THE BOOK OF THE YEAR

The GOLDEN FUTURE
of
PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Read What the Halifax
Star Says :

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

THE Charlottetown Guardian has recently issued a souvenir edition published in book-size form, with the optimistic title of "The Golden Future of Prince Edward Island."

It is an interesting edition. It is one that the native of Prince Edward Island, far from home, will read with a special glow of pleasure, for in poem, and story, in attractive illustration, and advertisement, it tells of the Island's glory, of its progress, and of its contribution to the life of this continent.

There are many excellent articles, but one of the best is the impression of an American journalist who visited the "Garden of the Gulf," and who tells vividly his impressions of its people, their traditions, the well kept homes, the splendid churches, and his amazement at the practical absence of divorce and crime.

His observations are worth noting. "This same little Province, which has no divorce problem, is also without a crime problem. Its crime rate, as indicated by convictions for serious offenses, is less than one-tenth the rate for Canada as a whole, and the Canadian rate is low. The Island hasn't had an execution in forty years!

"Unemployment? There isn't any on the Island."

"Poverty? It is almost non-existent there."

"This Island has, per square mile, twice as many people, four times as many cattle, and eight times as much poultry, as any other Province of Canada. It has more railroads per square mile, more post offices, more telegraph lines, and more churches, and its people have more money in the savings banks, per capita, than have those of any other Canadian Province."

The publication is one worthy of that enterprising daily newspaper, The Charlottetown Guardian. Price 25 Cents.

BROOKFIELD

On Nov. 12th upwards of a hundred relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod MacLeod, Brookfield, to tender a shower in honor of their daughter Hazel, who has been recently married. She was the recipient of many beautiful presents. Little Miss Avis and Master Lloyd Crews conveyed the heavily laden basket into the circle, where bride and groom had been seated, while Mrs. Harry Paul, Miss Margaret MacLean and Miss Bernice Wood opened the parcels and read the witty and comical verses accompanying them. After thanking each and all, refreshments were served by several of Hazel's girl friends, who before long may be going through the same ordeal. Then dancing and music were indulged in, also some old Scotch songs by our friend, Mr. Rennie, which were greatly enjoyed. Through time each began to wend their way home, wishing Hazel all the happiness that they could extend.

Messrs. W. G. Darke and Murdoch Stewart were in town on business on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Maslin are paying a visit to Brookfield, the guests of Mrs. Maslin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacDuff.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Robertson spent Sunday in Brookfield visiting Mrs. Robertson's parents.

COVERING RULES FOR THE VARYING SKIRT LENGTHS

PARIS—Nov. 20.—The fashionable woman of today must have a tape measurer with her constantly.

The varying lengths of skirts for the fall and winter seasons makes it a rigid necessity if a woman is to be truly "correct" according to the Paris dictates. The following table should serve as a guide:

Home.....	17 in.	from floor
Street and shopping	15 in.	from floor
Walking and for sports	13 in.	from floor
Tea.....	10 in.	from floor
Dinner.....	8 in.	from floor
Theatre.....	1 in.	from floor
Formal occasions

Sweeping floor with a long train.

The famous maison of Monsieur Jean Patou decrees a great deal of crinoline this season. It is most noticeable in his creations when displayed in cape affect with muffs to match. He allows for great diversity of treatment, but his favorite combination with the ermine is black velvet.

Patou for the evening frequently allows the ankles to show as much as two or three inches in front, while the skirt touches the floor elsewhere.

A tunic fashioned in the same manner as the lower portion of the skirt is another distinctive feature of Patou. As well as skirt lengths, tunics and capes, Patou has given sleeves a great deal of attention. The long sleeves fits snugly over the shoulder, becomes almost immediately quite large and as suddenly rushes in again tightly at the elbow or wrist.

His short sleeve is almost always puffed from shoulder to halfway of the elbow.
