

What the Fashionable Are Wearing

Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Furnished With Every Pattern

By Annebelle Worthington

2747
Style No. 2747, interpreted in capucine tones on dark brown ground Rayon crepe is a real favorite because of its smooth fit through the hips and delightful flared skirt, so suggestive of fashionable Princess mode.

The long-waisted bodice has shirring at each shoulder which gives a nice fullness through the bust. The deep Vionnet collarless neckline is complemented by pleated jabot frill, which breaks the width through the bodice, and makes it so suitable for woman of average full figure.
It is designed in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inches bust.
The 36-inch size requires 3 1/4 yards of 40-inch material with 1/4 yard of 18-inch contrasting.
Black transparent velvet with jabot of sheer metal cloth in vivid red coloring is so individual, and so entirely youthful.
Mid-night blue crepe marocain with jabot in aquamarine shade canton crepe is dignified fashion for town, office or classroom.
Rust brown canton crepe self trimmed answers many daytime occasions.
Black wool crepe with white crepe de chine jabot, tobacco brown crepe satin with lemon-yellow crepe de chine jabot, and printed sheer velvet in dark wine tones fashionable combinations.
Pattern price 15 cents. Be sure to fill in size of pattern. Address Pattern Department, The New Fall and Winter Fashion Magazine is 15 cents, but only 10 cents when ordered with a pattern.

No. 2747. Size
Name
Street Address
City State

Richest in Tea Essence

AS YOU know, all King Cole Tea is good; but King Cole Orange Pekoe is supremely choice. It is blended for fullness, flavor and strength as is the ordinary King Cole, but the Orange Pekoe is made solely from the fresh, young, tender bud leaves that have just unfolded, full of succulent flavor.
Not only that—more expensive teas are blended in King Cole Orange Pekoe: aromatic Darjeelings from high up in the Himalayas, vigorous Travancores from monsoon swept hills of Southern India, costly delicacies that give character and distinctiveness to the finest tea we can blend.

You will enjoy King Cole Coffee too

Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is it best for a lady to remove her wraps in a theater?
A. She may do so if the hall is warm, but a lady usually prefers to retain her wraps. If accompanied by a man, he should arrange the upper part of the wrap over the back of the seat.
Q. When an engagement is to be announced at a dinner, should one merely arise and verbally announce it?
A. Sometimes this is done, but a more delicate or ingenious way is preferable.
Q. For what purpose is the frock coat for men?
A. The frock coat is for middle-aged men who prefer it to a cutaway coat.

For The Cook

FRIARS' CAKE

Take 1 lb. flour, 1 tablespoon golden syrup, 1/2 lb. butter, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1/2 lb. yellow sugar, 1 dessert spoon baking soda, 1/2 pint warm milk, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1 lb. mixed fruit, season to taste.
Rub butter into flour and add all dry ingredients, add golden syrup and molasses. Dissolve soda in a little cold milk, add the warm milk to it. To this add the vinegar and pour quickly to the mixture, stir, put into greased tin and bake slowly 1 1/2 hours.
This is the eggless recipe.

A Morning Smile

RATHER STARTLING

He was showing his fourth wife around the village. They visited the churchyard. She passed an elaborate tombstone which had been erected by the bridesroom. She read this inscription.
"Here lies Susan, beloved wife of Thomas Johnson; also Jane, beloved wife of Thomas Johnson; also Mary, beloved wife of Thomas Johnson."
Leaning forward to see the bottom line, she read:
"Be Ye Also Ready."

CHILDREN TAKE IT AND LIKE IT
SCOTT'S EMULSION
COD-LIVER OIL MADE EASY

How to Be a Successful Husband || Shows How to Keep Wife's Love || Dorothy Dix

Any Man Can Make a Success of Marriage by Giving His Wife a Square Deal in Money, Affection and Good Times, and by Never, Never Taking Her for Granted, Declares Dorothy Dix

I have a letter from a young man who says: "I am about to be married, and while I do not aspire to be the IDEAL HUSBAND, I do want to be a tolerably good one. So will you list those faults and shortcomings into which husbands ordinarily fall in order that I may avoid them?"

Glory be, that there is at least one prospective bridegroom who realizes that a man's success in marriage, like his success in business, depends upon the intelligence he brings to bear upon his problems, and whether he puts his back and his heart into it, instead of relying just upon bull luck.

And thanks be that there is one young man with enough married to perceive that the way to be happy though married is to keep his wife so much in love with him that she will always be on her tip-toes trying to please him. For the reason there are so many peevish, fretful, complaining wives, who are bad cooks and poor managers, is because so many women are so disappointed and disillusioned in marriage that they didn't care whether they keep their jobs or lose them.

Of course, practically every man who gets married is in love with the woman he marries. Else he would not burden himself with the expense of a family. Also, practically every man goes into matrimony with the desire to make the woman he marries happy and when he falls he is amazed and bewildered and doesn't know how come. He has fed her and clothed her and she has had the felicity of being married to him. What more could any sane woman desire?

So if you would avoid the mistakes of these dumb brothers, begin first by giving your wife a square deal. Don't treat her as a doll to dress up, or a plaything to amuse yourself with in your idle hours, or a drudge to do your cooking and cleaning, but as a partner who has put everything she is and has into the matrimonial firm just as you have.

Talk over your business with her. Let her have her part in helping on with your plans and ambitions. Make her realize that your success or failure depends just as much upon her efforts as it does upon yours. Hold her responsible for her part of the work. Make her realize from the first that you are going ahead and that if she doesn't keep up with you she will be left behind. Nine times out of ten when a wife fails to be a helpmate and a companion to her husband it is because he didn't take the trouble to develop her into being one.

Give your wife a square deal about money. Don't humiliate her by making her come to you like a beggar for the money she has earned by her own labor. Give her a definite allowance for the house and for her own personal needs, and don't ask her what she did with it any more than you would ask your partner what he did with his money.

Don't cut out the lovemaking just because you are married. Don't think that a woman can live for thirty or forty years on the sweet talk you gave her when you were courting her. It gets stale and worn-out with doubts and molded with suspicions, and she wants something fresh and hot that was baked this morning, on which to stay her hungry heart.

Make it an ironbound rule that you never break to tell your wife every day that in every way you love her better and better. Give her a kiss that has some real feeling in it instead of its being the cold and insulting peck of duty. Notice what she has on. Compliment the way she does her hair. And she will never find out, no matter how poor and hard-worked she is, that matrimony isn't a glorious adventure and you a Fairy Prince.

Show your wife some appreciation. Most men make the mistake of taking their wives for granted and assuming that their wives are mind-readers who know how they feel about things. They never mention the state of their affections from the altar to the grave, but they think their wives should know they still love them.

They never throw their wives a compliment for their thrift or good management, but they think their wives should know that they realize what helpmates they have been. Unless the ghosts of dead wives can come back and read the epitaphs their husbands have carved on their tombstones, most wives never know what their husbands think of them.

That is why there are so many discouraged wives who go along doing their duty in marriage just because it is their duty and without getting any joy out of it. That is why so many wives ask themselves what's the use of working themselves to death for a man who never notices what they do, anyway, and so get slack and extravagant and quit trying to please the husbands who growl over a bad dinner and never praise a good one.

For it is hard to do things for those who do not appreciate them and easy to do things for those who do appreciate them. So, if you want to keep your wife thinking matrimony is worth while, jolly her along. Consider how little energy and pep you would put into your own work if all that you ever got for it was a howling out.

Remember that your wife was a human being before she was a wife, and that she has the same feelings and desires as you have. A lot of men make the mistake of thinking that when a woman gets married she is changed by some malign fairy on her wedding day into a combination gas range and vacuum cleaner and that she has no other interest in life except functioning as such.

They think that a wife needs no other amusement besides cooking and baby-tending, and that she never wants to go out of the house or to have pretty clothes, and that she prefers being treated as a drudge to being treated as a Lady Love.

Don't make this fatal mistake. Do something active to make your wife happy and give her variety and change. Buy her as many pretty clothes as you can afford. Take her out to places of amusement. Give her something new to think about. Thus shall you keep her happy and contented and prevent her becoming a nagger and whiner.

Follow these rules, son, for being a good husband and your wife will spend her days blessing Heaven because she drew a capital prize in the matrimonial lottery.

DOROTHY DIX.
LAKE VERDE SCHOOL
The standing of Lake Verde School for the month of October is as follows:
Grade IX—1 Charlie Boylan.
Grade VIII—1 Willie Wood; 2 Mary Redmond.
Grade VI—1 Laura Hughes; 2 Helen Acorn; 3 Matthew Redmond.
Grade III—1 Basil Redmond; 2 Joseph Shea.
Grade II—1 Marion Boylan; 2 Alan Callahan; 3 Lavena Shea.
Grade I (Sr.)—1 Mary Callahan; 2 Ernie Shea.
Grade I (Jr.)—1 John Acorn.
Perfect attendance Laura Hughes.

Milady Beautiful

By Lois Leeds

COLORS FOR BLONDES

Whether she be 15 or 50, there is one question which always interests the woman who would look her best and that is which colors are best suited to her. Every woman realizes how dimly she can fall in the selection of her gowns if she tries to look exactly like some one else. She may see some one, for instance, who looks adorable in a frock of vivid red, but if the blonde mistle decides that she, too, will be adorned in that manner, she is pretty sure to be disappointed. Her colors must be chosen with regard to her own particular type and just because another may look stunning in a bright red frock or perhaps one which is of greenish yellow. It is no sign that milady should select something of that hue.

The pure blonde with fair skin and pale gold or flaxen hair is quite in luck this season, for she is the type who can wear all black afternoon gowns as well as black frocks for evening wear are very much in the mode. The fair blonde may also use creamy or ivory shades, pale yellow, golden hues, pure blue or green in all shades, orchid, blue-violet of her eyes and thus be particularly flattering. The blues which are accorded preference this season by fashion experts are a light blue, navy, sapphire, turquoise and peacock. All these are lovely—for the true blonde who has blue eyes. Darker blues sometimes lend a watery look to light blue eyes, however.

For this reason the blond with light blue eyes should always favor the lighter blues when selecting color for various costumes. The true blonde with blue eyes will also find that light soft tans and greens, as well as light beige tones, become her. Many blondes have eyes which are a light brown or hazel. As the color of one's eyes is one of the chief factors in the choice of colors to wear, this type of blonde will naturally choose colors that are different from those worn by her blue-eyed sister. But as every type seems to have been considered in the new shades for the winter wardrobe, the brown-eyed blonde also finds the color best suited to her. For never before has brown been quite so much in vogue as it is today.

The entire range of browns is decidedly smart at the present time. Those which are being particularly stressed are the tones with a hint of red, such a terracotta, brownish reds, rust and nut browns. The brown-eyed blonde will find that she can wear these shades beautifully. Other colors suited to her type are tans in every hue, bronze-green, green-brown, delit blue, dove gray, almond green, greenish yellow, raisin, wisteria, blue-violet, maize, soft brownish reds, light pink, fawn, white especially oyster white.

The woman with ashen blonde hair, gray-green of blue eyes with a fallow tint to her complexion may find it somewhat difficult to select becoming colors. If she will bring back the golden hue and gloss to her hair with a blonde rinse and clear her complexion by bleaching lotions and simple hygienic measures, she will find that the colors best suited to the medium blonde are suited to her also. She may apply a faint tinge of color to her cheeks and lips to add brilliancy to her eyes and skin.

By medium blondes I mean those who have a medium complexion, light brown hair and blue, gray or brown eyes. This type looks best in reseda and peach color. She may also wear creamy flesh, dull brick, bronze green, pinkish tan and golden browns, pale pink and old rose. If the skin of the medium blonde is clear, she will find pale orchid, blue violet, silver gray, white with a pinky tint, soft brownish reds, pale yellow and champagne are lovely. The hazel-eyed medium blonde will look her best in pinkish tans, mignonette, reseda and golden browns.

It is claimed that the right colors in clothes and accessories have a beneficial effect on the physical and mental health of the wearer. This undoubtedly accounts for the pleasure and comfort so often experienced in wearing some particular garment of a favorite hue.
It is very important, when you are selecting becoming shades, to consider your eyes, hair and skin, being very careful to avoid those which

Chest Colds
RELIEF
Cold East wind : : : wet, clinging snow : : : children with chattering teeth . . . chilled to the bone. Coughing follows and leads to—what?
Probably Bronchitis, or worse.
Prevent serious consequences with Thermogene : : : a medicated wadding applied to the chest.
At once Thermogene soothes and relieves: Its penetrating warmth breaks up congestion: Stops pain : : : ends trouble. Thermogene is not like a mussy, sticky poultice, and when its healing work is done it may be taken off a layer at a time, as easily as it was on.
Chest colds, sore throat, Neuralgia—/ chill-caused pains that children are subject to, quickly give way to treatment with Thermogene. And that's why there's a package handy in most homes.
Sole Representatives for North America
Harold F. Ritchie & Co. Limited
10-18 McCull St. Toronto

YOUR DRUGGIST HAS THERMOGENE

Put it where the Pain is

- will give you a faded, unhealthy tinge, or a too-harsh and florid appearance, and choosing those which will enhance the beauty of your individual coloring and type.
Tomorrow—Beauty Questions Answered
KENSINGTON SCHOOL
Honor Roll, Kensington High School, October. Principal's Department:
Grade X Senior—1 Gladys MacNeill; 2 Jean MacKenzie; 3 Jennie Clark; 4 Myrtle Hughes.
Grade X Junior—1 Doris MacKenzie; 2 Anna Heggarty; 3 Miller Waite; 4 Marion Bernard.
Vice Principal's Department:
Grade IX—1 Dorothy Howard; 2 Linda Hardy; 3 Irene Casey; 4 Gertrude Gillis.
Grade VIII—1 Doris Higgins; 2 Evelyn MacNeill; 3 James Higgins; 4 Margaret Hunter.
Miss Proffitt's Department:
Grade VII—1 Norma Clark; 2 Grace Semple; 3 Harold MacFar; 4 Helen Watson.
Grade VI—1 Enid Lockhart; 3 Keith Hardy; 3 Jean Millman; 4 Ethel Stewart.
Miss Ready's Department:
Grade V—1 Jean Proffitt; 2 Erna Hughes; 3 Adele Brown and Don McKay; 4 Poch McKenna.
Grade IV—1 Dorothy Bealro; 2 Doris Kennedy; 3 Iva Chamption; 4 Millie Bealro.
Miss Higgins's Department:
Grade III—1 Baden Chamption; 2 Mary Casey; 3 Helen Higgins; 4 Elmer Chamption.
Grade II Senior—1 David MacLean; 2 Robert Bowen; 3 Percy Folland; 4 Keith Kennedy.
Grade II Junior—1 Joe Arsenault; 2 Bruce Clark; 3 Morris Clark; 4 Arthur Watson.
Miss Thompson's Department:
Grade I (A)—1 Anna Casey; 2 Hollis Cameron.
Grade I (B)—1 Wendell Proffitt; 2 Glen Clark; 3 Reta Chamption; 4 Lowell Clark.
Grade I (C)—1 Clare Chamption; 2 George Graham; 3 Vina Higgins; 4 Frances Kelly, Y.

If Baby has COLIC
A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use.
And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!

Household Hints

By Roberta Lee

THE CLOTHESLINE
To clean the clothesline and to prevent clothes from freezing in the winter, rub the line with a mixture of equal parts of baking soda and salt, sprinkled on a damp cloth. Or, boil the line occasionally in strong salt water. This also cleans clotheslines.

AN EXCELLENT SALAD
Add a teaspoon of current jelly on a little pat of cottage or cream cheese. Place on a crisp lettuce leaf which has been well dressed with French dressing.

HEMSTITCHING
To draw threads in hemstitching easily, scrub them with a wet brush which has been rubbed over a bar of soap.

Explosion Kills Five Workmen

(Canadian Press)

ELYRIA, Ohio, Nov. 9.—Five workmen were instantly killed and five others seriously injured in an explosion early today, which demolished the manufacturing plant of the Time Spring Company. The blast occurred when one of the employees lighted a cigarette in a room filled with gas, according to Sam Rousted, foreman, who was one of the injured. The men killed were so badly lacerated that identification was impossible at first. The injured were painfully burned.
Motor transport in Persia is rapidly expanding.
The new Law Courts for Northern Ireland to be erected at Belfast will cost $680,000.

Ends Discomfort and Apprehension
The new message to women

There is now no reason why women should suffer apprehension and discomfort in their attempts to solve an intimate feminine problem. Kotex, the New and Improved Sanitary Napkin, is the modern protection, approved by doctors and nurses everywhere. The use of home-made pads is now unthinkable, because Kotex can be depended upon to protect in every possible way, and under every circumstance.
Kotex is amazingly comfortable. It deodorizes utterly. Its Cellucotton absorbent wadding is five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton.
Buy Kotex at any drug, dry goods or department store without embarrassment. Just ask for Kotex. Regular size 60c for box of dozen. Supervize 75c. Directions in every package.

A DELICATE SOFTNESS
1. Kotex is soft—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.
2. Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.
3. Kotex filler—is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs five times as much.
4. In Hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in leading hospitals.
5. Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a patented process.
MADE IN CANADA
KOTEX
Sanitary Napkins