ST. MARY'S CHURCH CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT—The pupils of the Runway School of St. Mary's Church gave a very interesting entertainment in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening. Ven. Archbishop White presided and welcomed every one in his usual cheery manner. The children all did well and were a credit to those who instructed them in their places. The program was as follows: Opening Chorus, Christmas Song; Piano Solo, Meryl Milligan; Recitation, Rena Key; Recitation, Marion MacDonald; Recitation, Mary Moore; Vocal Solo, Dorothy Simmons; Piano Solo, Betty Jackson; Recitation, Beatrice Vincent; Recitation, Billy Moss; Christmas Play, "Santa Comes to Supper"; Vocal Trio, Betty White, Dorcas Jackson, Diana Jackson; Recitation, Clarence Vincent; Recitation, Ruth McLean; Recitation, Douglas Downing; Piano Solo, Blanche Hogg; Vocal Solo, Helen Key; Chorus, "Holy Night." This was followed by the distribution of nuts and bags of candy from a newly trimmed Christmas Tree. The singing of the National Anthem brought the pleasant evening to a close.—
CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT IN EPWORTH HALL—A very interesting entertainment took place in the Epworth Hall on Tuesday evening, when the scholars of Trinity United Church met for their annual Christmas Tree. The children are to be complimented on the successful program of sales, recitations, dialogues, etc., which was listened to by the large audience present. The spirit of the evening was giving, not getting. Rev. Mr. Fraser in a few well chosen words, told of the great need in the West and how some children would not have much to look forward to this Christmas. This thought was also brought out in a dialogue given by the C.G.I.T. At the close of the program, the curtains were drawn, displaying a beautifully decorated tree with Santa Claus looking as jolly as ever after his hard work, ready to receive instead of give gifts. Representatives from each class carried their offerings to the platform and Santa Claus placed the envelopes on the tree, afterwards thanking them in the name of the "Giver of all good gifts." Mr. Robert Gordon presided and the Young People's Orchestra kindly gave some selections which were very much appreciated. The offerings amounted to $32.39 to be used for Home Missions.—

BELOVED PASTOR'S MEMORY RECALLED
WITH SIMPLE BUT IMPRESSIVE RITUAL BRASS TABLET UNVEILED AT GOWER ST. CHURCH HALL TO MEMORY OF REV. HAMMOND JOHNSON ON ANNIVERSARY OF HIS DEATH.
TABLET ERECTED BY ADULT BIBLE CLASS
(St. John's Nfld. Daily News)
A year ago the Rev. Hammond Johnson, for five years pastor of Gower Street United Church, passed away following a serious operation at Montreal. Yesterday afternoon a tablet to his memory was unveiled in the new Memorial Hall and a most impressive memorial service held. The tablet was erected by the members of the Adult Bible Class, to whom Mr. Johnson had ministered with conspicuous success and by whom he was held in the highest esteem and regard.

The service was presided over by Mr. Chesley Bowden, a past president and one of the original members of the class, and was very largely attended, the seating capacity of the hall being taxed to the utmost. The order of the service was as follows: Doxology, prayer by Rev. Mr. Darby, followed by Lord's Prayer; Hymn "O God our Help in Ages Past"; Psalm xc read alternately. Mr. W. White, vice president of the class, leading; chairman's remarks; solo, "Nearer My God to Thee" (M. P. Wyle); address, and unveiling of memorial, Mr. J. S. Currie, the class president; prayer, Rev. Dr. Clark; choir selection, "Abide with Me"; Hymn, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul"; announcements; hymn, "Unto the Hills arund; benediction, Rev. Dr. Fenwick.

Mr. Bowden, in his remarks, referred to the birth and growth of the bible class, and to the inspiration and help that had come from Mr. Johnson during his five years as teacher. He spoke of the love and esteem in which the deceased had been held by the members of the class and of the great work he had accomplished during his pastorate. Mr. Wyle's solo was delightfully and sympathetically rendered, and added greatly to the impressiveness of the occasion. The accompanist was Miss Tait.

Mr. Currie's address was a worthy tribute to a worthy man. Dealing first with his personal associations with Mr. Johnson, he referred to the "deceased's longing for human friendship, his desire to be something more to the people than their minister, and then passed on to his work in behalf of the young life of the church.

Declaring that Gower Street church was today mightily concerned about its young people, he attributed the "effort now being made in this direction to Mr. Johnson's vision and initiative. "The building in which we are meeting this afternoon," he said, "stands as a monument to his vision and to his desire that Gower Street should rise to its responsibilities with regard to the younger generation. Every Sunday afternoon approximately 300 young people, apart from the main Sunday School, assemble within these walls for instruction in the vital things of life. Every night it is occupied by groups of youths who are being directed to right paths. Because of the new building the primary has increased in numbers, while the membership of the Bible Class is more than double what it used to be. It was largely due to Mr. Johnson that the bible class has reached the standing it now enjoys," he continued, adding that it was a tribute to the present pastor, Rev. Dr. Clark that interest continues to be maintained. "We are fortunate indeed," said Mr. Currie, "and never cease to rejoice in our good fortune in getting such a splendid successor to Mr. Johnson as Dr. Clark has been."

Of Mr. Johnson's pastorate in Gower Street he said: "No minister in our times has been more justly beloved by the people whom he served, and no minister has been more sincerely true, more unswervingly loyal, more uniformly kind to the officials of the church and to its people, and he has left to this congregation a memory and an example,—which the humblest amongst us may treasure and strive to follow—of simplicity, courage, self denial and unselfish devotion to work, to duty, and to service. By the members of this Bible Class who knew him so intimately and so well and who profited so much from his teaching, he will ever be remembered as the best of friends and the wisest of counsellors.

Expressing his conviction that Mr. Johnson had left his work at Gower Street with regret and that his hope was that some day the call might again come to resume his labors here he continued: "But it has been ordained otherwise. God's finger has touched him and he has been called to higher service; called in the very glory of his manhood when he was best fitted to do his most effective work. He had not passed on life's highway the stone that marks the highest point, but being weary for a moment he lay down by the wayside and fell into that dreamless sleep that kisses down his eyelids still. While yet in love with life and raptured with the world and his work, he passed to silence and pathos. He is not to be measured by his years: "We live in deeds, not years; in thought, not in breaths; in feelings, not in figures on a dial. We should count time by heartthrobs." He lives most Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

BELOVED PASTOR'S MEMORY RECALLED
Judged by a standard Rev. Hammond Johnson had lived a full life, and surely has heard the "well done" of the Master. He has passed on, but the tenets of our faith teach us that he is not dead. He has passed beyond our gaze and yet speaks to us."

Concluding the speaker said: "It is beyond the power of the human mind to fathom the mysteries of God's providence and yet when the veil is drawn aside and those we love enter within and pass from sight and scene, may we not be comforted by the faith and the assurance that the ties of love and kinship are strengthened rather than lessened and Heaven becomes more near and more real because of the presence in eternity of those whom it was our privilege to love in time. After all death is transition, the large life is beyond and separation is but the gateway to happy re-union. Hammond Johnson has passed on, and has become another link with the many that already unite us to eternity. Out of love and admiration for all that he meant to us the members of this Bible Class have erected a brass tablet to his memory. This tablet bears the following inscription:—

This tablet is placed here by the Men's Bible Class in loving and grateful memory of Rev. Hammond Johnson, Pastor of this Church, 1922-27.
To whose initiative and interest in the young people the erection of this building was largely due, and it will serve as a constant reminder of the life and work of one who was a faithful servant of his Master, and who left his impress upon this congregation and particularly upon this class. At the request of the class, appreciating to the full the significance of the privilege, and with a full heart I now unveil this tablet erected as a memorial to a good man, a true friend, a beloved pastor and teacher and a worthy servant of God."

The service throughout was most impressive and will be ever remembered as a memorable occasion in the history of Gower Street Church and the Adult Bible Class.

CHELTON SCHOOL CLOSING
The semi-annual examination and concert of Chelton School was held on Monday night, December 21st, in the presence of a large number of rate payers and visitors. The school was tastefully decorated for the occasion and a heavily laden Christmas tree occupied one corner of the room. The examination of the different classes was conducted by the teacher, Miss Gladys Murphy, assisted by Miss Maria Campbell, Mrs. Earl Pearson, Mr. Leavitt Kenny and Mr. Austin Murphy, B.A. The pupils answered the different questions asked them in history, geography, and grammar and other various subjects in a very knowledgeable way,—this going to show the training they had during the last few months.

After the examination of the classes, a short program, consisting of recitations, dialogues, and songs, then the distribution of prizes.
Prize for highest standing in Grade 5, Garnett Affleck.
Prize for highest standing in Grade 3 Jr., Jean McCordie and Reta Gardner.
Prize for highest standing in Grade 2, Calvin Clark.
Prize for perfect attendance, Garnett Affleck.
Prize for deportment, Wayman Rogers.
Mr. L. U. Pearson very capably fulfilled the duties of chairman. As the candles on the tree were being lighted, Santa Claus appeared and stripped the tree of its many gifts for the pupils. After Santa departed a nicely worded address was read by Miss Pensie Richards and a gift presented to the teacher by Miss Esther Craig. Mr. Garnett Affleck and Miss Myrtle Rogers also gave the teacher prizes for their gifts, the teacher treated all present to candy. Short speeches were made by Mrs. Charles Campbell and Mr. Lewis Pearson, congratulating the teacher on the good work done during the past few months.

The programme was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

CHINESE GIRL ACTS IN FOUR LANGUAGES
NEW YORK, Dec. 31—Two jobs will be waiting for Anna May Wong across the Atlantic when she finishes the role of the half-caste Chinese girl in Edgar Wallace's "On the Spot" here in New York.
One is to tour Germany playing "Turandot" and "East is West" in German—a language of which less than three years ago she knew not one word. The other is to make two talking pictures in Poland.
Miss Wong, whose real name is Wong Liu Tsong, hopes they won't expect her to do them in Polish. For Polish looks to her like a "language in which they pick up all the letters in the alphabet and throw them at each other."

But if they want her to speak Polish in the talkies Miss Wong will make a stab at it. For her linguistic record so far is as courageous as it is unique. Two years ago last spring she left her native Hollywood where she had been in pictures, and went to Germany to do silent films. Then the talkies came. In about two months Anna May Wong learned her part in "The Flame of Love" in the German language. A husband was seeing his beloved wife off for a holiday. Ellen, dear, I said, hadn't you better take some fiction with you to while away the time? Oh, no William, she said you'll be sending me some letters.
As Johnnie's mother sealed each jar of preserves, she labelled it Gooseberry jam, put up by Mrs. Jones. Johnnie discovered the shelf, emptied one of the jars and wrote underneath the label: Put down Johnnie Jones.
