside. Of the former the Island Farmer says:

He arrived home alone and un-awares and although having been through the thickest of it in France has no brag coming. He also has little fault to find with all he has been through and seems to have been taken life in the trenches quite philosophical. This brave lad enlisted with the original 105th Battalion and was amongst the first draft from that regiment to the 14th Battalion. After going through numerous engagements unharmed for two years, he got his at Passchendaele on April 9th, last, being severely wounded in the left arm and side by a bursting shell of large calibre. As a souvenir, he now carries, externally, an irregular chunk of shell three inches long and half-an-inch wide. This piece went through his left forearm and shattered the bone. An even larger piece was extracted from his side. He spent nine months in hospital in England, five months in bed and the balance convalescing.

Pte. Wedge, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wedge, will not be 19 years of age until next March. Yet it is over three years ago since he went overseas and he had been in the trenches five months when he was seriously wounded in the right arm, incapacitating him from further fighting. Three other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wedge are still in France. They are Private Frank M. Wedge, who went across about a year ago in the U. S. Army; Privates Ernest and William Wedge, who both enlisted at Winnipeg. The former had been in France for two years when he was invalided home with trench fever and after his recovery returned again to active service. The latter joined the Tank Battalion last April and was at the front before the cessation of hostilities. A remarkable incident connected with Private Mark's homecoming is that in returning from Mons he got into conversation with another soldier who turned out to be also a Summerside boy. After noting the different people each knew here they casually exchanged names and Mark was greatly surprised to find that he had been marching along and conversing for sometime with his own brother Ernest, whom he had not seen for seven years.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT OFFICES

OTTAWA, Jan. 2.—In order that there may be a complete chain of Government employment offices to meet the needs in Canada during the post war period additional powers have been conferred by order in council upon the Minister of Labor that Minister has been empowered to establish and maintain for a period of 18 months from January 1, 1919, such employment bureaus as may be necessary and not established under the provisions of the Employment Offices Co-ordination Act. He is further authorized to establish and maintain such offices as he may deem necessary provided the municipalities supply office space and equipment required. These additional powers have been granted for three reasons, firstly a report of the Minister of Labor that unemployment in Canada is quite rapidly increasing and is bound to grow as the winter season advances; secondly that it appears important that every possible means should be provided whereby employers desiring labor and workmen seeking work can be brought together and thirdly, that certain of the Provinces do not feel able to assume financial responsibility in operating necessary labor bureaus to meet present needs.

SMALL SUMS OF MONEY SAVED DAILY INCREASE RAPIDLY

The Canadian War Savings Plan, which makes saving both easy and profitable, is doing much to teach the public what can be done by putting away small sums of money. On this subject the Saturday Evening Post says: "Take ten cents a day, which means a deposit of three dollars every month. In ten years you will have saved $365, which will have earned $86.36 interest making a total of $451.36. This is the result of simply saving a single ten cent piece per day. As you increase the sum saved each day the value of the steady saving is only strongly impressed. Fifteen cents a day, or four dollars and a half saved each month and compounded will amount to $668.18 in ten years. Of this sum $120.68 is interest earned. Twenty cents a day, or six dollars a month will amount to $890.99, of which $160.99 is interest. These sums saved would scarcely be missed from the purse of the average man. If you are able to put aside twenty-five cents a day or seven dollars and a half a month, at the end of ten years you will find $1,113.75 to your credit. If you are able to make the daily savings thirty cents or nine dollars a month you will be worth $1,336.59. Forty cents a day or twelve dollars a month will roll up the tidy sum of $1,782.10, of which $322.16 is interest; while fifty cents a day or fifteen dollars a month will amount to $2,227.73, of which $402.73 is interest. Hence it is much to your profit to "despise not" the saving of small sums. Now let us see what the systematic or rather progressive saving of one dollar a week can do. In one year the fifty two dollars saved will earn, at four per cent, seventy-eight cents in interest, making a working principal of $52.78 at the start of the second year. At the close of the second year you will have $107.67; at the end of the fifth year $285.86; at the close of the tenth year $633.65 in fifteen years this steady saving of a dollar a week would show a total result of $42.27. At the end of twenty years this kind of saving would total $1,571.59, while the first quarter-century would find you worth $2,197.92. This sum, if you then stopped saving at four per cent would earn $57.51 a year. If you kept up the saving of a dollar each week for fifty years you would accumulate $8,057.16.

and in fact throughout the maritime provinces. His identification with New Brunswick's original battalion, the "fighting" 26th, is alone enough to single him out as far as military life is concerned. Throughout his twenty years of service he has made a splendid name and the recognition of his long and faithful services were duly recognized yesterday in his reception of the Colonial Auxiliary Long Service Medal for twenty years' continuous service in the Canadian militia. Major May is open to hearty congratulations.

Long Service Medal For Major May

ST. JOHN, JAN. 2.—General Macdonell performed a very pleasing duty yesterday at noon when he called Major Fredrick F. May into his office at headquarters and presented him the Colonial Auxiliary Force's Long Service Medal, which is granted to soldiers who have been in the service for twenty continuous years. This is the proud record of Major May, and General Macdonell, in making the award, spoke feelingly of the record of Major May during those twenty years. He also added a few words of the appreciation dealing with the career of Major May as a soldier in the ranks and as a commissioned officer. Major May's twenty years of service are divided as follows: Five years and four months in Charlottetown (P. E. I.) with the Engineer; two years and two months with the 4th Regiment C. G. A.; eight years and six months with the 62nd Regiment, St. John Fusiliers, and four years in the New Brunswick Regiments, C. E. F. The last four years of Major May's record include his twelve months' service with the original 26th New Brunswick Battalion. Major May is on duty at present with the 1st New Brunswick Depot Battalion. Besides the long service decoration he also holds the medal awarded at King Edward's coronation in 1902. Major May was one of twelve soldiers from the engineer company of Charlottetown to be sent to the King's coronation. Major May is well known in St. John
