

It costs only $3.—lasts a lifetime

The blade of the "Ern Junior" Razor, is the finest steel that the oldest and largest razors makers in the world can forge and temper.

The Handle is Metal

And you have your choice of Gun Metal, Gold or Silver Plated Handle for $3—Sterling Silver, $5.

The blade gives a lifetime of shaving satisfaction—the indestructible metal handle protects the blade, at Hardware, Drug and Jewelry Stores or write Ern Razor Co., Montreal.

"Ern Junior" Razor.

D.D.D. Prescription

—for 15 years—
The Standard Skin Remedy
ASK
E. A. FOSTER
Central Drugstore Charlottetown

An Attractive Investment

Which promises to pay large dividends in 1914.

Investors are invited to investigate the claims of The Thoroughbred Silver Black Foxes Ltd., as a likely dividend payer for 1914. The company own nothing but the purest strains of P. E. I. Silver Black Foxes, each animal being guaranteed to register in Class A. The foxes are of highest fur value, being directly descended from foxes whose pelts have made P. E. I. famous in the world's markets.

The foxes are being kept in their old ranch at Riverside Farm, Alberton, where they bred and raised 14 pups last season. Two additional pairs of young breeders have been added to the ranch, making the prospects for a numerous progeny very bright. Rancher Mathews and Son have the largest financial interest in the company and will naturally do their best.

The cost of ranching will be about the lowest on record, viz.: 5 per cent of the increase of foxes. The six pairs of foxes are put in to the public at $140,000 of which about $120,000 is already subscribed for and the balance is now offered at $100 per share. This stock will not be many days on the market as a demand is coming in for it all over the Maritime provinces and Eastern states. Investors desiring a few shares reserved should apply at once to

J. K. ROSS,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Box 446, Charlottetown.
1286-2-20mtf.

Charlottetown Steam Navigation Co., Limited.

Annual General Meeting

Notice is hereby given that the Annual General meeting of the shareholders of the Charlottetown Steam Navigation Company, Limited, will be held at the office of the company, corner of Great George and Lower Water streets, Charlottetown on Wednesday the 4th day of March next, at the hour of 11 o'clock A.M., for the election of Directors and other business.

By Order
G. W. WAKEFORD, Manager.
Feb. 17th, 1914.
1254-2-17M14i.

NOVA SCOTIA AND ENGLAND

The Furness Line ships perform a regular service between Halifax, St. John's, Nfld., Liverpool and London.

Our high type freight ships are the fastest in the world, each having limited accommodation for a few passengers.

The S.S. "Digby" is a splendid passenger boat. The saloon accommodation is all that can be desired in so far as comfort and convenience is concerned.

First class to Liverpool is $20.00. This ship calls at St. John's, Nfld., and to this port the fare is $18.00. Full particulars upon application to Furness, Withy & Co. Ltd

TUESDAY

CALEDONIAN DANCE AND SOCIAL.—The attendance at the Caledonian social and dance last night in their Hall, was very large and a very enjoyable time was spent. As a preliminary to the entertainment a program of musical and literary selections, over which Mr. S. A. McLeod presided, was pleasingly rendered and thoroughly enjoyed. This was followed by dancing opened by a set of lancers and continued with two steps, waltzes and cotillon dances. Delicious and evening refreshments in ice-cream, cake and lemonade were served. The entertainment was continued till shortly after midnight. The chaperones were Mrs. James Paton, Mrs. S. A. McLeod and Mrs. L. B. McMillan. One of the big features of the social was violin and piano music by Mr and Mrs. Alfred Stewart.

LAYING THE CABLE.—Mr. A. E. Morrison's lecture on the laying of the Atlantic cable in Grace Church last night was delivered to a very appreciative audience in an instructive and interesting manner. The lecturer first gave a brief history of the discoveries of the hitherto unknown marvel and power of the electric fluid and of three possibilities of its usefulness, after which in detail the history of the laying of the Atlantic cable was graphically described, aided by a large number of views thrown on the canvas. Mr. W. E. Burke. The thrilling story was told of how Cyrus W. Field, after thirty years of labor and endless determination, with failure following upon failure, in 1866, succeeded in the great ambition of his life, and the old and new worlds were united together by telegraphic communication. A vote of thanks moved by Mr. G. S. Bennett was tendered to Mr. G. A. Ritchie, who presided over the meeting for this excellent lecture after which the meeting adjourned by singing, God Save the King.

WEDDING BELLS.—Every seat in the chapel of Notre Dame Academy, which was made all the more magnificent by the exquisite electrical illumination, was filled last evening for the marriage of Miss Jane Egan, Fitzroy Street, to Mr. R. F. Maddigan, Grocer, Charlottetown. At 7.30 o'clock the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother Mr. Alfred Egan, of the P. E. I. R., while the strains of the wedding march were played by the organist of the convent choir. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Katherine Egan and the groom was supported by Mr. Ambrose Hennessey, Father Pius McDonald, Spiritual Director of the Children of Mary Society, to which the bride belongs, and of the League of the Cross Society, of which the groom is a member, who were the officiating clergyman and united the contracting parties for life by the Holy Sacrament of Matrimony. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the excellent convent choir sang beautifully the "Star of the Sea." After receiving the congratulations of the large host of friends present, the bride and groom repaired to the dining-room of the Academy, where a delightful repast was served. The wedded couple left by the train last night for Georgetown, en route to the mainland on a wedding trip. The Guardian wishes the many friends wishing the happy couple, a happy and prosperous wedded life.

WEDNESDAY

HANDSOME GIFT.—Mr. J. R. Dennis, the Charlottetown fox rancher, has a St. John exchange, has given $2,500 to the Methodist Conference for the maintenance of an evangelist in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. The gift will probably

STRENUOUS WORK SOON TELLS ON YOU

Business Men and Broadwinners the Victims of Nervous Exhaustion

When worry is added to overwork men soon become the victims of nervous exhaustion—neurasthenia—the doctor calls it. Some have no rest, no strength in their systems to bear the strain, others overtax what strength they have. If you find that you are nervous and not sure of yourself, that you sleep badly, and wake up tired and aching, your nerves are out of order. Other signs are inability to take proper interest in your work, your appetite is lacking, your back feels weak, and you are greatly depressed in spirits. One or more of these signs mean that you should take prompt steps to stop mischief by nourishing the nerves with the food they thrive on, namely, the rich red blood made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills have cured thousands of cases of nervous disorders, including nervous prostration, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance and partial paralysis. Here is an example. Mr. Jas. A. McDonald, Springfield, N. S., says: "In the summer of 1912, as the result, I think, of hard work, I was completely run down and found it necessary to quit work I did not seem to rest me, as I was constantly tired. My appetite was poor and feeble, and my nerves unstrung. I had treatment from a doctor for some time, but it did not seem to help me and having heard a great deal about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I decided to try them. In the course of a few weeks after beginning the Pills I picked up wonderfully and was able to return to work feeling like a new man. I have not had a day's sickness since, and naturally am now a firm believer in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will work the same beneficial results in any other tired, worn-out worker if given a fair trial. If you cannot obtain the Pills from your dealer, they will be sent post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr.

IF HEADACHY, DIZZY BILIOUS, "CASCARETS"

CLEAN YOUR LIVER AND WASTE-CLOGGED BOWELS TO-NIGHT! PEEL BULLY!

Get a 10-cent box now. You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel so. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most cures of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean, stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

was discussed at a meeting of the Methodist City Missionary Association, which meets on Friday.

WEDDING.—A very pretty quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Ignace Church, Winnipeg, on the morning of the 24th inst., when Miss Mary Alice Byrnes and Mr. H. Lawlor, were united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony, the Rev. Father Coffey officiating. The bride was attired in a travelling suit of blue, and was attended by her sister, Miss Lottie, who wore a pale blue silk dress. The groom was supported by Mr. H. J. Byrnes, brother of the bride, after the ceremony the happy couple left on a trip through the West on return they will reside in Moose Jaw, Sask.

On Wednesday the 11th inst., at her home at Vest Royalty, there passed to her eternal reward, Charlotte, beloved wife of George Rickard in the 62nd year of her age, and the church, the community and the home are feeling keenly the loss of a faithful member, a kind friend and a loving wife and mother. Always strong, capable, and clever, she gave of her best in no ungrudging measure, and became a pillar of strength unto many. Almost without her, but He who gave is also He who has taken away, and through Him strength will be given, even in this to say, "Blessed be the name of the Lord." She had life had known many sorrows. She had just as each reached her budding womanhood, but her faith was never known to falter, rather did all feel more closely to her. She was bound to take to her sorrow. She had a son, and one daughter, also one brother. Mr. Nelson Kent of North Sydney, and three sisters, Mrs. John Wayne of Hunter River, Mrs. Allen McDonald, New Glasgow, and Mrs. Charles Carter of Winaloe, besides numerous other relatives and friends. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. H. Littlejohn, Westmorland where her remains were laid to rest in Winaloe Cemetery.

Nine mile Creek and surrounding settlements, were shocked on Friday morning when it became known that Mr. Joseph Inman had passed away at the P. E. Island Hospital where he had gone for treatment about two weeks ago. Inman was the son of the late John Inman of Hampton, P. E. I. Some years ago he removed with his family to Nine Mile Creek and was a good neighbor, a loving husband and father, and a consistent member of the West River Presbyterian Church. He had had heavy work in him who had been through the Valley and the Shadow of Death. He leaves to mourn a widow and three children, Stewart and Grace at home and Pearl in Calgary and four brothers, William and John of Hampton, George of Alberton and Isaac in Annapolis, also five sisters, Mrs. E. Hartington, Nine Mile Creek, Mrs. Wm. Chandler, Lot 48, Mrs. Joe, Stordy and Mrs. Henry Inman, Hampton, and Mrs. David Farrah, Summerside. The funeral, one of the largest, took place on Sunday, Feb. 22nd, and was conducted by Rev. A. Craze, assisted by Rev. C. S. McLearn, (Baptist). The pall bearers were Malcolm McDonald, John McDonald, Allen McDonald, A. B. McDonald, Patrick Dowling and Jerry Murphy.

It is with deep regret that the death is chronicled of Mr. John Callaghan aged 65. The sad event, as already stated, took place at his residence, Sydney St., on Monday morning, Feb. 16th. Mr. Callaghan was born at Lake Umbagog, N.S., and came to the city to live about 14 years ago. He was ailing but a short time and was carefully attended to by Dr. W. J. McMillan but despite all that medical skill and kind attendance of those around him, he passed away to the happy land where sorrow and death cannot enter. His spiritual welfare was attended to by the Rev. Father Duffy who administered to him the last rites of the Catholic Church. The funeral took place on Thursday, 19th inst. at Vernon River. The attendance was large both in the city and at Millview Station where about 30 sleighs met the remains and conveyed them to Vernon River Cemetery where they were committed to their last resting place by the Rev. Father McGuire, there to await the sound of the angel trumpet which shall call us all together on the last day. He leaves to mourn besides a widow and two children, 5 brothers and 2 sisters, 4 of the brothers reside in the United States and one in Western Canada. The sisters are Mrs. Felix Murphy of Avonville, and Mrs. Dan Murphy of Uigg. All are left to FILLY SOLD.—Mr. James Lea, Victor a, has sold a fine one and a half year old blood filly for a handsome sum. The purchaser is Mr. Albert Trowdale, Crapaud, V.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. Wm. Jackson of Village Green, about two miles from Pownal, met with a painful accident some days ago. While driving to Charlottetown, and a little east of Pownal Village, his sleigh slipped and he fell of dislocating his shoulder. He drove on to town and secured medical attendance but has since felt a good deal of pain.

WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty and interesting wedding took place in St. Augustine Church, Rustico, Thursday, Feb. 14th, when Mr. Joseph Gallant of Rusticoville, was united in the Holy Bonds of matrimony to Miss Lizette Gallant of North Rustico. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Chaisson, parish priest. The bride and the groom were attended by Miss Josephine Gallant, sister of the groom, Mr. Mr. Denis B. Arsenault of North Rustico. The bride was dressed in white silk with hat to match. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the home of the groom where a breakfast, most delicious was served. In the afternoon the party went to the home of the bride where a sumptuous supper was awaiting them. Only the relatives and nearest neighbors were invited. The bride and the groom were the recipients of many and useful gifts, especially from the bride's friends in St. John, N. B., where she had spent a few years. Best wishes and congratulations are extended to the newly married couple.

EXTENDED TRIP.—Mr. and Mrs. Neil McQuarrie of Summerside intended leaving this week on a trip to Western Canada for some two or three months. They will go as far as Banff. During the trip they will spend some time in the City of Medicine Hat in which place Mr. McQuarrie will, while there, be City Solicitor. They will visit Calgary and Edmonton and remain some weeks at Banff. They return by way of Ottawa and Boston. Mr. McQuarrie will have to be in the former city by the first week in May.

SUCCESSFUL ISLANDER.—It is always pleasant to record the success of any Islander abroad, and The Guardian is glad to be able to publish the following extract from a New York journal in reference to Mr. James C. McEachen, brother of Mr. A. E. McEachen, of Charlottetown. Mr. James McEachen is now a prominent lawyer in New York, and it was

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

Cure Childrens Colds by External Treatment

MOTHERS WILL FIND NOTHING SO SPEEDY AND RELIABLE AS OLD-TIME "NERVILINE"

It's really a shame to upset a young child's stomach by internal dosing, when external treatment will so promptly break up a cold. When your boy comes in after play with his feet soaking wet, his throat hoarse and sore, his little chest tight and congested, just apply Nerviline. Give him a vigorous rubbing over his throat, and put lots of Nerviline on his chest and rub it right in. To make Nerviline penetrate more quickly cover his chest and throat with a hot flannel bandage. This treatment won't fail. Your boy will be feeling better in half an hour, and you will have the satisfaction of knowing you have warded off perhaps a cold, or gripe, or illness that might have laid him up.

Nerviline is mighty good for preventing colds and for breaking up a bad one, too. For general external aches and pains you simply can't beat it. Try it for earache, toothache, rheumatism, sciatica, lame back, lumbago, or lumbago. Wherever there is congestion, inflammation or pain in the joints or muscles, Nerviline will cure mighty quick. The large size, family size bottle is so economical, so every home should have a few on hand. There is also a small size. Dealers anywhere sell Nerviline.

An Easy Way to Get Fat and Be Strong

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomachs, or stuffing it with greasy foods, rubbing on useless "health creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into a simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This masterpiece of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aims through its re-generative, reconstructive powers to clear the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and just disappear and you feel on from 10 to 20 pounds of extra healthy flesh. Sargol is a scientific, harmless, unexcusable efficient. Your druggist has it and will send you money if you are not satisfied. Do not guarantee to be fat and strong until you have tried Sargol.

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular member are the Old Guard, St. Andrew's and Robert Burns societies."

in connection with an interview which a representative of "The Mercantile and Financial Times" had with him recently that the remarks were made concerning him. Mr. McEachen was interviewed on the prohibition question. The quotation from the "Times" speaks for itself:—"A reporter for the 'Times' desirous of finding out the legal aspect of such a statute called on Mr. James C. McEachen, an attorney at 15, Broadway, who is widely known as a practitioner of unusual knowledge and ability in his profession. Mr. McEachen has been practicing law in this city of New York for thirty years and has been remarkably successful in carrying the cases committed to his direction to a successful issue. Despite his being a formidable antagonist in a legal battle, Mr. McEachen has a cordial, likable way with him (an inheritance from his Highland Scotch ancestry) that makes friends for him on sight. His birthplace, and at St. Dunstan's College there he received his initial education. Coming to this city he entered the University of New York and was just twenty-one years old when he graduated with the degree of L. L. B. The same year he was admitted to the Bar and became a member of the firm of James, Scholl and Filkus. Since the early nineties he has practiced alone and his clients now number the most prominent business firms of New York. Mr. McEachen is a true Scotsman in his liking for out-door sports, his prowess on the athletic field winning him many trophies. The Caledonian Club made him their president for several terms and he is now secretary of the Canadian Club. Other organizations of which he is a popular