Capacity Crowd At Final Performance

Another audience which filled the Baptist Church Hall to overflowing witnessed the funniest hit of the season, "You Said It", presented by the Baptist Young People's Dramatic Club. During intermission-time Miss Mary Lawson, soprano, gave a beautiful interpretation of Cadman's "At Dawning" and "I Dream of You", as did Mr. Stirling Inman, baritone, who was heard next in "It Might As Well Be Spring" from Rodgers & Hammerstein's State Fair, and the popular "Till The End of Time" based on Chopin's Polonaise.

Miss Mary Bentley was the accompanist of the evening. Rev. I. J. Levy was chairman at this performance.

A reception was held for the cast following the showing, at which gifts were presented to Mrs. I. J. Levy and Writer Barry Bugden, R.C.N.V.R., for their splendid co-operation as directors.

Local C. W. L. Monthly Meeting

Mrs. W.J.P. McMillan, president of the Charlottetown subdivision, Catholic Women's League presided at the regular monthly meeting which was held Thursday evening, March 7th in the League rooms. The minutes of January meetings were approved as read by the secretary, Mrs. Frank Walker.

The finances of the sub-division showed that all national and diocesan obligations had been complied with, and a satisfactory balance in the bank. This statement was submitted by the treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Nicholson.

Many members are confined to their homes or in hospital as shown through the report of Miss M. E. Bradley, convener of sick visiting committee.

In reporting on guiding, Mrs. J. D. McGuigan, convener, spoke of the need of securing a larger hall for the different Guide activities.

During the week, receptionists have been provided by the C.W.L. at the T.B., X-ray Centre, and members were appointed to canvas allotted areas in the interest of this worthy movement.

Realizing the urgent need of aid to the starving children of the devastated countries of Europe, the meeting voted the sum of $20.00 toward the fund for this great humanitarian work. A further donation of $25.00 was voted toward the aid of our worthy poor of the City, this to be dispensed through the Sisters of Social Service.

The members were happy to welcome their Chaplain, Reverend Father Dougan, who paid a brief visit before the close of the meeting, despite the added pressure of duties. The Reverend Chaplain gave a timely and thought-evoking address which was highly appreciated by those present.

The anual meeting will be held in April, and a nomination committee was appointed to take charge of election of officers at that time.

NOTHING IN IT — There was no foundation in fact to a published rumour that the City Council was considering having the R.C.M.P. take over the duties of the Charlottetown Police Force, Mayor B. Earle MacDonald told a Guardian representative last night. Neither, he said, was there any truth in the story that the City was considering engaging a City manager.

CITY COUNCIL—

Coun. M.A. Farmer expressed disapproval of the practice of charging the expense of repairing the streets to capital expenditure. He thought some better method of arranging such accounts should be arrived at.

His Worship agreed with Coun. Farmer while intimating that previous Councils had considered the same question and had never succeeded in solving the problem.

The Mayor informed the Council that the plates for naming the streets had been ordered and would be affixed to the various street corners as soon as they arrived.

Coun. Farmer said he thought several items, both in revenue and expenditure could be arranged in more appropriate groups.

He stated he had had a report on the electric wiring of the Market Building and said the report indicated the advisability of considerable re-wiring and more up-to-date installation in order to to avoid a fire hazard due to old wiring.

Tax Appeal Board

There was considerable discussion concerning the appointment of a chairman for the Tax Appeal Board. Coun. N.W. Lowther said he thought the average citizen would have more assurance of the impartiality of the Board if the appointment were made by the Provincial Government rather than by the City Council.

Coun. Farmer dissented. He thought the authority of making such appointments should be vested in the City Council and that application for such legislation should be made.

Coun. F.C. Dougan agreed with Coun. Farmer. It was the practice of the Provincial Government to appoint a chairman who was approved by the City Council. He saw, therefore, no sense in giving the authority to an outside legislative body for such appointments. The same thing applied to the School Board, Coun. Dougan said. The way matters stood at present, the School Board, with or without the consent of the City Council, could issue debentures for any amount it saw fit and the City would have to bear the financial responsibility. He had complete faith in the integrity of every member on the School Board, Coun. Dougan said, but he objected to the principle involved.

At the suggestion of His Worship, the consideration of the appointment of a chairman for the Tax Appeal Board was left over for the regular meeting of the Council.

Resolutions

The following resolutions were then passed:

"That the Council apply for statutory authority to issue $20,000 Water Debentures and $10,000 Sewer Debentures as requested by the Commissioners of Sewers and Water Supply and in terms of such request." (Moved by Coun. W.R. LePage; seconded by Coun. Dougan)

"That legislation be applied for to the Provincial Legislature to amend an Act of Incorporation to substitute for the Stipendiary-Magistrate as chairman of the Board of Appeal from civic rates and taxes an appointee of the Provincial Government." (Moved by Coun. LePage; seconded by Coun. Gordon McDonald).

Couns. Farmer and Dougan moved and seconded the following amendment to the previous resolution:

"That the resolution be amended to make the appointment by the City Council."

The resolution was lost by a standing vote of four to two.

Mayor's Address

Prior to the passing of the estimates, the following address was made by Mayor MacDonald:

"Our meeting tonight, as you all know, is to pass on the estimates for the year 1946.

"I attended Wednesday evening the meeting of your Finance Committee. Your estimates were so well prepared it was not necessary to make any changes whatsoever. This certainly shows that the respective committees have given time and thought to the needs of their various departments.

"I am pleased to note that the Street Department, under Chairman Dougan, have in their estimates a sum sufficient to sand all our icy streets in winter. With the addition of the tractor to our street equipment we should now be able to keep our clay and gravel streets in good order, thus eliminating complaints from the taxpayers in regard to this particular phase of street maintenance.

"I am pleased to note that Councillor Stewart, Chairman Public Property, has a figure in his estimate to re-arrange the rest rooms in the Market. I believe the plan as prepared for this by ex-Councillor J. T. McKee will definitely be a most desirable change, and will eliminate the nuisance which we have had to contend with in this regard. The work, as you all know, will be done with City labor under the direction of our Engineer.

"Then too, the erection of a new bathing house at the end of Brighton Road is, I feel, a most necessary expenditure.

"The Fire Department, under Chairman McDonald, also have given a great deal of thought in the preparing of their estimates and while they are purchasing some new equipment it has been long needed but owing to the war has been unavailable till now.

Other Departments

"The Police Department, under Chairman Lowther, shows very careful consideration in the compiling of its estimates and bespeaks for the efficiency and appearance of our Force. The marking of the white parking lines, I believe to be a much needed improvement, and will tend to better parking.

"Councillor Noonan also has made provision for the continuation of the improved street lighting from Kent to Euston on Great George Street, thus making the main approach to the center of our City in keeping with our main streets.

"I have drawn to your attention some of the salient items which I noted in the perusal of the estimates when Councillor LePage, Chairman of Finance, and his committee analyzed them the other evening in preparation for our meeting tonight.

"I feel, that with the co-operation of all committees and with the co-operation of the employees under these respective committees, we will have a Council which, when our term has ended, will have been second to none in the managing and financing of the City of Charlottetown.

"May I suggest that now, you have prepared your estimates, do not think your work is over; only by close supervision of your particular department, and by regular meeting of your committees can you hope to give good civic government to the people who elected you to office.

"Only by adhering to the above suggestions can you hope to live within your estimates, and meet the demands the public will require of you."

Mr. and Mrs. William Ambrose Seller of Argyle Shore, P. E. Island, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter Minnie Isabel to John William Wright, son of Mrs. and the late John Wright of West St. Andrews, N. B. Marriage to take place in near future in Halifax.

World Day Of Prayer Service In Ch'town

The World Day of Prayer was held yesterday afternoon at 3.30 p.m., in St. Peter's Schoolroom with a large attendance of women from the various Protestant Churches.

The impressive service was presided over by Mrs. A.B. Cosh of St. Peter's Cathedral. "The Things that make for Peace" was the general theme, stressing the importance of a childlike spirit, a loving heart, a quiet and confident mind and an active goodwill.

In the earnest and thoughtful address by Mrs. Victor McLean of The Salvation Army, it was pointed out that God's peace may be had in a restless and troubled world.

A solo "The Voice in the Wilderness" was rendered in a most acceptable manner by Mrs. G. K. Peake.

Others who took part in the service were, Mrs. R.E. Mutch and Mrs. Lockhart of Trinity United Church; Mrs. C. W. Patterson and Mrs. George Rice of Zion Presbyterian Church; Mrs. C. H. Coles, St. Paul's Parish Church; Mrs. M. Dunbar, Central Christian Church; Mrs. Bishop, Church of Scotland; Miss Mary Irving, St. James Presbyterian Church; and Mrs. T. G. Ives, Baptist Church.

The service closed with one verse of the National Anthem and the Benediction.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 8—(CP) — The American bowling congress, the world series of the 10-pin realm, resumes here next Thursday after a three-year wartime lapse.

The singles and doubles will find record numbers of participants. In the solo event 25,567 have entered, against the 23,784 in 1942. The doubles have attracted 12,780 teams, surpassing the 11,864 of 1942.

Forty-two teams have entered from Canada, while 165 from cities and towns in the host state, New York, will take part.

Ray Milland, Joan Crawford Win Awards

HOLLYWOOD, March 8 — (CP) — Ray Milland and Joan Crawford last night were the recipients of the academy of motion picture arts and sciences' awards for the best performances of an actor and actress in 1945.

The scene was Grauman's Chinese Theatre, the audience 2,100 of Hollywood's elite. Thousands jammed the boulevard outside.

But eight miles away, Miss Crawford, whose unsung aid to the forgotten and needy of filmdom has made her a solid character in a make-believe world, danced around a sick-bed.

An attack of influenza had robbed her of the moment of glory of which every cinema actress dreams—stepping up to receive her Oscar.

They went to her home and there while Joan sniffled and cried, handed her the statuette.

"Usually," she choked, a little ruefully, "I'm ready with the wisecracks. But I can't say anything. My tears speak for me."

She won the award for her dramatic portrayal of the spurned mother in "Mildred Pierce."

The 18th announcement party was a night for veterans. Milland, Welsh-born, has been in Hollywood 13 years. And his performance as the pitiful drunk of "The Lost Week-end," sparking that picture to one of the greatest sweeps since "It Happened One Night" hit the screen in 1934.

For Paramount, "Week-end" won the selection as the best picture. For Billy Wilder it won the directorial award and a share of the palm for the best written screenplay with Charles Brackett.

Other major awards went to James Dunn for his superb job as the drunken father in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" and to the one comparative newcomer to films, Anne Revere who played a mother in "National Velvet." They were chosen for the best supporting performances of the year.

British Champ Plans Trip To U.S.

LONDON, March 8 — (CP) — Freddie Mills, British lightheavyweight boxing champion, said today that he is planning a trip to the United States where he hopes to meet Gus Lesnevich in a title bout and he is willing to help Billy Conn train for his fight with Joe Louis.

Mills said he thought such a scrap "will settle once and for all the dispute over the light-heavyweight championship of the world."

Now weighing 189 pounds, Mills spent the last year in India, touring with Al Robinson, a British heavyweight, and giving exhibitions at hospitals, convalescent homes and football fields.

G-O-L-F

By BYRON NELSON

Pine Valley, which was written in a national magazine recently is located in Flemington, N. J. It is considered the most difficult golf course in the world. The reason it has that reputation is that the margin of error there is so great.

For instance, suppose a player slices his tee shot. On an ordinary course such a mistake would not penalize a player more than one stroke, but at Pine Valley it could very easily cost him two or three strokes instead of one.

I am all for playing championship tournaments on real championship courses. In fact, I'd like to play all our tournaments on such courses because I think they favor the superior player, particularly, if he is on his game.

Last summer I was inivted, along with Sam Snead, Gene Sarazen and Harold McSpaden to play 72 holes at Oakmont outside of Pittsburgh in what was called "The Big Four" Match. Oakmont is another course with a reputation for being difficult and the last time I played there prior to "The Big Four" Match was in the United States Open of 1935 which Sam Parks won with a 299. My score was 315 and I finished 30th, so you won't find me listed in the record book under that event.

Since then I have read a great deal about how difficult Oakmont was for that Open. The sports writers said the same things about the course following the 1927 Open there when Tommy Armour beat Harry Cooper in a playoff after they were tied with 301 at the end of the regulation 72 holes.

Personally, I don't favor furrowing traps. It's difficult enough to get out of the sanded traps and requires a shot of skill. I don't think playing out of a raked trap requires any greater skill.

That reminds me of a story they tell about Ted Ray, of the British Ryder Cup team, when they played at Oakmont in 1927. Ted, one of the greatest players Britain ever produced ,hit his tee shot down the right side of the fairway. He thought he had lost his ball, but a spectator pointed it out to him in a trap. "I see it now," said Ted as he walked over to his ball. "It's in Row No. 7."

I certainly enjoyed playing Oakmont last summer. My winning score of 295 was 20 strokes better than my 315 there ten years before. That figures five strokes a round improvement, two strokes a year, and I was playing badly. O. B. Keeler, the great Atlanta golf writer and Bobby Jones' Boswell, points out in the March issue of True Magazine that my putting score, round for round, for those 72 holes at Oakmont was 30, 29, 28 and 34 for a total of 121 putts as compared to putting par of 144. Keeler says I saved myself 23 strokes, or almost six strokes a round, on those greens, but I still don't think I putted too well and would like to be invited back for another crack at that course.

I think Oakmont is one of the greatest golf courses in the world. It has such a great natural layout that it is not necessary to add to its difficulty for special tournaments such as the Open, etc.

Another story which came out of that 1927 Open at Oakmont was told over and over again. When somebody asked Walter Hagen if the Oakmont greens were fast he is supposed to have said, "They're so fast the ball starts rolling on your backswing."

Pine Valley, Oakmont, Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and the National Golf Links are a few of the courses I would like to play championships on. And, while I am on this subject, let me say that I think that Canterbury and the other courses the USGA have selected for their Open Championships are more than fair as tests of golfing ability.

The National Golf Club in Augusta, Ga., Pinehurst's No. 2 Course in North Carolina, the Riviera in Los Angeles and the Olympic Club course in San Francisco are a few of the courses we play during the Winter Tour which I enjoy. They're courses that require every shot in the bag. They not only call for skillful shot-making, but skillful planning and playing as each hole is designed individually for championship play and presents a different problem.

Johnny Beazley's Sore Arm Worries St. Louis Cards

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 8 — (AP) — Johnny Beazley's sore arm is causing more concern around the St. Louis Cardinal camp than the holdout of third baseman Whitey Kurowski — and, until he signed yesterday, the holdout jitters that shortstop Marty Marion germinated.

The lean righthander who was the outstanding pitcher in the Birds' 1942 world series upset of New York Yankees hasn't been able to throw hard all spring. Despite constant treatment and exercise under the warm sun, there has been little change for the better.

"It all happened in a service game in 1944 just before I went overseas," Beazley said. "They flew me down about 200 miles to pitch and it was pretty chilly. While I was throwing I felt something snap and I've had a little catch in my arm ever since.

"I've had all kinds of X-rays taken and they don't show a thing. There's nothing wrong with the bone. I just can't throw hard and I don't mind telling you I'm getting discouraged."

Manager Eddie Dyer shares Beazley's concern although he is a little more optimistic and hopes the soreness will work itself out in the remaining six weeks before the season opens.

B.I.S. Monthly Meeting Held

Leo Dowling Jr., and James McAleer were initiated as members of the Benevolent Irish Society at its regular monthly meeting last night. President J.W. Hogan presided.

The following chairmen gave reports of their committees: T. Flynn for the Hall Committee; J.J. Connolly for the Post War Committee; W.W. McCarron for the Social Committee; C. Corrigan for the Property Committee; and W. McKenna gave a report of the social evening held on March 4 for the members and their wives.

President Hogan gave a detailed statement of the preparations which had been made for the St. Patrick's play, "Cinderella Reilly." He informed the members that the best specialties obtainable had been secured so that there would not be a dull moment from beginning to end of the entertainment.

Leo Dowling announced W.J. Smith and James McGuigan would be assistant marshalls at the parade, Sunday morning, March 17. The parade, he said, would form at 11 o'clock and would proceed to St. Dunstan's Basilica.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

BRITISH MARKET—

Canadian produced foods will go, is occupying much time and thought of the food industries.

Cattle-raising areas of Canada and centres of the leather-tanning industry are gravely concerned about the restriction placed by the British Government on imported Canadian hides.

Leather Restrictions

"At the present time," states a leading Toronto tanner in a written appeal to the Canadian Government, "one of the things that is most exercising the sole leather tanners, is the very rigid restrictions on the importation of sole leather into the United Kingdom on a quota based on the imports of 1936-38, and made specific as to each company and not allowing substitution.

"The total amount permitted under the current 50 per cent quota is about $118,500 per year. This is because sole leather prices were unattractive in England in the base period.

"In times past, very substantial quantities of over 1,500,000 pounds of Canadian sole leather have been sold in England in a single year. If a million and a half pounds were sold this year, the net result to Canadian export trade figures would be a little short of $750,000.

"It is felt," the appeal concludes, "that there is a serious inconsistency between granting a generous loan to the United Kingdom, discussing free trade, and then strangling that trade by import quotas."

Sir Wilfred Eady, head of the United Kingdom delegation which negotiated the Canadian loan, said before leaving for Britain that he could not specify what Britain would buy from Canada or what import regulations might be relaxed or rescinded. The great bulk of the Canadian credits, he said, would be used for the purchase of food products in Canada.

Beyond this statement, he would not commit the United Kingdom either to allow free entry of processed food products or of manufactured goods. That, said Sir Wilfred, was a matter of trade and did not come within his special province which was negotiation of the loan.

The Markets At A Glance

CHICAGO, March 8 —(A P)— Deferred wheat futures contracts skidded almost two cents a bushel at times today for the broadest setback in several months as selling pressure increased.

Rallying tendencies were feeble most of the time under weight of the most general liquidation since last fall.

WINNIPEG, March 8 —(CP)— Rye futures prices displayed a more regular trend in the coarse grains market of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Selling appeared near mid-session prompted by weakness of Chicago and May fell 2 1-4 cents, closing at 2.34 bid. July slumped the full five cent limit to 2.22 asked, while October showed a little strength on buying by American concerns.

NEW YORK, March 8 —(AP)— Liquors, motors and "blue chips" specialties today led the stock market on another slow-going recovery jaunt.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .6 of a point at 75.

Canadian stocks showed strength with Hiram Walker up 1-2, and Distillers Seagram up 2. Canadian Pacific was up 1-4. Lake Shore on the curb slipped 1-8.

Eastman Kodak lifted 9 1-2 points to 24, Allied Chemical 4 to 197 and Du Pont 3 to 190.

MONTREAL, March 8 —(CP)— Utilities expanded their current activity on the stock exchange and curb market today and went to a new nine-year high in the indices. Among the other pivotal papers, industrials and banks were higher on average and golds slipped. Junior mines were mixed.

TORONTO, March 8 —(CP)— The Toronto stock market recorded a considerable advance today while trading in comparatively light volume. Base Metals added .85, the golds, .27 and the western oils .03.

Chemical research came in for a buying spurt and the price touched 1.25. It then eased back to 1.14 to show a net gain of 39 cents. One of the Western Oils, Roxana, changed hands in heavy volume on an advance of 9 cents to close at 1.55.

Eldona had a run up in the final 10 minutes to net a gain of 3 cents at 1.21. Other gold gainers on good volume were God's Lake, Hard Rock, Hasaga, Joliet, Kirkland Lake, Starratt and Teck Hughes.
