ON Tuesday and Friday evenings of this week La Barre Bros., minstrels will give a performance in the Opera House. The following taken from the Warsaw News speaks for itself. Eddie LaBarre and his minstrels gave a grand good performance at the City Hall last evening, and those who neglected to attend missed a treat, for the company is certainly the best offering of the season. We have sat through a long tiresome first party, our eyes gazing on beautiful draperies and jeweled costumes that are advertised as $10,000.00 court, scenes and dressings. We have paid our good money to see these grand offerings. We must say it is beautiful, but outside of the scenery we see nothing startling, but not so last evening, for there were not grand scenic surroundings but there was a neatly dressed lot of musicians, singers and comedians, all attired in tennis costumes, and the quality was there, for each and every member was equal to the bit we were called on to participate in, their ability and the quality of their offerings needed no dazzling scenery and jewels to support or back them up. Each and every number was artistically rendered, the singing good, the end men funny, the jokes newly discovered, the music fine, and the entire first part went off with a snap and vim that has seldom been equaled in this city in the line of minstrelsy. The Olio comprised a number of very clever specialties, and Eddie LaBarre and partner sent us away in good humor. We must congratulate them on their offering and should wish them much success. Good things should succeed, and good shows are good things. Come again boys, you are ever welcome and this evening is seconded by each and every one of the audience that saw your entertainment.
