Spencer Tracy To Broadcast Tomorrow

Next Wednesday night will be a big night for Canadian radio listeners when Spencer Tracy, Hollywood's outstanding dramatic actor appears as one of the stars on the Victory Loan Hour to be broadcast over the national network from 9 to 10 p. m. EDT. This broadcast originates in Toronto from Massey Hall. Appearing with Mr. Tracey will be Stella Andreva of the Metropolitan Opera and an all-star show.

Spencer Tracy, twice winner of the coveted Hollywood Award for outstanding performance, is coming to Canada and donating his services, to help raise money necessary for carrying on the battle to defend the ideals which fired his youth. During the last war, he served in the United States Navy, afterwards returning to Marquette Academy and Northwestern Military Academy to continue his formal education. Mr. Tracy won "Oscars" in 1937 and 1938 for his performances in "Captains Courageous" and "Boys' Town."

Stella Andreva, top-ranking Operatic singer, was born in London, England and has sung in command performances to King Gustava of Sweden and Queen Mary of England. Her lovely soprano voice has thrilled people in Concert Halls throughout the world. Miss Andreva visited Toronto in June 1941 to help in a previous Victory Loan Drive and Canada welcomes her back for another visit to sing in the brilliant finale to the present All-Star Series. HAS ARM BROKEN—The lady who accidentally fell into the excavation between the court house and the provincial building Sunday night received a broken arm, it was learned yesterday. The Guardian was informed there was no fence protecting the walk at the time of the accident. Apparently a fence had been there earlier but had been torn down, possibly by hallowe'en pranksters. After the accident the fence was replaced. In a report yesterday it was stated incorrectly the area was fenced off at the time the lady was injured.

EVENING AUXILIARY MEETS The Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S., Trinity United Church, held its autumn Thankoffering meeting last evening. The President, Mrs. Hugh Miller presided, and the devotional period was taken by Mrs. Simpson and Miss MacLeod. Miss MacDougall, Deaconess, gave a very interesting and informative talk on the mission work of the United Church carried on in British Columbia. SAILOR'S CONTRIBUTION — Ordinary Coder L.J. Brown of H.M.C.S. "Queen Charlotte" is sparing no effort to "put the Hun on the run". Besides offering his services to the Navy for the duration, he is also backing Canada with material financial assistance. This young sailor, who hails from Clinton, Ontario, set a worthy example to fellow Canadians, when yesterday he subscribed $2000 to the Third Victory Loan campaign. Coder Brown deposited a cheque for this amount with one of the salesmen. This magnificent subscription sent the ship's objective sky-rocketing. Starting out with a quota of $2,000 the ship's company had over subscribed this by $50 on Friday last. Yesterday's generous subscription brought the total up to $4,450.

POST NUPTIAL SHOWER— On Monday evening, Oct. 19, a post nuptial shower was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peters (formerly Miss Laura Cullen of Sherwood) by a large number of their friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Roper, Central Royalty. Mr. and Mrs. Peters briefly expressed their thanks for the lovely gifts and the good wishes that accompanied them. A social evening of music and conversation followed, during which a delicious lunch was served by the hostess and other ladies. This pleasant gathering was brought to a close by the singing of "God Save The King."

IMPROVED AIR SERVICE—For the first time in aviation history in this province the enterprising Maritime Central Airways Company are now operating three return trips between Charlottetown and Moncton. This improved service went into effect yesterday and is a forward step in communications with the mainland. The additional service was made possible when Premier Campbell took the matter up with the Post Office. He did this when the Trans Canada Airlines announced their revised schedule recently. Not only is the new service of great benefit to passengers but it is also proving of great advantage in the matter of air mail. Maritime Central Airways has done much to better the air service here since they took over about a year ago but this latest move is probably the most popular ever introduced here. Capt. Carl F. Burke of Charlottetown is manager of the company and he is to be commended for the work he has done in improving the air service of his native province.

His parents reside in Fort William.

COL. H. D. JOHNSON

Col. H. D. Johnson, M. D., has been elected President of the Medical Council of Canada. Returns From A.R.P. Course

Dr. J. A. MacMillan, Medical Controller of the Charlottetown A.R.P. sub-committee, arrived home last night after attending a special course in chemical warfare which was held during the past two weeks at McGill University. Special attention was paid to instructions in dealing with incendiary bombs and gas, and treatment of war casualties.

Dr. I. M. Rabinowitch, consultant of the civilian A.R.P. at Ottawa and head of the Dept. of Metabolism at Montreal General Hospital was the lecturer. Clinics dealing with the treatment of war casualties were held at the Royal Victoria Hospital and the Montreal General Hospital.

Following this meeting Dr. MacMillan, who is President of the Maritime Hospital Association, attended a meeting of the National Selective Service Board in Ottawa. Representatives of Hospitals all across Canada were present and the problem of acute shortage of help in hospitals was discussed.

Dr. MacMillan also attended a session of the Ontario Hospital Association Convention in Toronto. At this meeting he secured valuable information about group hospitalization. A system of group hospitalization is being worked out for the Maritime provinces and will probably be introduced here in the near future.

Dr. B.C. Keeping, Medical Controller for the Provincial A.R.P. Committee who also attended the course at McGill University is expected to return to the province later this week. He stayed over to attend a meeting of Public Health Officers which is in session at present.

Urges Retailers to Fill Out Forms

The importance of retailers filling out the gummed ration coupon sheet before turning in coupons for replacement of sugar, tea, or coffee, was stressed by Mr. M. F. Graves, Ration Officer with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Charlottetown, in an interview yesterday. These sheets hold 50 coupons and are supplied on request.

Mr. Graves appeals to merchants to see that their coupons are properly placed on this sheet before turning them in to wholesalers. Many retailers are co-operating in this connection, but too many persist in turning in loose coupons to their suppliers adding greatly to the work of the wholesaler and ration office. Pointing to shortage of manpower which has left wholesalers understaffed in many cases, the Ration Officer declared it was "the patriotic duty" on the part of retailers to see that they carry out this responsibility

This careless method of turning in coupons must be stopped, he said, and the retailers are asked to co-operate by taking the few minutes required to attach the coupons turned in by customers to the gummed sheets.

Americans Go To Polls Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3 — (AP)— Some 35,000,000 Americans, an unusually small proportion of the electorate, will vote tomorrow in the first wartime election since 1918, with the New York contest for Governor commanding general attention because of its direct bearing on 1944 presidential politics.

A victory by Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, would be viewed by many politicians as enhancing his prospects two years hence for the presidential nomination which eluded him in 1940; and the strength of his party in the pivotal Empire State.

And linked in large measure with the fortunes of John J. Bennett, Jr., the Democratic candidate, is the political future of James A. Farley, former Democratic National chairman who sponsored Bennett's nomination over President Roosevelt's preference for Senator James M. Mead.

In addition to the New York contest, the election of members of the House of Representatives will be closely studied. Ordinarily the balloting for House Seats in a year which sees no presidential election affords an up-to-the minute indication of how much support the public is giving the administration in power.

This year, however, national issues have not emerged with anything like their clarity — by contrast the whole new deal was at issue in 1938 — and the voters, preoccupied with the war, have displayed a lack of interest in politics.

Nationally, Republican leaders in the last few days have proclaimed the election to be a test of popular support for the Roosevelt administration's way of running the war. They have called for the election of a Republican Congress to promote efficiency in the direction of the war in Washington.

Democratic leaders have warned, on the other hand, that the election of a Republican Congress would jeopardize plans for peace-assuring post-war settlements.

In the normal course of things, the party of the administration loses house seats in the off-year elections. Republican leaders are claiming a net gain of 75 in the House. Democratic leaders concede not more than 15.

On the basis of these claims and concessions the House will remain Democratic. The Republicans would need a net gain of 53 to acquire control.

Wrens to be Enlisted here

Already Prince Edward Island has contributed many young women to the Army and the Air Force and now comes word that they will be given an opportunity to enlist in the "Silent Service." Enlistments are being sought for the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service, it was announced here yesterday by Lieut. M.G. McCarthy, Captain of H.M.C.S. "Queen Charlotte."

So far several prospective Wrens have been inquiring for enlistment with the Senior Service. Tomorrow night at 7:30 a meeting will be held on the "Queen Charlotte" and the Captain hopes that as many young ladies as possible will avail themselves of this opportunity of getting first hand knowledge of this intriguing branch of the service. Three interesting films depicting the work of the naval service will be shown. One of these pictures deals exclusively with the service being performed by the Wrens in England. Lieut. McCarthy has issued an invitation to all women interested in joining the Navy to be present. Sub-Lieut. Robert Morris (Recruiting Officer) will be prepared to answer any questions asked by prospective applicants.

Lieut McCarthy is convinced that the Wrens wherever organized are doing a really "good job." He pointed out that these lady recruits have been replacing various categories of naval personnel in shore establishmnts with the object of releasing men for active service at sea.

To Recruit Here

Within a fortnight, the Captain announced that a recruiting officer from the Wrens will visit Charlottetown to receive applications from ladies in this province who wish to join the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service. While no definite quota has been set for the Island the Recruiting Officer is prepared to receive the applications of all interested in joining this branch of the service.

A wide variety of categories is open to prospective Wrens. These include cooks, stewards, wardroom attendants, quarters assistants, mess caterers, supply assistants, general clerks, stenographers, confidential book correctors, postal clerks, secretaries, pay writers, coders, telephonists, telephone switchboard operators teletype operators, plotters, wireless telegraphists, motor transport drivers, despatch riders, messengers, sick berth attendants.

Volunteers must be British subjects of the white race. Women between the ages of 18 and 45, with the exception of those who have young children or other dependants, are eligible. In exceptional circumstances, women with special qualifications which are needed by the services may be accepted up to the age of 49 years. The Wrens, when enlisted will be posted for training at Galt, Ontario.

DELEGATE BACK

At one point, the communique said, the Russians drove the Germans out of six dugouts in which they had entrenched themselves. This was the third successive day that the Russians had reported gains in the battered Volga city.

Northwest of Stalingrad, the communique said, a group of Red Army Scouts penetrated the enemy rear and attacked a motorized column which was en route to the front, destroying three trucks loaded with ammunition and two fuel oil tank cars.

On the Black Sea front, northeast of the port of Taupse, the Russians presed the enemy back slightly, killing about 700 enemy troops, the communiue said.

In the eastern Caucasus, where the main German drive was developing, the Germans appeared to have halted their major attacks in the Mozdok area in favor of their new push on the Nalchik region to the south and west of Mozdok.

Pravda, the Communist newspaper, estimated the Germans had suffered 38,000 casualties in the Mozdok fighting in September and October and had lost several hundred tanks.

They were still aiming, however, at the same goal, Ordzhonikidze.

There two great military highways start their tortuous courses across the 18,000-foot range. The western Ossetic road leads to Kutaisi. The eastern route is the superb Georgian military highway 100 airline miles to Tiflis. The terrain from Tiflis to Baku is relatively simple, but the conquest of either military road would require an immense military effort.
