LANTERN LECTURE—The lantern lecture "Somewhere in France today," by Mr. Will R. Bird, soldier author, given in St. Peter's Cathedral Hall last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number present. The lecturer dealt with the scenes of the war from Mons to Vimy, showing some as they actually were during war time, and others illustrating the tremendous contrast thirteen years later. In yesterday's Guardian a more extended report of the lecture as delivered in Summerside, was given. Major T. Edgar MacNutt acted as chairman last evening, and at the close of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Colonel G. Elliot Full and seconded by Colonel W. C. Cook, was tendered the speaker.

SUPREME COURT AT SUMMERSIDE

The Supreme Court at Summerside yesterday opened at 11 a.m.

The first case was that of the Crown vs. Samuel Cannon Jr., an indictment for stealing $110 from the person of Davis Baker.

E. H. Strong, K. C., and W. Henry Noonan for the Crown, C. D. McCallum and F. Lowell Compton for the defence.

The following jury was empanelled: Charles G. Dunn, foreman; Birchfield Yeo, Edward Ramsay, Harold Jelly, Wilfred Lecky, Talmadge Montgomery, Archibald Henry, George Palmer, Archibald Sharp, William Mountain, Lester Gay, Sinclair McKay.

Mr. Noonan opened the case for the Crown, and the following witnesses for the prosecution were examined: Davis Baker, Melvin Winchester, John F. Kane and Joseph B. Linkletter. A statement in writing signed by the accused was taken in evidence by the Crown. The defence argued that it was not admissible. The court overruled the objection and admitted the statement. The Crown called its case. Mr. C. D. McCallum moved to quash the indictment, but the motion was refused. Court adjourned until 10.30 this morning when the defence will be heard. S.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open for the discussion by correspondents of questions of interest. The Charlottetown Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinions of correspondents.

YOUTHS AT PLAY

Sir,—As one of the idle youths of this city I would like to reply to a few statements in "Workman's" letter in the Guardian of the 7th inst. He finds fault with "boys of 14, 15 or 16 years playing on the streets with wheels and balls," instead of being at work. Mr. "Workman" may not know that boys of these ages are attending school five days of the week where they are trying to avoid the charge of being a "dull boy." A white collar to him seems to indicate idleness where in reality it indicates cleanliness and starch. And as for his "modern social renaissance," it will apparently be brought about by a universal return to overalls and straw hats. Furthermore, most boys would only be too glad to get work of some kind outside of school hours, but if all the youths of 14, 15 or 16 in Charlottetown were put to work as Mr. "Workman" demands, the unemployment situation both for him and his equals might be much worse than it is at present. I am Sir, etc., A SCHOOLBOY.

Finance Minister Rhodes Speaks Optimistically

OTTAWA, June 8.—(By The Canadian Press)—When the financial history of the past two years is written, it will disclose a record which Canadians can look upon with pride. Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, informed the Canadian Manufacturers Association here tonight. "We have met all our obligations, both domestic and foreign, without undue strain," asserted Mr. Rhodes. "Our banks and great financial institutions have been more than equal to all reasonable demands made upon them. Our national credit stands high, and we can today marshal as strong forces to meet every possible test as we could one year ago, notwithstanding the fact that, in the period which lies immediately behind us, Canada was confronted with, and successfully met and overcame a number of very real problems of more than ordinary magnitude." Mr. Rhodes was the speaker at the banquet of the Association which concluded its 61st annual general meeting here. The meeting has been in progress during three days. It brought together delegates from 11 parts of Canada. The speech of the Finance Minister was strongly optimistic. He declared that Canada had every occasion to look to the future with confidence. Touching on the Imperial Conference next month Mr. Rhodes agreed with the statement made to the Association by its past President that "We should not expect miracles." "We should have, nevertheless," he proceeded, "full faith that a benefit can accrue to each component part and to the empire as a whole. The measure of its success will be the degree to which its discussions are approached from the point of view that there can be no advantage which is not mutual." He expressed the "fervent hope" that in making representations to the government the Association would keep this fact in mind. "During this period of excessive depression—reason is apt to give way to fear, and the atmosphere to be charged and surcharged with dire rumors and evil forebodings," the Finance Minister stated at the outset. Under such circumstances it required courage and cool-headedness to maintain one's sense of proportion. Therefore, without attempting to minimize difficulties it was well to keep in mind those factors which made for encouragement and held out every hope for the future of Canada. In this connection, said Mr. Rhodes, it was impossible to avoid quoting a few figures. OTTAWA, June 8.—High confidence in Great Britain and her return to stability in the midst of present world wide economic conditions was expressed here today by Sir, William Clarke. The British understanding of the countries' respective positions, but that final settlement of differences arising from the Free State Government's plan to abolish the Parliamentary oath of allegiance to the King was still far off.

BRUTAL

She critically injured his daughter, Marie, who had the combination of the bank safe. Marie and her father lived over the bank which is managed by her brother, Eugene.

Narrow Escape

The bank funds remained untouched when Marie, after receiving a beating from the robbers, slipped away from them in the darkness and hid in a clothes closet until the men, apparently thinking she had gone to secure aid, fled.

Mr. Bernard was awakened early in the morning by an invasion of his bedroom. Disregarding orders to get up and help the men secure bank funds, he attempted to grapple with them but was struck down, mortally injured. His death occurred about two hours later. Attracted by the noise Miss Bernard entered the room and was seized by the throat. She attempted to struggle but was hit and forced to accompany the men downstairs where she eluded them in the darkness.

Chief detective Lemire with six officers reached the scene shortly afterwards. The presence of a can of gasoline in the basement led to the suspicion that the deaths of both father and daughter and the destruction of the building by fire may have been intended. If this was correct the sudden flight of the men prevented its execution.

The town itself was hurriedly searched by police and citizens who also scoured the nearby countryside, unsuccessfully.

France Sound Financially Says Minister

(Canadian Press)

QUEBEC, June 8.—Due to the national policy of moderation in industrial expansion, France will weather the financial situation better than any other nation, Hon. C. A. Henry, French Minister to Canada, said on his arrival here today. With Madame Henry he returned aboard the Empress of Australia from a visit to his native country.

French industry has never been allowed to its full capacity, the French minister said, and business men there have always made sure of maintaining safe reserves.

"Of course the depression, and I do not think it has yet reached the turning point, is being felt in France as in other countries," M. Henry said, "but due to this industrial policy there is comparatively little unemployment and misery in my country today. He stated that general economical and national conditions in both France and Italy did not seem to be much below normal.

While the mass meeting was going on, Chile's new Socialist Government pressed ahead with preparations to deal with the nation's outstanding problems. It was announced that a plan was under

What a figure... but what a skin!!

By Julia Foster*

So much beauty wasted by failure to heed a few words of expert advice! Tragic!

WHY "tragic"? Because there are so many cases just like hers. Because no one needs to have an unsightly skin. You don't. Your complexion can be kept lovely, youthful.

Beauty experts tell how: Simply, twice a day, apply to face and throat a generous lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Work well into the pores with your hands. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water, and finish with a cold rinse. Hot water should never touch your face. After this, in the morning, your make-up. At night, if your skin is dry, follow with oil or tissue cream. For this foundation cleansing, more than 20,000 beauty experts have specified Palmolive.

High Commissioner to Canada

was addressing the Canadian Manufacturers Association at a luncheon.

"Confidence," Sir William declared, "is now very much here and is being displayed through the ordinary channels of banking and finance: and indeed the problem which faces our authorities, so far as the capital items in our expenditure are concerned, is less to protect the pound than to prevent or neutralize an excessive influx of funds from abroad which might prove embarrassing later on. Bank rate has been reduced by successive and rapid stages to two and one half per cent and may still go lower.

Then there had been a certain improvement in employment and trade in Great Britain, he asserted. Again there was the effect of the tariff in stimulating trade.

Briefly referring to the Imperial Economic Conference, the High Commissioner observed: "You are business men accustomed to make and sell and buy. You know from your own experience that a one-sided deal is a bad deal in the long run and is no foundation for a secure and lasting expansion of trade. That is just as true between governments and countries as between corporations or individuals or firms. If that is fully recognized, as I believe it will be, then the Imperial Conference will attain the outstanding success which we all hope to see. And no body of men can exercise a greater influence to that end than those whom I see before me."

the building and appeared to have had an early start, being prevented, only by the prompt action of the firemen, from destroying the entire building. After an hour's strenuous work the fire was eventually subdued, the all-out signal being rung at 7.45.

A great deal of damage was caused by smoke and water. The cause of the fire is unknown, but spontaneous combustion, or defective wiring are suggested causes as the floor where the fire started was untenanted.

The Tanton Bros., owners of the the shop, had stock in the store estimated at $2,500; equipment estimated at $1,500, all of which is seriously damaged. They have insurance of about $1,000 covering the loss.

The Island Stores, run by Mr. Elmer Dunning, suffered heavy damages from smoke and water, especially in the store-room, at rear of store. Mr. Dunning estimates his loss at between $1,200 or $1,500 which is partly covered by insurance. Despite his unfortunate loss Mr. Dunning hopes to be open for business tomorrow.

The cleaning and pressing shop run by Mr. George Cudmore, perhaps, suffered the least damage. Smoke was the chief element in causing damage in this part of the building. Mr. Cudmore was fortunate in saving all clothing which was in his store at time.

The fox-pelting and fur cleaning shop of Bourke and Lund, on the second storey, above the Island Stores also suffered considerable damage from smoke and water.

The building itself, owned by Mr. L. P. Tanton, was insured for about $1,500. The estimated loss on the building is placed at approximately $2,000.
