THE TORTURED OF RHEUMATISM

Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-Lives"

Ottawa, Ont., June 1, P. Q.

"For a year, I suffered with rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again. One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-Lives" the great fruit medicine, and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until they were gone. The rheumatism left me. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-Lives Limited, Ottawa.

GOOD SHOOTING.—The following dialogue on "sharp-shooting" took place between an Australian and a Canadian picket:

"Well, can you fellows shoot?"

"Well, I reckon we can, some."

"In our country we can knock a bumble-bee off a thistle-blow at three hundred yards." "Oh, that ain't nothing to the way we shoot up in our village. I belonged to a company there, and we went out for practice every week. The captain draws us up in single file and sets a barrel rolling downhill and each man takes his shot at the bumble-bee as it turns up. It is afterwards examined, and if there is a shot that didn't go into the bumble-bee the member who missed it is expelled. I have belonged to the company ten years, and there isn't been nobody expelled yet."

THE R. C. R.—The Royal Canadian Regiment which for years stationed at Halifax and last year was transferred to Montreal is now on account of a lack of prospective recruits being placed at three places. Headquarters and two companies go to London, Ont., one company to Halifax and one company to Toronto.

IMPERIAL CHAPLAINS.—A recent Army Council order states that in the Colonies, Ceylon, etc. The correct mode of address for an Army Chaplain will be "the Rev. Mr. Chaplain of the Forces" or in conversation "Mr. —". This order of course does not apply to Chaplains of the Overseas Dominions.

TRANSFERRED.—Colonel A. H. Borden, Assistant Adjutant and Quartermaster-General of Military District No. 6, Halifax, and formerly officer commanding the 5th Overseas Battalion has been transferred to Winnipeg. It is understood he will leave to take over his new duties about 1st September. Colonel Borden has many friends here who will regret his departure. Colonel Borden has had a long military career and has our best wishes for his further advancement in his chosen profession.

MILITARY HISTORY.—(Continued from last issue.) The weakness of the old militia system was in its rendering. In some provinces it was to bear arms on a Sunday day a year, and there was no other training even in the matter of rifle shooting. In other provinces, such as Nova Scotia, a better state of things prevailed, but the general weak rendering of an otherwise perfect and efficient system for Canada caused efforts to be made to create an active militia, which should have more training. This appears to have been the object of the partial change effected by the Act of 1846, and of the epoch making Act of 1855. The latter Act was the easy, broad road to destruction. The parting of the ways, instead of strengthening and improving the strenuous and fair system which had saved the country, they commenced the slide down into the greasy and debilitating morass of voluntarism.

The Act of 1846 was the thin end of the wedge. Its most noticeable features are the introduction of the classification of the old "universal service" militia and the authorization of "volunteer" companies. While the universal annual enrollment was retained, the men of 40 and over were formed into a second class, which was to be drawn upon only in war time. The first class was to be drawn upon for a military force raised for six months, the period of service to be two years. Only one day's training was still the extent of the service required. The Act of 1855 brought about a departure from the old "patriotic service" form of military organization in Canada, and contemplated the raising of some 5,000 men to form corps d'élite among the militia and the retention of the old "universal service." Two "divisions" of militia were now recognized, the "sedentary" and the "active" or "volunteer." The members of the active or volunteer force were to provide their uniforms and clothing free, but they were to receive pay for a specific number of days' drill in the year. In 1859 the volunteer for six months were ordered to drill with pay of a dollar a day. In the early sixties, schools of military instruction in connection with the regulars then in Canada were established, with $50,000 certificates of qualification in a 56 days' course. In all, more than 6,000 certificates were thus obtained. In 1865 the volunteer militia was ordered 16 days' drill at 50 cents a day (to be continued in next issue.)

FIRE ALARM.—The firemen were again called out last evening for a supposed fire at the League of the Cross Hall on Dorchester Street. It was a false alarm.

SCHOOL REOPENS.—The new school at the head was opened August 23rd. Miss Lauretta Whelan a former teacher being engaged to teach for the present school year.

SEARCH FOR INTOXICANTS.—The police yesterday raided a house at the Eastern end of the city where intoxicants were supposed to be stored. The search failed to reveal the presence of the prohibited article.

CALEDONIAN CLUB.—A meeting of the Caledonian Club was held last evening in connection with the preliminaries to the Scottish Gathering being held today. The visiting pipers and other guests from the country were entertained and a very enjoyable time was spent.

AUTO ACCIDENT.—An elderly lady while crossing the street from Patterson's to Crabbe's Corner yesterday afternoon was struck by an automobile driven by a young lady. The car was proceeding slowly at the time. The woman received some what of a shock but fortunately was not seriously injured.

A BAND CONCERT.—AT LAST.—An enjoyable musical treat was given in Queen Square gardens last evening by the four pipers and four drummers who will take part in the Scottish Gathering today. An exhibition of step dancing also furnished much enjoyment to the highly appreciative crowd who assembled.

POLICE COURT.—At yesterday's session of the Police Court the $20 bail bonds of the two seamen of the S.S. Scotia, who had been drunk and disorderly in Victoria Park on Sunday night were forfeited. The case of a man who had a misunderstanding with his wife was adjourned until Friday, as was also an abusive language case. One drunk was dismissed.

PRICES WEAKENING.—Local consumers will be interested in the shock hit from the St. John Telegraph of yesterday: Retail merchants in the city dropped the price of sugar two cents a pound yesterday and were offering that precious commodity at twenty-five and twenty-four cents per pound. The case of a man who generally been regarded as philanthropist and yet some of them must belong to that class. The wholesale grocers quoted sugar at unchinked rates yesterday. They were offering sugar for $24.10 per hundred pounds. The refineries gave their rates as twenty-four cents per pound for sugar in whole sale quantities. All this notwithstanding there was at least one grocer who offered to sell a 100 pound bag of sugar at $22. Another grocer fixed his price for the same sized bag at $24.50. The grocers are preparing for a drop in prices and are more anxious about the situation than the wholesalers and refineries appear to be.

The 1914-15 medal was given those who arrived in France prior to December 31, 1915; while the Mons Star was given to those who were awarded only to officers and men who served in France during the autumn of 1914. Only one Canadian unit, that of No. 3 Stationary Hospital commanded by Lieut.-Col. A. T. Shillington, of Ottawa, received the medal in time to become entitled to this award.

As the Canadian Corps operated for the most part as a unit in the great war, it is probable that there will be many who will be entitled to all clasps authorized.

LOS ANGELES TIMES.

(With the American Woolen Mill Company shutting down its industries and the Pennsylvania discharging 10,000 of its employees there is a feeling of deep unrest in the business world. "Those who are going out to strike for a dollar an hour may not have a job at the finish. The man who sticks to his knitting and spends less than he earns may not have much to worry about, but the man who does his thinking through the added brain of an agitator before he gets it has stormy days ahead.

OTTAWA SHOOT.—The Dominion shoot took place at Rockcliffe Range, Ottawa, last week. No rifleman from this province attended the shoot. We trust that this state of affairs will not happen again. It is understood that this trip is now a very expensive one, and it is to be hoped that by next year some scheme will be devised by which the Island will at least be represented by a few true and good shots. We suggest that a large association by the Government of the Province. We have always believed the Lee-Enfield rifle to be among the best, and we are pleased to see that after the third days shooting at Ottawa, that the press reports state that the Lee-Enfield as a rifle is gaining ground as it is bound to do when the scores made demonstrate what fine shooting can be done." Since writing the above we learn that Mr. E. G. Love has gone to the shoot. He is a good or sport. We wish him the best of good luck.

CANON SCOTT.—Word has been received that the Rev. Canon Scott who was the Senior Chaplain of the 1st Canadian Division in France, will deliver an address at Charlottetown on Tuesday the 7th September under the auspices of The Great War Veterans' Association.

LABOUR WANTED.—The Superintendent of the Island Railway wants 100 men to lay tracks between Sackville and Moncton, N. B. at 40 cents per hour. For additional information apply to Superintendent Grady, 55 to Mr. H. R. Stewart at G. W. V. A. Home.

AMERICAN DESERTERS.—Definite information is received from the War Department of the United States Government will publish an early date the names of 178,911 men who are listed as having fled their country in the hour of peril during the Great War. The records have them down as having "wilfully failed." This is a huge army of deserters. It is understood the names will be arranged, or grouped, in localities and that the Government will proceed to administer justice.

The rounding up of the deserters will be a man hunt, in the like of which the world has never known in any country in the world. The War Department, it is officially stated, will not pursue a policy of "unjustifiable leniency" in dealing with

BELOW STRENGTH.—Boston Transcript: The increase in the number of army enlistments is particularly welcome in view of the shortage that now exists in army personnel. The army is many thousands short of its maximum peace strength, and the maximum peace strength provides no greater number of troops than are needed in the event of a large scale protection of American rights and interests. The American Continent, as well as Europe and Asia, has its troubled and unsettled areas. As long as such conditions prevail beyond our borders, it behooves the United States to maintain its regular army to the full strength authorized by law.

Germany's giant Zeppelin L-71, surrendered in terms of the Peace treaty has been brought over to England. Built for the bombing of New York, this giant airship is said to be capable of remaining in the air for a fortnight and has a lifting capacity of 71 tons.

Transport of troops by airplane is in sight. A machine now being built in Britain is said to be much larger than any now flying. It is largely experimental, the idea being to ascertain how a small complete force, including light artillery can be transported by air. Twelve 900 horse power machines designed for construction next winter would carry 48 tons over 70 miles an hour. The world do move.

THE WAR AWARDS.—Details of the award of clasps to war medals issued to Canadian soldiers are practically completed and while no definite announcement has yet been made, in all probability those who participated in the following engagements will be entitled to a clasp for each: Second battle of Ypres, Festubert, Givenchy, the Somme, Vimy, Lens, Passchendaele and Amiens. In addition it is probable that other outstanding battles wherein Canadians distinguished themselves will be named as eligible to a clasp.

To the General Service Medals, which is for all troops of the British Empire who went overseas, the clasps which are attached. This medal is granted to those who served under fire. The Allied medal is awarded only to those who saw active service on a fighting front.

In a recent issue comments as follows concerning Canada's leading life insurance company:—

"Nothing too good can be said of the LONDON LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY because of the high character of its managerial policy. It has interpreted its duty to the public as an unconditional obligation to look after their interests. The result is seen in the dividends declared this year to the policyholders. These dividends are far beyond the amount originally promised to the public."

IN MEMORIAM

EX-PTE JOHN J. CURRIE.

There passed away very suddenly at Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax, August 19, 1920, Ex-Pte John J. Currie, aged 33 years and five months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Currie, of Cumberland, P. E. I. He was one of our brave men who gave his life for freedom and liberty having enlisted in the 13th Highland Battalion and crossed to France with the 13th Highland Battalion and in June 29th, 1917, was wounded severely in the right thigh from which he never fully recovered. After a year spent in hospitals in France and England, he returned to his home and spent some time in the Convalescent Home in Charlottetown, then was sent to the hospital in Halifax where he underwent a number of operations.

The deceased spent a few days at his home last Christmas and sent his brother a letter a week before he died saying he was coming home to spend two weeks with them. But God saw otherwise and his spirit returned to Him who gave it. The remains were interred to his home in Cumberland and the funeral was held on August 6th and was one of the largest ever seen in that vicinity.

Deceased was of a kind and loving disposition and though he suffered severely, he was never heard to complain or murmur. The funeral service was very impressive and was conducted by Rev. G. C. Taylor who spoke very comforting words to the bereaved and briefly laid to rest in New Dominion Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Seymour Murphy, Martin McDonald, Kenney Taylor, Reuben McKinnon, the McIsaac, Norman McDonald. There are left to mourn besides the sorrowing parents two brothers Albert in Chinoak, Alberta, and Robert at home. Two sisters, Mrs. Albert Murdoch in U. S. A., and Mary who was in the United States and arrived home a few hours too late to see her brother's remains. The Guardian extends its sincere sympathy to all the bereaved ones.
