FOXMEN

Here are facts to ponder when deciding on your Fall Feed. At the last three Live Fox Shows held on Prince Edward Island 1350 foxes, the cream of the Island were exhibited. Out of 147 1st prizes awarded, 73 were exclusively SUNGLO fed, and 42 part SUNGLO fed foxes, or 115 out of 147 1st prize foxes received SUNGLO fox feeds. Out of 483 top placings ranging from 1st to 5th placing, 225 foxes were EXCLUSIVELY SUNGLO FED. 145 more were partly SUNGLO fed or 370 out of 483 Top Placing winners were part or all SUNGLO feeds, as their commercial feed diet. Out of 96 Champions, Reserve Champions, Grand and Reserve Grand Champions 49 were EXCLUSIVELY SUNGLO FED, with 19 more part SUNGLO fed, thus SUNGLO feeds in competition with all other fox feeds combined produced over 50 per cent of Top Placings and Top Awards at the last three Live Fox Shows on Prince Edward Island.

TIMELY NOTES ON TOPICS CONNECTED WITH Silver Fox Farming

The Canadian Fur Auction Sales have made known their sales dates for the 1945-1946 season as follows: 1945—December 5th, ranch mink; December 17th, mink and silver fox; 1946 — general sales of furs, January 22nd; February 20th March 12th, April 29th; June 17th and September 9th.

Our friend George Lilly has handed us a copy of the Michigan Fur News—a news letter from the Michigan Fur Breeders' Association, Milford, Michigan, dated October 14th, 1945. It is really an invitation to attend the big Michigan-Ohio International Fox and Mink Show to be held at Grand Rapids, Michigan, November 26th to 29th, 1945. The invitation states that what the committee is afraid of is that so many friends will attend now that gas rationing is ended that unless arrangements are made early they will not be able to put them up properly, although they have one of the largest hotels in the United States, it will be packed full for this big show. There is an attractive photo of Elsie E. Cherry, Golden, Colorado, with one of her champion pearl platinums on the cover. Not only is the pearl platinum a magnificent specimen but Elsie is quite charming too. The combination of good foxes and nice personality made Elsie the leader of the pearl platinums at last year's show.

Other photos are of Bert Avery, Golden, Colorado, holding champion standard, Paul L. Reinhart, Burlington, Wisconsin exhibiting glacier blue, Heimboch and Hudson of Big Rapids Michigan, holding their pearl platinum champions, Dr. M.R. Howard, Denver, Colorado, holding white face platinum pup, also pictures of the judges which include George H. Mayers, Manager Lampson, Fraser & Huth, New York. The show veterinarians, one of whom is Dr. W.E. Russell, Kitchener, Ontario, a splendid exhibit of white faces on the table, numerous mink cuts and full particulars regarding the show. They certainly must have had a good photographer present last year and the good pictures he made are a splendid ad for all time.

From now on the whole talk will be shows, fox and mink. This week there is a show in Alberta, (Nov. 6-7-8) and the following week, Nov. 12 to 15th at Saskatoon, and also the Ontario fox show at Brampton which will be judged by George A. Callbeck. The following week, the 19th to 23rd, there will be the New Brunswick show and the Prince Edward Island shows. We have not heard of the Quebec show dates but no doubt there will be one for that province.

The Prie List for the Provincial Fox Show was ready on Wednesday and if you have not received your copy in the mail a postcard directed to Walter R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Charlottetown, will bring one pronto. Walter is advising all attending exhibitors that a cheque with the blanket number of entries which the exhibitor wishes to make must be in his hands on or before November 15th so that he can allocate space. The apparent enthusiasm which is evidenced all over the province for this show makes it possible that the entry list will exceed the accommodation which is 500. In that case each exhibitor will be required to cut down on his allotment. The greatest number of foxes that can be shown by any one exhibitor is 40 and if a cut is made it will be pro rata.

Fur auction sales will be held in Finland October 2nd and 3rd when a collection of silver fox and farm bred mink skins carried over from the winter of 1944 will be offered. This will be followed by an auction sale on December 17th to 20th when the first shipment of fresh skins from the new production of this year will be offered. There will also be auction sales of foxes and mink in Denmark, Norway and Sweden but it is expected that the majority of the Norwegian and Swedish pelts will be sent to the London markets, although barter arrangements are being made with various European countries with the probability that these will take up a goodly percentage of the production and carry-over from last year.

We note where the annual meeting of the Foot Hills Club was held at MacLeod, Alberta, on August 15. A discussion took place on various matters connected with fur farming and officers were appointed. Mr. H. J. Montgomery, Wetaskawin, Vice-President Alberta Fur Breeders' Association, addressed the meeting. Arrangements were made for a Field Day in November at MacLeod. Mr. Montgomery is a native of Bedeque, P. E. I., and his fox farm is one of the best in western Canada.

It is pleasing to note that our friend Jimmie Milligan of the old reliable ranch firm of Milligan and Morrison, has a fine turnout of foxes this year. Jimmie has made steady progress, improving his herds, going out and purchasing some of the best foxes available. This spirit of enterprise surely deserves reward and we are glad to know that it has achieved it.

One of the most attractive ads that we see in the fur journals is a collection of pelts from the ranch of George A. Callbeck, Summerside, which is featured by Purina Fox Chow. Although Mr. Callbeck sells a number of his tops for breeders yet each of the past three years the remainder pelted have taken for him the aggregate score trophy at the P.E.I. Pelt Show. In 1945 he had one grand champion, two reserve grand champions, three champions, five reserve champions, 21 firsts and 16 seconds—a really remarkable showing.

The summary of September sale of Canadian Fur Auction Co., Montreal, as compared with the June sale, 1945, put out by the Marketing Service Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, shows that there were 437 specials offered among the total of 18,910 skins. This was 2% and they averaged $75.67, a decline of 9%. There were 1,530 white marked, which was 8% of the total offering; 76% were sold at an average of $41.43, a decline of 30%; selected fulls were 456 in number, about 2% of the offering; 65% of these were sold at $42.51 each, a decline of 25%; regular fulls were 3,062, 16%; they were 59% sold at an average of $28.80, decline 22%; there were 1,592 one-half tot hree-quarter pelts. These were 65% sold at $24.21, a decline of 19%. Inferiors numbered nearly 52% of the offering and amounted to 9,835 pelts. These were 64% sold at an average of $19.54, a decline of 10%; low grades were 1,998, 53% sold, average $5.82, decline 35%. The approximate decline was 25% for the total offering as compared with the June sale. The June sale was a particularly good one, considerably up from previous sales, in fact we consider the June sale was one of the best of the whole year. Comments from the Marketing Service in conection with the above sale states: "The collection was really poor as you will note by the attached analysis of offering. A considerable number of pelts are being shipped to the British market and it looks as though we will have no carry-over this season."

From an exchange we note that the fur trade in Denmark is rapidly becoming active again following the departure of the German armies. No less than 500 new fox farms have been established in Denmark. They will breed silver fox and mink. Prior to the German invasion Denmark had comparatively few fur farms. Communication with the Danish colony in Greenland has been re-established and ships are now sailing between Danish and Greenland ports. It is expected that eventually the blues and white faces from Greenland will be available to the fur trade. The Scandia Fur Corporation has exported furs to South America for the past few years and but recently it received shipments of squirrel and blue fox from Sweden.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of The Mink Book, Second Edition, by Robert G. Hodgson, Editor Fur Trade Journal of Canada and author of several books on fur farming. This volume is cloth bound and consists of 284 pages with many fine illustrations. It contains a wealth of information on mink, history of their breeding, description of proper setups for ranching, diseases of mink, feed formulas, does and dont's in handling mink, numerous illustrations of the best type of pen and ranch, information on pelting, in fact it is a complete compendium of information on mink and anyone in this province or elsewhere who reads these notes and is engaged in the production of mink or has any idea of going into it, should secure from the Fur Trade Journal of Canada, Toronto, Ontario, a copy of The Mink Book.

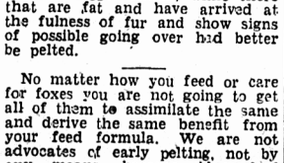
Pelting time will soon be here, in fact there are some types of foxes that would be better pelted right away. These are ones that exhibit slight signs of rustiness on the sides or the darker types which are well furred and not likely to increase in value. There are a certain number of blacks and poor silvers that form part of thel itters of the newer types. These will gain very little in value by being held until December. All foxes should be looked over right away if it has not been done before and those that are thin but show promise of improvement should be given a bigger ration, while those that are fat and have arrived at the fulness of fur and show signs of possible going over had better be pelted.

No matter how you feed or care for foxes you are not going to get all of them to assimilate the same and derive the same benefit from your feed formula. We are not advocates of early pelting, not by any means, because blue-pelted foxes invariably go flat and unless sold very shortly after pelting deteriorate as they are kept, but as we mentioned at the start there are certain foxes which will not improve and these might as well be gotten rid of now. Our own opinion is that foxes are furring up pretty well this year and that we may be able to pelt a bit earlier than previous seasons, but by no means take this as our recommendation to slash into your herd and jeopardize some of your fine high grade pelts by acting too hastily.

FORT QU'APPELLE, Sask., Nov. 6 — A deal providing for the sale of 50 white-face foxes from A K McNeill's platinum Fox ranch, Fort Qu'Appelle, to the Fromm Brothers, Hamburg, Wisconsin, has been completed.

These will be used for breeding purposes at the internationally known Fromm ranches. The white-faced foxes are a distinctly Saskatchewan breed and particularly hardy, Mr. McNeill said.

At the Fromm ranches, 35,000 silver foxes, 5,000 Arctic foxes and 20,000 mutation mink are processed into garments each season. It requires $4,000 worth of horse meat per day to feed the animals on the Fromm farms.



Raw Furs

I am buying daily all kinds of furs, such as Mink, Muskrat, Fox, etc., at full market value.

My office will be open as usual on Saturday nights from seven until nine o'clock for accommodation of trappers.

DAZZLING NEWCOMER

One of the most exotic newcomers to Ottawa's diplomatic row is blonde, chic, Mme. Martha Leguizamon-Pondal, wife of the new Argentine ambassador to Canada. A fashion enthusiast, she designs her own clothes and her couturiere in Buenos Aires made up her wardrobe from her own sketches and suggestions. A glimpse at this wardrobe promises a dashing addition to the capital's first postwar social season. The capital will see much of Mme. Leguizamon Pondal's hats, for she likes nothing but a tall, exclusive model. She wears a large hat of green cock feathers as naturally and as unaffectedly as a schoolgirl wears a beret. Clever craftsmanship went into the working of beads, sequins and pearls.

WOMAN COACH

Constance M. K. Applebee, 72-year old Englishwoman who introduced field hockey to the United States in 1901, vows she's going to teach the game as long as I hold together"". Winding up the 25th season at her hockey camp in the Pocono mountains, Miss Applebee estimated she has taught close to 8,000 players there in the last quarter century. After a visit to Lima, Pa., "the Apple" as she is called by her girls, will begin a tour of girls' eastern colleges—including Vassar, Smith, Russell Sage and Sweet Briar—to teach the game. Miss Applebee had a negative answer to a question whether she thought American women would be able to defeat British women when next they met. Here's why: "We will not be able to beat the English until we develop more clubs here. In England there are about 2,000 hockey clubs. They have a longer season. I was sorry to see that the Americans let hockey go down during the war."

To Those Convalescing After Severe Illness

After many severe illnesses or serious operations the patient is very often left in an extremely weak nervous, run-down condition.

To all those convalescents who need some kind of a tonic to stimulate and build up the weakened system, we would recommend Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills to assist them back to health—happiness again.

These pills help supply elements necessary to assist the convalescent in bringing back bodily strength and vigour.

Price 50c a box, 65 pills, at all drug counters.

Look for our registered trade mark a "Red Heart" on the package.

Try This—Now!

Many sufferers who have tested out numerous liniments will agree that where something is needed to dislodge a deep-seated condition, few remedies compare with Nerviline. It's because Nerviline's soothing powers penetrate so deeply, because it has several times the strength of ordinary low-quality preparations, it has come to be known by many as King over pain. For Rheumatic conditions, muscular and joint stiffness, Nerviline works quickly and efficiently in bringing relief—a test will prove that its analgesic powers are very great. A trial usually proves Nerviline is a very efficient liniment; it does relieve many muscular pains in a short time. Get a 35c bottle from your dealer to-day.
