The Niobe sails from this port this morning at 9.15 and will not be likely to return to Ch'town for about a year. The annual gun test will be held on the 7th or 8th of July and the ship will at once proceed to Quebec. In preparation for this the new gun crews, who have been working on the small guns for the past two weeks, will today begin work on the six inch guns for the first time. Although yesterday was the third Sunday the Niobe was in port, large numbers visited the ship and received the same courteous attention that has marked the hospitality of her officers and crew since she arrived here. All have made a decidedly favorable impression, are a gentlemanly lot of men and much regret will be felt on her departure. Her presence here has enlivened the city and the assistance so promptly offered and readily given by her staff and crew at public and private functions has lent an added interest to many events. This is true to such an extent that her return will be eagerly anticipated by the large number of Charlottetown friends of all on board the flagship of Canada's Navy.

The loss of $1.50 and an accusation of theft is said to have been responsible for a disturbance on Saturday evening at Crabbe's corner in which two men participated. The arrival of the police reminded the would be combatents of their civil obligations and they desisted from the use of the firsts, a climax which was just being arrived at when the bluecoats intruded.

The ball at Government House on Friday evening given in honor of Dominion Day and of the first visit of Canada's flagship, was a notable social event. The lawn and trees were lighted with Chinese lanterns. The interior decorations of red, white and blue and maple leaves were very artistic and pleasing. The rich uniforms of the officers of H. M. C. S. Niobe and of the German war ship Bremen together with those of the military officers lent a varied and attractive coloring. The guests enjoyed themselves to the full, dancing to the excellent music of the Fourth Regiment Band till all too soon the hour of one o'clock brought the ball to its close. The attendance of guests was very large and the evening's festivity was admirable in the completeness with which it was carried out in every detail.
