FAREWELL PARTY

On Thursday evening, June 28th, a large number of friends from Grand View and surrounding districts gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Finlayson to bid farewell to Miss Mildred Coffin, who had been teacher in their school for three years.

The evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and singing, which all heartily participated in. In the course of the evening, Miss Coffin was decorated by the pastor and Mrs. A. N. McPherson read a very suitable and touching address while Mrs. Nell McBeth presented a beautiful seven-piece toilet set.

Miss Coffin, although entirely taken by surprise, replied in a pleasing manner, expressing her regret at leaving this place where she had made so many new friends and was always received in every home with a cordial welcome. She thanked the people for their magnificent gift and hoped that although their relations were severed for the present that the friendship might still be maintained by looking forward to visiting them all in future.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by the other ladies. All too soon the objective of the evening was attained by all joining hands and singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and wishing Miss Coffin a pleasant holiday and success in her new school.

Following was the address read: "Dear Friend and Teacher, — We would be remiss in our duty were we to allow this opportunity to pass without showing our appreciation of your services in our district. Coming among us as a stranger, you are leaving with the friendship of all. Industrious in your school work, you carry that same spirit into every and all of the social functions and into the church work as well—trying to do your share to make this a happier place to live in. Now at the end of three years on the eve of your departure, we would ask you to accept this memento and carry along with you the spirit that impels it to wherever you may journey and not forget your friends and neighbors who gather here to wish you Godspeed. Signed on behalf of your friends in Grand View.

CENTRAL ROYALTY

GOD SAVE THE KING

Chauncey M. Dewey loved to tell the story of his boyish experience in buying a dog. It seems the dog had spots of brown and black when he bought it, spots which washed out the first rainy day. And when young Dewey took the dog and exclaimed, "Great guns, boy! There was an umbrella went with him! Didn't you get one?"

N.B. Sheep Breeders Meet

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) FREDERICTON, N. B., July 11.—The second annual meeting of the New Brunswick Swine Breeders' Association, held at the experimental station here today, was featured by addresses, an inspection of the grounds, and election of officers.

The speakers were J. P. Lafave, of the Dominion Livestock Branch, Ottawa; Leonard Greisbach, assistant superintendent in charge of the livestock here; and Smith Hilton, assistant superintendent in charge of livestock at Nappan, N. S.

C. F. Bailey, Superintendent of the experimental station here, was re-elected president, and J. W. Graham of the Dominion Livestock Branch, Moncton, was named secretary-treasurer. All other officers were re-elected.

The new method of advanced registry in swine was discussed by Mr. Lafave. He reported that testing stations were being installed all over Canada and promised one eventually for the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Greisbach, referred to the possibility of feeding waste potatoes to swine. This could be done to the advantage of the farmer, he said.

Mr. Hilton, gave information concerning benefits accruing from testing milk substitutes for feeding swine. Fishmeal had been found valuable.

Flour Shipment Reaches Moncton

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HALIFAX, July 10.—Three thousand bags of Australian soft-wheat flour, probably the last shipment to escape the recently imposed Canadian government restrictions, were cleared by Halifax customs officials today for a Moncton manufacturer.

Used principally for biscuits and cakes, the flour was imported from Melbourne at a price slightly lower than the Canadian soft-wheat product could be obtained.

It arrived here Saturday on the liner Penland and was admitted because it had been shipped from Australia before restrictions were announced in Ottawa by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

The Canadian Biscuit Company, J. C. Marvin division, is the consignee.

WEDDING BELLS—The marriage of Florence Violet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clements, White Sands, and Mr. Simon Macdonald Stewart, son of Mrs. Stewart and the late Alexander M. Stewart, Bella River, took place on Wednesday afternoon, June 20, 1934, at the United Church parsonage, Murray Harbor. Rev. T. R. Goudge officiated. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the bride's home after which Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left on a motor trip to Nova Scotia.

SAD BEREAVEMENT

Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Alban Gaudet of Miscouche in the death on Tuesday afternoon of their daughter, Martina, at the tender age of twenty two years. The young girl had been in failing health for some time and the end was not unexpected. Martina had a sweet disposition and bore her illness with true Christian fortitude. There are left to mourn besides her parents two brothers, Frank and Ted at home, and one sister, Mrs. Perry in the United States. The funeral takes place this Thursday, morning, from her late home to the Roman Catholic Church, Miscouche, S.

FUNERAL SERVICES

The funeral of Mr. Abiliah Burns, Lower Freetown, took place Tuesday afternoon to the Church of Scotland Cemetery, Cape Traverse, and was one of the largest ever seen in that part of the country. The services at the house and grave were performed by his pastor, Rev. Ewen McDougall, assisted by Rev. Mr. Crowe of Center Bedeque, who spoke words of comfort and help to the bereaved. The pallbearers were all intimate friends of the deceased, Messrs. Hector McKay, Thomas Gillespie, William Gillespie, Fredk. Taylor, Mabon Stavert, James McKay.

YORK AND VICINITY

William May, brother of the late John May, Covehead West, is spending a few days at Tracadie Cross Road visiting friends and relatives. For the past twenty years he has been a resident of the Northwest and British Columbia.—Mr. W. C. West and Mr. Lee West Saunders were visitors to Winsloe yesterday, the guests of Mrs. A. Sellar and Mrs. Anne West Saunders.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hardy, Pleasant Grove, paid a business visit to the city on Wednesday.—Mr. Thomas Brown Woodrige, commercial traveler, paid a business visit to York yesterday.—The Guardian regrets to learn of the continued illness of Mr. Best, Donaldson.

PERSONALS

Miss Ada Warren has returned to Vancouver after spending her holidays at her home in North River.

Mr. Wilson of the Imperial Tobacco Co. paid a business visit to York yesterday.

Mrs. Walter Dockendorff and family have taken up their residence at Cove Head Road for the summer.

Mrs. Leith McKinnon and little son, Bill of West Covehead, have returned home after a very pleasant visit with friends in the city.

Among those attending Camp at Canoe Cove this year is Miss Ruth Ladner, North River.

Miss Ella Thomson spent last week at St. Catharines the guest of Miss Jean Moore.

Blow Out Causes Fatal Accident

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) CAMPBELLTON, N. B., July 11.—Pinned beneath an automobile after a blowout caused it to leave the road and plunge into the Upsalquitch River, James Marshall, or "Tip", was drowned in two feet of water. Three others in the car were thrown clear before it came to rest in the river bed.

Marshall was in the rear seat when a front tire blew out near Upsalquitch station last night. John Wheeler, the driver, lost control and the car smashed through bushes the 30-foot river bank. The machine turned over twice during the drop.

Wheeler, who sustained only a few bruises, suffered mostly from shock and was taken to hospital here. John Marshall, brother of the victim and Lee McNaughton of Matapedia, Que., escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Double Funeral At Wallace, N.S.

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) WALLACE, N. S., July 11.—A double funeral will take place here Thursday for Dr. H. E. Morris and his 93 year old mother, Mrs. Susan A. Morris, who died within 24 hours of each other. Dr. Morris, who practised dentistry for several years in Winnipeg, passed away on Monday. The death of his mother today was attributed to the shock of the news.

Tonight, Frank Morris, political editor of the Detroit Free Press was speeding towards Nova Scotia to attend the funeral of his father and grandmother. Dr. Morris is also survived by his wife, two daughters in Winnipeg and two daughters in Wallace.

WASHINGTON, July 10

Little Willie may act silly because he's scared to death.

Dr. Smiley Blanton, Cornell University professor, suggested this today to the National Education Association of the United States.

"Many children with superior intelligence fail in their school work because of fear, anxiety, feelings of frustration, which block off their thinking capacity," he said.

"Especially do we find children who have a feeling of wrong doing because of a too strict early training. These children feel so inferior, so inadequate, that they are unable to do their school work."

DOUGLAS-LANNON WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Gordon (Beth) Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Douglas, Georgetown, E. P., to Mr. Robert Edgar Lannon, son of Mr. Robert Edgar Lannon, of West Roxbury, Mass., took place at 8 o'clock last Saturday evening at the home of her uncle and aunt, Dr. David D. Scannell and Mrs. Scannell, Walnut Avenue, Jamaica Plain, Mass.

The drawing room where the ceremony was performed by the Episcopal Church, was beautifully decorated with ferns and Easter lilies.

Forty guests were present, immediate relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a wedding gown of ivory satin and veil of tulle, with orange blossoms. The gown was simply made on princess lines. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marion Douglas, sister of the bride, wore a gown of tea rose chiffon and carried a bouquet of talisman roses and larkspur.

The groom was attended by Mr. Charles W. Gillis.

The wedding march and "Oh Promise Me" were played by Miss Hilda Barnes (formerly of Georgetown, P. E. I.).

After the ceremony an informal reception was held.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Lannon left on a honeymoon trip to the bride's old home in Georgetown.

The bride's going away costume was of navy blue sheer crepe, with trimmings of lighter blue linen.

The bride was formerly a teacher in this province and later was engaged in nursing in and around Boston.

The groom is associated with the firm of S. Mosely & Co., stock brokers of Boston.

Heart congratulations are being extended by friends within and beyond the province.

Executive to slow-moving employee: "Tomorrow, you take the day off to visit the Zoological Gardens. You'll enjoy the turtles and tortoises—enjoy seeing them go hissing by you!"

THE GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE

I stand on a shore of the grand old gulf,
This beautiful day of June,
And my thoughts go back to the friends of youth
And to the sports and joys of days long flown.

No change can be seen in this halcyon bay,
Save where it has fought its shore,
With waves of thunderous herculean might,
That have narrowed the well known fields of yore.

The waves come curling in from the deep,
To lave the shell-strewn beach,
The sandpiper scuds from the frothy flow,
And the white gull wheels with joyous screech.

Far out o'er the waves, like tiny specks,
The boats of the fishermen leap,
Where brassy youth and toughened age
Strive hard for the harvest of the sea.

Yes 'tis a beautiful tranquil scene,
This beautiful summer day;
But, when storms arise and darken the skies,
'Tis a dangerous, dread, and roaring bay.

When winter brings its northern cold,
And grasps the billows in its grip,
A snow-white solitude is seen,
With beast nor bird, nor sail of ship.

But when winter's blasts have all been blown,
And Spring's heralds with joy,
The hard ice-pack is forced to yield
And the boats go out, and the ships go by.

Though the Island wanderer, returned from far
Sees friends of youth grown grey,
It gladdens the heart to see no change
In this wondrous, blessed age-old bay.

—J. F. B.

Stars May Tell Latest Secrets For Canadians

TORONTO, July 10.—(C.P.)—In the near future, Canada will have the largest telescope in the British Empire, and one of the most modern observatories in the world. The observatory proper will be located at Richmond Hill, north of Toronto, in a 177-acre park.

This plant with its up-to-date machinery and giant telescope is expected to reveal to Canadian astronomers many new secrets of the stars. Constructed and equipped under the supervision of Prof. C. A. Chant, head of the University of Toronto, the observatory will shortly be ready for use. It will then be turned over to the university by Mrs. D. A. Dunlap, the donor, as a memorial to her late husband, a prominent mining man.

The dome and building are now practically completed, and part of the telescope is being set in position. A large English telescope works has been finishing the main reflector for some months. This too will be in place shortly.

Inside a huge steel dome will be located the telescope with a 74-inch reflector, the entire assembly weighing around 50 tons. The steel dome is 61 feet in diameter, with a parallel opening 15 feet wide. Two moving shutters running on rails at the top and bottom of the dome, close the opening and are operated simultaneously by means of wire ropes connected to a motor gear. An emergency hand gear is also provided. Two motor-operated wind screens of sail cloth are mounted in the opening, one rising from the bottom, the other descending from the top.

The dome, which weighs about 80 tons, is carried on 24 cantilevered rollers of 24 inch diameter, mounted in ball bearings and running on a rail. Sixteen pairs of lateral roller bearings on the inner and outer edge of the dome keep the dome in position. Two segmental platforms, the lower one at the base of the opening and the upper one at the back is feet high, are fixed inside the dome. Balls are mounted on the parallel straight edges on which runs a bridge five feet six inches wide and divided into four portions, the right hand side forming a stairway, the left being a track on which a truck carrying the Newtonian observing platform runs.

The centre section of the telescope tube itself is a steel casting seven feet in diameter and weighing 51-2 tons. Just above the lower flange, the casting swells out to eight feet seven inches to accommodate an iris diaphragm for use in stellar photography.

Construction of the diaphragm is similar on a big scale to that of the familiar small camera. But the shutter of many cameras is less than one half inch aperture. The shutter of the Dunlap observatory camera opens to six feet, two inches. It is operated by a hand wheel.

Prof. Chant is enthusiastic on the possibilities of discovery and development in the science of the heavenly bodies to be afforded by the new observatory.

Pioneer Minister Plans Trip To Old Homestead

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Colwill, New Haven, Mrs. George Green and Mrs. Nicholas Colwill, Kingston, motored to Borden, Thursday afternoon to meet the Rev. Septimus E. Colwill who has come from Winnipeg to spend a holiday with relatives and friends in Kingston, New Haven, and Charlottetown.

The Evening Tribune of Winnipeg in referring to Mr. Colwill's visit says:

"After an absence of 26 years, Rev. S. E. Colwill, pioneer minister and social worker, will leave Tuesday evening to pay an extended visit to his friends and relatives in the Maritime provinces and Prince Edward Island, where he was born.

Mr. Colwill was born at Colwill Road, ten miles from Charlottetown, and will again sleep on the old homestead where his father, an old Devonshire settler, farmed. Before coming west in 1882, Mr. Colwill received his education at the Wesleyan academy at Charlottetown and trained in theology at Mount Allison university, Sackville, New Brunswick.

The call of the Methodist church brought him out into Manitoba when it was a mission field. He commenced work in the district where Manitoba is now located, six months before the C.P.R. constructed the present line. Manitoba was the C.P.R. terminus for some time.

The post office was two miles away from the present town and the district was known as Archibald. Mr. Colwill, like many other pioneer workers, had a large field to cover, taking in settlements where Treherne, Balduf and Glenboro are now established.

In those days both ministers and settlers entered into the spirit of pioneering and in spite of many hardships and inconveniences a splendid community life was developed. Among the homesteaders the minister and his horse was always a welcome visitor. There used to be a saying: "You can judge a minister by his horse." Mr. Colwill was always a great lover of horses and wherever he went his span attracted attention.

Mr. Colwill was a member of the first Methodist conference held for Manitoba and the North-west territories. He subsequently was stationed at Emerson, Thornhill, Port Qu'Appelle, and other places where he is still remembered among the old timers, and is called back to baptize their grandchildren, and perform the last sad rites.

Subsequent to the death of his wife, Mr. Colwill came to Winnipeg and became associated with Rev. Dr. J. E. Hughson in the work of Grace Church for some years.

He has now retired from active ministry for some years, but spends his time in social work and visitation and with his children, Mrs. A. W. Secomb, of Birtle, and J. Roy Colwill, partner of Judge Fawcett Taylor, until the latter's elevation to the Bench.
