LONDON PEDESTRIANS MAY CARRY HORN, LICENSE AND TAIL LIGHT

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Plans to force pedestrians to signal their intentions of stopping, backing or turning a corner have met a check, at least temporarily. Those advocating such traffic regulations for pedestrians as well as motorists were outvoted by officials studying a new highway code which will be submitted to Parliament.

Those in favor of the rights of pedestrians envisaged a day when they would be compelled not only to signal their intentions, but to equip themselves with tail lights, carry a horn and take out an operator's license for their legs.

OBITUARY NOTICE

MRS. RUSSEL CANN

At her home Fountain Road in the early hours of the morning, Feb. 6th, there passed to her eternal reward, Margaret Currie dearly beloved wife of Russel Cann at the early age of 29 years, also their infant daughter. The heartfelt sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. Cann in his sudden bereavement. All that human skill and loving hands could do was of no avail and after only a few hours illness her gentle spirit returned to God who gave it.

The funeral was held on Feb. 9th in the Presbyterian Church at New London where she went to worship from her childhood. The service was conducted by Rev. D. Lloyd Griffiths who spoke very feelingly to the friends of the departed and taking as his text Job. 14, chapter verse 14. "All the days of my appointed time will I wait till my change comes" he warned his hearers to prepare for the inevitable change which comes to all.

A very large gathering fo people bore silent testimony of sympathy to the bereaved.

There are left to mourn besides a grief stricken husband and little son Wilfred, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Currie who have the sympathy of all as only a short time ago they were called upon to bear the loss of another daughter, Mrs. Frederick Pidgeon, of New London also the following brothers and sisters, John of Fountain Road, Miss May Currie, Christie, Mrs. Harold Adams, Alba, Mrs. Harry Somers, Clara, Mrs. Claude Graham, all of New London; also a half brother, Wm. Pickering of Borden. The pallbearers were Harry Somers, Harold Adams, Claude Graham, Fred Pidgeon, Perry Cann and James Cook.

The remains were tenderly laid to rest in the cemetery at New London there to await the happy morn when "death divided friends at last shall meet to part no more."

GERMANY TO CARRY OUT YOUNG PLAN

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—Despite the "menace to peace" represented by the reparation problem, Germany means to carry out the provisions of the Young Plan as long as possible, For eign Minister Julius Curtious told the Reichstag today.

He reminded his hearers, reduced in numbers by an unexpected walkout a few minutes earlier of the National Socialists or Fascists and Nationalists that Germany had never guaranteed her ability to pay war debts, and predicted that the spectre of reparations "never would be laid until economic common sense and justice finally have their way."

The Foreign Minister characterized the world disarmament conference called for next year as the "touch stone of the efficacy of the League of Nations,' 'and declared that the League's very existence would be threatened if it proved itself unable to solve the problem of disarmament.

National Socialist members of the Reichstag, followers of the Fascist leader, Adolf Hitler, today resigned their vice presidency of the body and all committee chairmanships they held.

This action was announced a few moments after they had marched out of the Chamber at the beginning of Foreign Minister Curtius' speech on foreign policy.

WHY STRAUS LEFT NOTHING TO CHARITY

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The will of Nathan Straus, Jewish philanthropist, who gave away millions of dollars during his lifetime, disposes of an estate estimated to be about $1,000,000, and not a cent went to charity.

The omission was explained in the document in this language:

"I have always been deeply impressed by an old Jewish proverb which says: 'What you give for the cause of charity in health is gold; what you give in sickness is silver; what you give after death is lead.' Many of the rich do not even give lead."

The estate is divided among his three children.

BEDS TOO SHORT FOR STUDENTS

TORONTO, Ont Feb. 12.—There have been plenty of jokes about short beds, but to students of Upper Canada College the situation was no joke. On these cold winter nights, many of the students had their choice of either sleeping with heads beyond the rail, or else with their feet out in the cold. And so, many new beds have been ordered, strangely enough, however, it has been found that boys of today are taller than their fathers were when the latter attended the school.

W. L. Grant, principal of the college, had this say about it all: "Yes, six foot beds have been long enough for our boys previously, but we now have so many long boys that we found it necessary to buy a lot of seven foot beds. Our boys of 16, 17 and 18 are taller today then their predecessors. It looks as though the boy of the present were a bigger man than his dad."

A POOR WORLD WITHOUT THE BIBLE

(Canadian Press)

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 12—"Do you read the Bible?" a leading Stockholm daily, the Dagens Nyhetter, recently asked a number of Swedish authors of the younger generation and representing varying attitudes towards religious questions. The replies given show to what a great extent the Bible retains its hold on the present-day generation despite rationalism, political radicalism and the modern outlook on life.

The trend of the minds of the young authors, however, is to stress principally the poetical qualities of the Bible. "The Bible is not a literary product, it is a literature, or perhaps several, in itself," one writer declares. In it all the human heights and depths are touched, and the world without a Bible would not be so rich and varied, in spite of Shakespeare, Goethe, Dante and other leading spirits.

On the other hand there are voices pleading for a more Christian view of the subject. The literary men, who do not realize the moral grandeur of the story of Christ or the prophets, are deaf to their conscience, one novelist declares.

ARGENTINE GOES INTO WHEAT TRADE ORDERS DIPLOMATS TO SEEK BUYERS

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—A special cable to the New York Times from Buenos Aires says:

The provisional Government is going into the grain business in an effort to free Argentine farmers of the impositions of foreign cereal export firms which have a monopoly of the export business from Argentina. The Minister of Foreign Affairs has instructed the Argentine diplomatic representatives in Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Holland and Belgium to visit millers and try to sell them Argentine wheat, to be shipped direct to them by the Argentine Government without the intervention of middlemen.

The Government believes that the present unsatisfactory situation in the wheat market here is due to the determination of foreign exporters not to export until they have forced prices below the already unprofitable levels. It also believes that the depressed exchange value of Argentine currency and cheap ocean freights will make it possible for diplomats to get wheat orders if they seek them energetically, as they have been instructed to do.

Even

Young Scribbler and his bride were alone for the first time in their new home. "Darling," she cried, "I must make a terrible confession to you—I can't cook."

"Aw, that's all right, dear. I've a confession to make too. I'm a poet and there won't be anything to cook."
