W. D. Whitehead, Clinton, has received the following letter of condolence from Caldwell L. O. L. Margate. To W. D. Whitehead Esq. Dear Sir and Brother:—

We the members of Caldwell L. O. L. No. 1207 herein express and convey our deepest sympathy with you in the sore affliction through which you, in the Providence of God, are called upon to pass, in the removal by death, of your beloved wife. We in this recognize the Fatherhood of God who errs not in all that He does; and the Brotherhood of man, as our hearts have with yours, been exercised in this sudden and unexpected stroke of Providence. We further knowing the moral worth and excellent Christian character of the departed—as to you a loving and faithful wife, and to us a true, kind hearted friend and Christian worker—realize in good part the loss sustained by you and us respectively. While loving to the will of Him whom she have in church and home served, and mourning not as those who have no hope we humbly and fervently pray that God, the source of all grace and good, may sustain and comfort you and yours in this your trying sorrow.

In Sebastopol village every house is damaged. A mining expert says the landside may be caused by colliery workings; others think a quicksand is responsible.
