MINERS AND THEIR EMPLOYERS SEEKING AN AGREEMENT

A CONFERENCE PROBABLE.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22.—(Special)—Samuel Gompers was re-elected President of the American Federation of Labor without opposition.

MASKED BANDITS ROB A TRAIN.

FRASER, M. P. AT BOSTON.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—A ringing speech from Dancon C. Fraser, member of the Canadian Parliament from Guysboro County, N. S., upon annexation and reciprocity was an incident of moment to the members of the Maritime Provincial Club at its banquet tonight.

"There is no thought in the people of Canada that we want to be annexed to the United States," he said. "Only a few ever thought that way and there are none who think so now. This America is big enough for two mighty nations. Canada however would like reciprocity."

THE CARE OF THE FEET

is important. The pain and annoyance of Chills, Tender Feet, Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing nails, etc., may be quickly relieved and cured by bathing well in warm water, dry well and apply thoroughly Fendrick's White Liniment. Try it and see.

Although George A. Slater, is a brother and a few years ago was a partner of the Slater Shoe Co.

We don't want George A. Slater's Invictus Shoes confounded with the Slater Shoe Co.

George A. Slater is the practical leather and shoe man—he understands the qualities of leathers, this is most important in making shoes—Hence his shoes according to customers and our own opinion are the best wearers and fitters produced in Canada.

DEATH OF HERR KRUPP OF ESSEN

Whose Father Founded Germany's Big Industry

FROM SMALL BEGINNINGS

Grew a Vast Enterprise in Steel, Gun-making and Mining Employing 100,000 Men.

SUDDEN DEATH OF HERR KRUPP.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—(Special)—Herr Krupp the greatest gunmaker and richest man in Germany, died suddenly at Essen on Saturday.

FOUNDER OF A VAST INDUSTRY.

Herr Krupp was the son and successor of Alfred Krupp, the founder of the greatest of European industrial enterprises.

The elder Krupp was born at Essen, Prussia, in 1812 and died in 1887.

FROM SMALL BEGINNINGS.

In 1848 he obtained control of an iron forge employing three men, which had been founded by his father at Essen. He introduced the Bessemer steel process into Germany, was the first German manufacturer to make use of the steam forging hammer, and took a leading part in the German iron and steel industry and the manufacture of cannon. He left at his death an establishment employing 20,000 men.

A GERMAN CARNEGIE.

Herr Krupp, his son, now deceased, greatly extended the vast industry to which he succeeded, acquired extensive mines, and in his widespread enterprises gave employment to an army of about 100,000 workpeople. The Carnegie of Germany, he became possessed of vast wealth, and with his father did more than any other man to give the Fatherland its present advanced position among the manufacturing nations.

THOUSANDS KILLED IN GUATEMALA.

Refugees Give Awful Details of Damage By Eruptions—For Miles the Country Reported to be a Burning Wilderness—Bands of Robbers Murder and Plunder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The first of the refugees from the devastated lands of Guatemala arrived to-day on the Pacific Mail steamship City of Paris. They came from the districts from the inland sea, and travelled over a country laid waste by sand, ashes, and pumice before reaching a railway station.

From the latter places they made the journey by rail to Champerico, and there took the steamship to San Francisco. They sailed on Nov. 7, when the volcano was still smoking, and rumbling of thunder and flashes of lightning gave evidence of more eruptions to come. Those people fled from their plantations in fear for their lives. They escaped to the seaside with little more than the clothing they wore, transportation being so difficult as to preclude carrying of baggage.

The refugees confirm stories of the loss of life. They say that the victims for the most part are Indians. They had not heard of any white people being lost. Thousands of Indians were asphyxiated or buried in the sand. Miles of plantations are under ashes, and absolute ruin is the lot of many planters, whose all was invested in the fields, (coffee plantations.) Gen. Batillo and his family are safe.

The refugees say that it is not the crater of Santa Maria that is in action, but a smaller mountain rising from one of the western slopes of Santa Maria, called El Fosalte.

Bands of robbers are now swarming the desolated sections, robbing and murdering refugees on the road and looting the abandoned and desolate plantations.

The people left behind on the plantations, it is said, are in danger of death from starvation, for the food supply has been cut off, and there is no way to send supplies to the afflicted districts.

The City of Paris met evidence of the volcanic eruption soon after leaving Ocosingo. Great quantities of pumice were found floating on the water. When the vessel came off the coast of Guatemala the shore was seen to be covered with light ashes. At Champerico there was about half an inch of ashes over the roofs of the houses and the ground was covered as by a snow-storm.

Ashes were then falling, although it was sixteen days after the first eruption of the mountain. During the night of Nov. 6 a few hours before the City of Paris sailed out of the port, loud rumblings of the earth were heard and heavy reports of distant thunder came from the direction of the volcano.

Word had been received from Masatenango on the outskirts of the ruined territory, that there, Friday Oct. 25, at about 5 o'clock in the evening, Santa Maria opened a crater on the west side, near its base, and not far from Helvetia, and all that night it belched forth volumes of ashes and lava over Toluca. It was noted on Saturday morning that several more craters in the neighborhood of that mountain had opened up, and all were spouting volcanic debris over the plantations of the district.

These new craters were further to the west and for more than twenty-four hours they were in constant eruption, shaking down buildings and causing much destruction. Many of the plantations were buried under from five to seven feet of debris, and all hope of ever reclaiming them had been given up. The entire neighborhood for miles was a burning wilderness.

At Masatenango, on the south side of the volcano, only ashes had fallen, and not to such a great depth that it was not possible to save some of the plantation property. News from that town said that hundreds of refugees were collecting there and many more were pushing on to places further away from the volcano, fearing further destruction from it. Many of the refugees were without bread or shelter and their condition was pitiful.

At that place most of the buildings had been badly damaged, if not completely destroyed, by the fierce earthquakes that accompanied the eruptions of the volcano. When the last word came from Masatenango, fifteen days after the first eruption, the earth had been in constant trembling.
