Prince County: W. B. McLean, J. A. Thompson, J. N. A. Gallant.

At a directors' meeting following the annual meeting, Mr. J. R. Munro was re-elected president and Mr. J. McGillivray was re-elected vice-president.

A discussion on the ways and means of enforcing measures designed to bring about a higher standard of sanitary conditions in the hen houses of the members of the Egg Circles resulted in the nomination of a committee to bring in a resolution in this regard.

Mr. F. M. Nash, Poultry Promoter, advocated the removal of male birds from the flocks in early summer, as soon as the mating season is over.

The leaving of the males with the flocks in this province, he stated, affected the quality of one million and a quarter eggs each year.

Mr. G. W. Campbell inquired if there is any particular price for the grade of eggs known as "Specials."

In answer to the inquiry, Mr. J. J. Leightizer stated that "Specials" are a grade of eggs put up by the Association itself, not a commercial grade, classified by the Government.

In reply to an inquiry regarding the great difference in price between "Extras" and "Seconds," Mr. Leightizer stated that the spread in price is governed by the supply and demand.

In early summer when the market is well supplied, people purchase the eggs of high quality, "Extras," and consequently the price of "Seconds" is low.

In the Fall, however, the difference in price is usually much less.

Afternoon Session

Premier Lea, the speaker of the afternoon, in opening his address, outlined in general, the present economic conditions, stressing the fact that while the price of farm commodities is very low, the price of farm machinery and necessities of life is relatively high.

was introduced by Premier Lea, and seconded by Mr. E. S. Norton. The Premier stated that even if the railway lost money, the production would be stimulated and Canada would thus gain.

The opinion was expressed that more dressed poultry could be shipped through the Association, and that it might be well to make it compulsory for members to ship their poultry through the organization.

Mr. Leightizer thought that it would be better to await the further development of this industry before taking such a step.

Mr. Leightizer in his concluding remarks, stressed the danger of outside competition with Island eggs. Quality is now the chief requisite, and the established reputation of Island eggs is slipping.

The suggestion was made that a round table conference of egg collectors be held with the management and directors of the Association.

SWINE

may not look black, there is a prospect of a great increase in the hog population of Canada during the next year. Canadian packers have hoped from the expected situation to regain the former position enjoyed by Canada on the British market.

There is a resolution drafted to come up on the encouragement of the industry in the Maritimes. One item which affects the hog population of the Island is the annual hog sale.

The sale of last Fall was undoubtedly the best ever held. The top price of all sales was realized, $100 being paid for the first boar. Twelve animals out of thirty-seven were sold to other provinces of the Maritimes.

The sale seems to be a matter of consequence to the industry, and is an institution here to stay. It is a distributing centre for all parts of the Province, and marked improvements have resulted. Buyers can have confidence in the purchases which they make at the sale, as the animals have been passed on by a competent judge.

The Federal Department has now what is known as the R. O. P. in swine. The idea has been adopted by the Experimental Farm, the Falconwood Farm and several prominent breeders. At the Provincial Exhibition, there is not the accommodation for swine that there should be, when the importance of the industry is considered.

The practice of butchering hogs and selling them dressed tests severely the co-operative policy at this season of the year. There has been of late a marked decline in the patronage of the shipping club, the organization responsible for the stability of hog prices during the last year.

Co-operative Marketing

Mr. H. S. Arkell, of the Canadian Live Stock Co-operative Association, stated in opening his address that he has studied co-operative marketing in Denmark and Great Britain, and is in a position at last, to speak according to his convictions.

The successful sale of products marks the success of any industry. The farmer prefers to sell his own product himself. The principle of "horse trading," of individual sale, is no good in modern business. The strengths of capital and labour lie in union or co-operation. It is well to learn from those examples. Prince Edward Island is regarded by the remainder of Canada as a place "sold" to co-operation.

Still the manner of selling live stock is not as it should be. The grading of hogs and the co-operative marketing of hogs have brought about a continuity of price level. In 1930 when all other commodities slumped the hog prices were far above the level of the others, proportionately. If the Island was exporting hogs now the price would be about six cents a pound. Denmark is receiving low prices on the British market, while the prices in Canada have been sustained. Canadian markets are paying more than the export market would pay, a remarkable development. A price level was maintained by the co-operative organization by the movement of hogs from places where there was a surplus to places where there was a shortage. Conditions are changing. Every farmer with a sow in Western Canada has had the animal bred. The same is true of Eastern Canada. The speaker believed that as a result of the increased number of sows bred, there will be a surplus of hogs for export.

During the last few years, there was a shortage of supply, but next Fall, there will be no duplication. Organization to meet the situation when it comes would seem to be reasonable. Co-operation is the only solution.

A half-hearted belief in co-operative marketing is not sufficient, Mr. Arkell said. A co-operative marketing system is necessary in all times, especially. But if the system is to exist in all times, it must also be supported in good times. There must be a complete control of marketing, no little dribbling away, if the programme is to be successful. There must be loyal support of the principle. A shipping manager should be practically boss in his own area. He should feel himself responsible, not only to himself and his community, but also to the organization. The success of the business is dependent on the efficiency of the organization.

Mr. R. M. Elliott, Manager of the Marketing Board, Moncton, who next addressed the meeting, stated that at the annual meeting of the Maritime organization union with the Dominion body was accomplished. The selling of feeds was also undertaken, and this business has exceeded all expectations. The national body is composed of the boards existing in each province. Mr. Elliott gave an example of the manner in which the Maritime Board is able to maintain prices at a satisfactory level. Prices in the hog market were last year, relatively high. The general impression is that this year, hogs will be very plentiful.

The lamb market last year was bad, he stated, and but for the organization, might have been worse. In Maritime cities, the demand for lamb is very good and prices are as high as could be obtained in Montreal. A rumor, circulated last year that there was to be a reduction in price of two cents on pork lambs, was contrary to fact. Last year a considerable quantity of veal was sold. The quality of this commodity is most important.

Our sale was on the whole successful. Some might think that the prices realized were not high enough but considering that 1930 has been the hardest year since the war I think you can all agree that we realized well on our consignment. Some of our purchasers, we are sorry to say, had bad luck with their pregnant cows aborting. No doubt much of this can be attributed to auto-trucks as they are a poor means of transporting cows when not properly fitted up. Just the best way of disposing of our surplus stock co-operatively needs the very careful consideration of our directors and the hearty co-operation on the part of the members of our club.

The Department of Agriculture made a good sale of bulls to the government of Newfoundland. We hope that this club will work in hearty co-operation with our local government in sending good stuff and make this an annual sale.

The Amherst Winter Fair gave prizes for county herds toward which this club gave its share. I would ask you to consider this carefully to see if it is worthy of our contribution. Judging by the number of Ayrshire calf clubs that were organized this year it is evident that Ayrshires are the popular breed.

We are sorry this year to lose our representative on the Directorate Board Mr. Major McRae. He served us to the best of his ability and we hope that Mr. Blanchard will prove as good a success. I will at this point refer to a letter of appreciation which I received from him thanking all members on the Island who voted for him.

I attended the Amherst Winter Fair. The Island's entries were very small and I might also say the same of our local exhibition at Charlottetown. We, as breeders, in future should try for the sake of advertising our breed, make a larger showing at those fairs.

We have been given by the Provincial and federal governments, two very competent, efficient, and practical live stock representatives, and I can't speak too highly of those gentlemen for when I wished to have anything done for the club they have both given their time freely and willingly. My sincere wish is that our club will continue to have their respect and confidence.

We have with us today some, who in the near future, will be, I hope, our outstanding Ayrshire breeders. We must as a club give all information and help to get them started right. If you have a club in your community attend their meetings and try to be a guide. We appreciate their coming to this meeting and hope you will see fit to make them honorary members for the ensuing year, and that some day they will be full-fledged members.

Our futurity stake which is only in its infancy has been very successful. I would draw your attention to the clauses governing this stake and make them the best workable way. In conclusion, I might say our secretary, Mr. Brown, has done his best this past year and although a busy man he gave a lot of his time trying to make the wheels of this club turn smoothly.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Resolved: That as breeders, we petition the government to have all herds attending exhibitions inspected before leaving their premises for a clean bill of health in regard to contagious diseases, for we believe the way they are now conducted shows it to be a great risk to breeders.

Resolved: That we extend our heartfelt thanks to Mr. R. H. Jenkins for donating such a beautiful cup, and that he be sent a letter to that effect by our secretary, moved by J. A. Clark.

Resolved: That this club petition the Minister of Agriculture and those managing county fairs to have prominent local breeders of the different breeds of cattle place the awards at those fairs. This would give our local breeders experience along this line and give them a better understanding of how to judge at larger fairs.

Resolved: That we would like to have as judges for our Provincial Exhibition, J. L. Stanslie and H. A. Smart, providing they be accepted by the other Ayrshire organizations in the Maritimes and that their names be sent to N. S. and N. B. for approval.

Resolved: That the local live stock promoters when providing good bulls for clubs, be asked to try to make arrangements that where good bulls are owned by breeders within range, to procure the services of such sires.

to have anyone interested in purchasing stock communicate with us. There were so many inquiries that I would in future recommend that the club as a unit consider some way of keeping before the public an advertisement of the animals they have to dispose of so those wishing to buy would have a list to choose from near at home.

We had again last summer as Fieldman, Mr. Retson, who was only too glad to be of assistance to us. Without a fieldman I can hardly see how we can carry on any extra activities as no one seems to have time to spare for much co-operative work. We hope Mr. Retson will be able to help us out again this year.

Last spring we asked the Hon. Minister of Agriculture if he would send his livestock promoter, Mr. Shaw, to Newfoundland to ascertain if we could find a market for some surplus Ayrshire stock. Mr. Shaw, later on, will give us an account of his trip and results.

On June 6th we called a special meeting to consider the advisability of holding a consignment sale and field day. We decided to hold both on the same day—July 4th. Our picnic was largely attended and we cannot speak too highly of the manner in which Dr. Clarke and his efficient staff carried out the details of the same. We appreciate his efforts and hope that we can have similar gatherings every year. We were sorry that we could not cater very much to the children and junior members but hope in future that more will be arranged for their pleasure.

Some might think that the prices realized were not high enough but considering that 1930 has been the hardest year since the war I think you can all agree that we realized well on our consignment. Not Much Chance For Nova Scotia Eastern League

(Canadian Press)

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 28.—A statement received here today from H. C. Schryer, of Bathurst, N. B., president of the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association, said the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association had reinstituted the Eastern Nova Scotia League to full membership in the parent organization, but various players who were declared ineligible by the Dominion registration committee will continue as associate players only, and must be dropped when the Eastern League championship has been declared. Therefore, no ineligible players in the Eastern League will be allowed to compete in Provincial, Maritime or Allen Cup playdowns. The Eastern League was suspended by the C. A. H. Curling In All Its "Curly"

A very exciting curling match took place at the Charlottetown Curling Club last night, the result of a challenge by the MacLeods, coached by Col. Moore and skipped by Chief Geo. W. MacLeod. His challenge was accepted by one John A. Fraser, and not having enough Fraser, he called on the McIntyres the Taylors and the Sears to make up a rink and had to take in one President Hughes to coach his team "To Defeat."

The game went two periods overtime and it looked like a drawn game in the twelfth end, when Skip Fraser's bonnet slipped down over the ice on his eye brows and he took out his own stone leaving the MacLeods three to the good, ending the game nine to six in the MacLeod's favor.

This game was a challenge for a chicken dinner, the losers to eat Ben's Beans, and wait on table. The Club Piper was unable to be present, but our good friend Bill Townsend favored the players with a Gallic song. Judge Duffy presided, and had considerable trouble keeping President Hughes and Col. Moore off the ice. The teams were as follows:

Dave MacLeod H. Sear
J. Finley MacLeod Reg Taylor
Allison MacLeod Dr. McIntyre
Geo. W. MacLeod J. A. Fraser

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 28.—Howie Morenz, centre of Montreal Canadiens, today telephoned National Hockey League headquarters to point out that he had been wrongly credited with scoring the final Canadian goal against the New York Americans here on Saturday night. Aurel Joliat, left winger, had poked the puck in, Morenz declared. President Frank Calder said the correction would be made in the next issue of the official league scoring.

The point totals of the players would not be affected, as Joliat will now be credited with the goal and Morenz with an assist instead of a goal to Morenz and an assist to Joliat. Morenz point score now is 18 goals, 9 assists, 27 points.

Looking 'Em Over

BY TEC

The Crystal Hockey sextet scheduled to appear here against Abegweit tomorrow night in a regular league fixture, have postponed their game, and it is understood will play Moncton instead. As a consequence the Forum management, not to disappoint the fans, are doing their utmost to have a mainland team here to play the Abegweits. If at all possible, Sussex will strut their stuff on ical ice.

Upwards of 500 skaters, the majority of them in costume presented a wonderful sight at the Forum last night. A large crowd of promenaders enjoyed the fun. The following were the prize winners: Ladies, Mrs. Vera Murray and Miss Pearl Currie—Hunting costume. Gentlemen—Messrs Jack Taylor and Hume Keefe. Flit. The lucky door prize is No. 87. The judges were: Miss Miller, Dr. E. Robins, Mr. O. C. Craswell.

The Summerside Island Farmer yesterday in its report of last Friday night's game in Charlottetown between Abegweits and Crystals allots about four lines to the report of said game and twelve or fourteen inches in criticism of Ivan Nicholson, and the local fans who snarled on the ice and "attacked the Summerside hockeyists and the President of the League." In reading the report the writer is of the opinion that the composer of the Farmer article was not present at the above mentioned game. After much more criticism the article ends:

"It is not improbable that should the M. A. H. A. refuse to act in the matter, that should Nicholson appear on the ice tonight—meaning the last Summerside game—the fans or players will take the law in their own hands. This has been rumored, but it is to be hoped falsely so."

If this last paragraph hasn't tendency to incite the fans to another regrettable demonstration, we will leave said fans to judge otherwise.

Bill Timmins, goal tender of the Chicago Shamrocks in the American League, apparently is a hot-tempered athlete, if his exploits against Tulsa are regular affairs. Tulsa won the game 2-0. When the first goal was scored Timmins threw his gloves and sticks on the ice, said something and was fined $10. About a minute later he laid his stick heavily on one of the Tulsa wings who ventured too near for Timmins' peace of mind, and drew another $10 fine. It is not told what he did when the second goal was scored.

Canadiens and Bruins held to their leads in the two sections of the N. H. L., via decisive wins over the weekend. Canucks handed Americans an artistic lacing and seem to have found the combination to Gerard's defensive system, for when they were through with the star spangled team there was a five goal margin in their favor. Canadiens had Morenz back in action and looked more impressive than ever, according to the critics. They look headed for first place in the playoffs and of course will meet Bruins in that event, a possibility which they might not relish. Toronto Leafs kept on their heels by taking a fall out of Ottawa, while Maroons flashed some of their old form by abruptly halting the winning streak of the Chicago Black Hawks. This was considerable of a feat and one that deserves more than passing notice. Hawks were all set for their seventh straight until Maroons hit them, and Munro's men goaded into desperation by the taunts of the weekly columnists in Montreal, rose in their wrath and knocked McLaughlin's babies for a loop. The section standings remain pretty much as they were with the exception of Detroit, who advanced a bit in their group. The present week's card of games are not changing the standing much.

members of the Earncliffe Women's Institute, wish you to accept our sincere and heartfelt sympathy, in the loss you have sustained, in the death of your husband and father. A vacant chair that can never be filled is surely a hard world, make the best we can of it, and we can only look to God who doeth all things well.

It may be in the coming years. It may be in the Eter Land; We'll read the meaning of our tears. And then oh, then we'll understand. Signed on behalf of the Earncliffe Women's Institute. Mrs R.R. Mutch, Vice-Pres. Mrs J.J. McInnis Pres. Laura I. Young Secy
