CHELTON FOLK GIVE SURPRISE PARTY

A most enjoyable evening was spent at Chelton on Thursday, March 23rd, when the Women's Institute along with their invited friends invaded the hospitable nome of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Schurman in the form of a surprise party in honor of their daughter, Jean, for some time a member of the C.W.A.C. stationed at Aldershot. Previous to joining up Jean had taught for a time in the home school. Later she resigned to enter the civil service at Ottawa in which capacity she served for two years, eventually joining up with the C.W.A.C. so that her home coming for a short holiday was taken advantage of by her friends back home as an occasion for honoring one of their patriotic young ladies. During the evening various games were indulged in by the visiting friends, the most popular being crokinole which by the way has become the community weekly winter game. During the course of the evening the gathering was called to order by Mr. Louis Pear who after a few remarks explaining the nature of the occasion called on Miss Reta Gardiner, who read a nicely worded address accompanied with a presentation of a beautiful leather writing set. Although taken completely by surprise Jean proved equal to the occasion and in her usual charming manner smilingly thanked the friends for their kindly worded address and the lovely gift and assuring them that wherever she might be sent or wherever she may go, the memories of tonight would be a constant companion ever reminding her of the dear old friends back home. This was followed by singing for She's a Jolly Good Fellow, when all went back to the games. Soon hot tea like Gramma used to make and a neatly attired lunch appeared on the scene, so tasty and in such abundance that the players forgot all about their boards. Then came the smokes and general conversation. When at length the party broke up, mostly in pairs, they winded their way homeward after wishing Jean lots of future health, friends, happiness and promotions.

One Mad Night in Charlottetown

Unbelievable, you say; yet, Charlottetown will shortly experience "One Mad Night" and "Mad" is the only word which adequately describes it.

This surprising play, (you never know what's coming next), is well into rehearsal, and promises to be one of the best performances, amateur, or professional, which has been staged in Charlottetown in many years.

The Plot is a secret, which it would be a shame to tell. It must be seen unfolding, line by line and action by action, to be fully appreciated, as appreciated, it is sure to be. Surprise follows surprise. Thrill follows thrill. Laugh follows laugh. Or, perhaps I should say, that laughter is continuous. After several rehearsals, the actors themselves, cannot refrain from laughing at the lines and action in this rip roaring Farce Comedy. The plot has everything to be desired in a comedy; romance, adventure, suspense, comedy, thrills, surprises and laughs, laughs, LAUGHS.

The cast is made up of experienced, amateur actresses and actors, most of whom are familiar to Charlottetown audiences. Each member is cast in the part, best suited to her or him with surprisingly, good results.

The play is under the capable direction of Mrs. Barbara Roper, C.D.A., whose work in this capacity, has long been recognized in Charlottetown, as being the best, and particularly as applied to Farce Comedies, such as "One Mad Night."

In conclusion, let me say, that if you want good, wholesome entertainment, or a sure cure for the Blues, or just a good, hearty laugh, you won't miss seeing one of the performances of "One Mad Night" when it is staged in the Prince Edward Theatre on Easter Monday, afternoon and evening.

"Drama" Throws Dagwood Into Acting Frenzy

You guessed it! Blondie gets stagestruck and Dagwood is her hero! What talent . . . what emotion . . . what applause!

The play's the thing . . . and Dagwood is in it . . . up to his neck! When the Bumsteads take their bumps before the foothights . . . it's the greatest Blondie show on earth!

In two words . . . dee-lightful describes "Footlight Glamour" which opens today at the Capitol Theatre, featuring Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms and Marjorie Ann Mutchie as the balmy Bumsteads. And they're hilarious when they go all out for serious "drama." Lovely Ann Savage is the "glamour" girl who makes Blondie and Dagwood "footlight" crazy. Jonathan Hale, Danny Mummert, Daisy and all the other lovable "Blondie" players are back again, in this funniest of all Blondie hits.

Federal Aid Urged in Senate For Education

OTTAWA, March 31 — (CP) — Dominion Government assistance to the provinces to enable increased expenditures on education was urged today from both sides of the Senate Chamber.

Senator John Haig (PC — Manitoba) who introduced the subject, suggested that the upper house investigate the whole subject of education and provide a national program. In his plea for federal assistance to the Provinces he won support from Senator P. R. Dutremblay (L — Quebec) and Senator J. A. Calder (PC — Saskatchewan).

Education became a topic of senate discussion when a second reading was given a bill to amend the technical education act to enable Manitoba to take advantage of its provisions.

Senator Haig said teachers were one of the most underpaid groups in Canada. The Dominion gave financial aid to the provinces to improve the quality of livestock and to provide adequate transportation. It was even more important that proper education be provided.

Senator Calder, speaking from experience as a school inspector in Western Canada and as a former Saskatchewan Minister of Education, said he considered one of the fundamental weaknesses of the Canadian Educational system was that teachers of small rural schools were not adequately equipped for the work and were underpaid.

Senator Dutremblay spoke in support of a motion of Senator Eli Beauregard (L — Quebec) calling for study by the Senate of Legislation to safeguard the economic life of the provinces in the post-war period.

Victory is Keynote of Hit Picture

Victory!

That, in a word, is the keynote of "Guadalcanal Diary," 20th Century-Fox's picturization of Richard Tregaskis' best-selling book, which comes to-day to the screen of the Prince Edward Theatre! For "Guadalcanal Diary" is the film story of America's opening offensive against the Japs — when they first swallowed defeat and we first tasted Victory!

20th Century-Fox has faithfully followed in line and detail Tregaskis' sensational best-seller. It has entrusted the portrayal of its characters to an outstanding cast headed by Preston Foster, Lloyd Nolan, William Bendix, Richard Conte and Anthony Quinn, and including Richard Jaekel, Roy Roberts, Minor Watson, Ralph Byrd, Lionel Strander, Reed Hadley and John Archer. With his inspired direction of the stirring film, Lewis Seiler has cut a new niche for himself among Hollywood's directors, while Bryan Foy has given the film a lavish production.

In outline, "Guadalcanal Diary" is the saga of the campaign against the Japs' strongholds at Guadalcanal and Tulagi that maned the first land offensive in the war against the Japs. But most of all it is the story of the men behin dthe guns—heroes all, and all great guys — and of Victory.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Pte. J. W. Ferland [illegible] who died Overseas on April 3rd, 1943.

We were not there to say good-bye dear J.
We cannot even view your resting place,
But in our hearts there flameth every day
The memory of your cheerful, smiling face.

You kissed us all, and went dear with the crowd
We daily hoped and prayed that you'd return,
Instead, you sleep within a foreign shroud
But the torch of love will ever, ever burn.

We would like to strew flowers dear J.
On your grave far over the deep,
But we know it is beyond reach today,
And our sad broken hearts sorely weep.

Sadly Missed by Father, Mother, Sisters and Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear father Robert Cudmore, who passed away April 3, 1942.

I am sad within my memory
Lonely is my heart to-day
For the one I loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.
I think of him in silence
No eye can see me weep
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.

Ever Remembered by His Daughter Mrs. Ivan Curley and Family.

Bill Will Enable Halifax To Tax C. N. R. Property

HALIFAX, March 31 — (CP) — A bill enabling the City of Halifax to impose a business tax on the Canadian National Railways was given final reading in the Nova Scotia Legislature today.

However, it was considered unlikely the C.N.R. would accept the legislation without first taking the matter before the courts should the city attempt to collect the tax.

Mines Minister L. D. Currie who is also chairman of the Private Bills Committee, forecast the legislation might even reach the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in London, the highest court of appeal in the British Commonwealth.

The bill passed the House Private Bills Committee with minor amendments, made at the request of the city solicitor Carl P. Bethune. One provided that should the C.N.R be declared an agent of the Crown, not taxable in ownership of property even that would not prevent the railroad being taxed as occupying, using, managing or operating the property as a business and thus becoming liable to a business tax.

Halifax Presses For Right to Tax C.N.R. Property

Halifax, March 30 —(CP)—Clashes between representatives of the C. N. R. and the City of Halifax marked a hearing before the legislature's private and local bills committee into a Halifax bill to tax C.N.R. property in this city.

H.C. Friel of Moncton, N.B., regional counsel for the road, suggested that, if the bill passed and the C.N.R. and to pay a $50,000 tax to Halifax, it might be "the normal thing" to reduce the C.N.R.'S $91,000 grant to the province to that extent.

City solicitor C.P. Bethune said this "threat" did not worry Halifax. "If we can get the $250,000 the C.N.R would have to pay, we will gladly give up the $3,000 or $4,000 we get of that $91,000," he said.

Mr. Friel denied he had made any threat. He had merely asked if it would not be the logical move should it appear that the railroad was being "mulcted" by municipalities.

The city solicitor, declaring he took strong objection to the word, said the city was not trying to mulct anyone but to obtain what was rightly due it.

At present, C.N.R. property here is tax-exempt, Bethune told the committee the railway pays "very substantial taxes" to municipalities in other parts of Canada. The city of Saint John, N.B., is attempting also to obtain the right to tax the C. N. R.

The railroad counsel opposed the bill on the grounds it violated the British North America Act and federal and provincial agreements whereby the C.N.R. was considered a government institution and not subject to taxation.

Women Scientists Aloft With R. A. F.

LONDON, March 30 — (CP) — Women workers form one-sixth of the large body of scientists which is the research group attached to bomber, fighter and coastal commands of the R.A.F. as well as to the Admiralty, and the War Office.

Their work includes tests, observation and research problems connected with tanks, guns, aircraft, explosive, radio and radiolocation.

If the problems they are tackling can be colved only by flying in operational aircraft, then they are taken on flights. Women have accompanied bomber and coastal reconnaissance craft to study the operation of radio installations for the detection of U-boats as well as to make ballistic tests.

Women physicists are on duty during air raids over London to observe the working of ack-ack defense as well as the properties of new explosives dropped on the city. They also conduct examinations of both damaged British and enemy planes.

Would Make N. S. Dairy Industry Public Utility

HALIFAX, March 31 — (CP) — The production and distribution of milk and the manuiacture of its products including butter would become a public utility in Nova Scotia under government legislation introduced in the Legislature today by Agriculture Minister J. A. McDonald.

The measure, which would place the industry under complete regulation of the Public Utilities Board, follows representations by the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association to have creameries placed under control of the province's Dairy Arbitration Board, which already regulates milk prices in certain areas.

Effect of the legislation, it appeared would be to remove the need for the Dairy Board, since Mr. McDonald said the Utilities Board would be given power to fix prices of milk and all its products and control processing and distribution from cow to consumer.

The new bill was introduced before the House had received a report from its Agriculture Committee, which last week heard representations for placing creameries under control of the Dairy Arbitration Board. The committee heard charges that some creameries were operating illegally by producing more than the approved amount of butter from a given amount of butter fat

McNair Looks For Election This Year

FREDERICTON, March 31 — (CP) — A general provincial election in New Brunswick this year "cannot reasonably be deferred," Premier J. B. McNair said today in an address concluding the budget debate in the Legislature.

Opinion that the "real issue in the coming election" would be "Toryism versus Liberalism" was expressed by Mr. McNair, who added, "the classic struggle between Toryism and Liberalism, a centuries old conflict, never ceases. It is still in existence in this country. I feel that it is due to become intensified shortly."

Premier McNaid said. "It must be remembered that our electoral laws expressly provide that a legislature shall continue for a period not exceeding five years and two months from the date of the election writs. The writs which are the basis of our present service here were issued on Oct. 26, 1939. The statutory period expires on Christmas Day next, at which time also ends our mandate as legislators."
