SCHOOL GARDENERS.—City School Gardeners are earnestly requested to meet at their garden, Victoria Park Thursday evening at 6.45 p. m. for the purpose of cleaning up their plots and making any arrangements necessary for keeping them in good condition till harvesting. Some of the plots have been well kept and are looking well; but others are not. Come on pupils; at least show Mr. McLarty you appreciate the help and time he is giving us. Come out to the garden this evening and "talk it over," even if you do not care to work. Let everyone be present at the Park this evening at 6.45. Be patriotic. Come. By order of Committee.

PRESENTATION TO REV. FRED. M. CLAY

Monday evening friends to the number of over a hundred met in the M. E. Church at Montague and presented Mr. Clay with a very fine fishing outfit, consisting of a very valuable rod, fish basket, flies and an expensive reel, and all that goes to make an up-to-date outfit. The presentation was made by Mr. Neilson who said in part: That while Mr. Clay had been fishing for men the past two weeks in Montague he had not only caught them but won his way into their hearts and this fishing outfit was only a small measure of appreciation of their love and esteem for the man who had done so much for them. All the Ministers in the town were present and took part in the service.

Mr. Clay is now resting at the beautiful home of his cousin, Mr. C. B. Clay, Bridgetown where he will be for ten days.

SHOOTING SEASON

Sportsmen are reminded that the season for shooting ducks opens on September 1st. A reward is offered by the Fish and Game Association for information which will lead to the conviction of parties found guilty of shooting out of season. The Sheriffs of the three counties have been appointed by the government to act in conjunction with the Fish and Game Association in the matter of enforcing the law. 4024.

IN MEMORIAM

DAISY PATRICIA SHERRY

At Fernwood on August 10 there passed peacefully away to her eternal reward, Daisy Patricia Sherry, daughter of James and Mrs. Sherry at the early age of 16 years. At 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon her soul took its flight to her God, in perfect and loving trust of a heavenly immortality. The deceased was of a gentle and affectionate disposition, beloved by all with whom she came in contact. During her illness, which she bore with Christian resignation to the Divine Will, she was attended by her pastor, Rev. A. J. McIntyre of Seven Mile Bay; and died solaced by the last rites of her holy church. On Sunday August 12, a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives followed her remains to the Roman Catholic Cemetery at North Carleton, where all that was mortal of little Daisy was laid to rest beside her sister, who predeceased her by two years. The pall bearers were: Louis Sherry, Emmet Ranshan, Cyril McFarlane, Wilfrid Henderson, Wilfrid Hammill and Fred Murray. The funeral service was performed by the Rev. A. J. McIntyre. May her soul rest in peace.

MARGARET DALTON

On Monday, July 30th, the home of John Dalton of Lot 7 was saddened by a visit from the Angel of Death who waited to the Great Beyond the angelic soul of little Margaret, their beloved daughter at the early age of ten years.

Margaret was a favorite with every one because of her winsome manner, but it is at home she will most be missed for her childish laughter and merry prattle were as rays of sunshine in the home circle.

Little Margaret will indeed be sadly missed but there is consolation in the remembrance of His words who saved the little ones and said, "suffer for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Her funeral took place to St. Mark's Church Lot 7 on Tuesday morning July 31st at 9 o'clock the pastor Rev. S. J. McDonald officiated. The pall bearers were: Harry Thompson, E. McGregor, John Smith, Wm. Dalton. She leaves to mourn besides her disconsolate father and mother, two sisters, namely Charlotte and Gertrude and one brother Merrill. Rest in peace.

JOHN JAMES McDUGALL

A sad gloom was cast over Corran Bann and surrounding country when it became known that John James McDougall had met death by drowning. "James" as he was familiarly known, was a great favorite with all who knew him being of a kind and loveable disposition and sober and industrious. On Saturday morning his remains were taken to St. Michael's Church, followed by a large concourse of people where a Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Murphy, after which all that was mortal of him was taken to the adjoining cemetery and gently laid in its last resting place, there to await the day when all will be called to judgment. He leaves behind his grief stricken father and mother two brothers to mourn the loss of a dutiful son and loving brother whom all join in sympathy. The pallbearers were Messrs Daniel McIntyre, Warren Gibbs, Aeneas McDonald, Garfield Clow, James McNabb and Lester Keiver. (Other papers please copy)

"No more we'll hear thy pleasant voice, nor see Thy noble form for now it lies beneath The silent ground, but once again we hope To meet thee where sorrows are unknown."
