AN INDIAN DOCTOR'S GREAT SUCCESS

A Brief Review of the Life of Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger I. O. Foresters.

In referring to Dr. Oronhyatekha's visit to the Island the following will be of interest:—Much of Dr. Oronhyatekha's wonderful success as an organizer is doubtless due to his talent as a public speaker, which talent so well qualifies him to the contest for first honors in the several societies with which he has become identified. He has been an active worker in the temperance cause, ever since old enough to realize right from wrong. For 36 years he has been a member of that body known as 'Good Templars'. At a session of the Supreme Lodge held in Edinburgh, Scotland, a few years ago he was elected to the highest office belonging to the organization—that of Supreme Templar. In Masonry Dr. Oronhyatekha has received the degrees of the Royal Arch Chapter; Knight Templar, 33rd degree in the Scottish Rite, and that of the Mystic Shrine, and is also Most Worshipful Grand Master Mason of the Dominion of Royal and Oriental Masonry. An English periodical speaks of him in debate as being "calm, courteous, imperturbable, clear and decisive. His weapon is as smooth and incisive as a Damascus scimitar; his dexterity in wielding it and his quickness in watching the fence of an opponent are extraordinary and admirable. As a presiding officer he shows even to better advantage, maintaining and expediting business without apparent effort; keeping discussion within legitimate bounds and extricating it out of tangles by his tact and intimate knowledge of the law and rules of debate." An orator he may not be in the strict sense of the word, having none of that eloquence which struts around the heart without entering it, but he is forceful, poignant, witty and scholarly, for he is known hereafter by all who have thought the doctor's knowledge begins and ends with Forestry that he is an omnivorous reader. His own room, whether in Toronto at "The Pines" or in the "Wigwam" is that of the student and scholar. His possessions are all impressive tributes to the refinement and good taste which brought them together. His pictures, marbles, bric-a-brac and books represent extensive travel and a wide knowledge of people, places and things. Dr. Oronhyatekha is a man beloved for his social virtues as much as for his executive ability. In his personal relations he is gracious and unassuming. He never turns anyone away with a short answer, save as "no" is a small word. Everyone who calls upon him may see him, unless the exigencies of official duties and obligations, or in conference, make it impossible to spare even a moment, and may talk to him as long as he has anything worth hearing to say. As a rule, it is the visitor who does the talking, unless he be one in whom the Chief has confidence, when he will open the doors of his speech and talk freely and most entertainingly. Though a public functionary, he is one who, having no selfish for politics, has consequently been but little identified with that public history which so often imparts the only value to biography, but the waters of oblivion will never submerge the name of Oronhyatekha so long as the independent Order of Foresters exists, or is remembered as having existed.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF SCIENCE WORK IS GOING ON APACE

A Large Enrolment and Additions Being Constantly Made to its Numbers.

PLEASANT GEOLOGICAL AND BOTANISING EXCURSION

Lecture by a Southern Professor on Three Theories of Creation—What Science Teaches—Harmony Between the Bible and Book of Nature—Appreciation of the Summer School.

Work in the Summer School of Science goes on apace. This session is proving to be one of the most interesting and profitable in the history of the school. A member who for the first time is attending the school said: "Why did I not come to the school before? It is the most profitable institution to attend for a short period that I have ever come across. I wish that my associate teachers were here; they could not help being very much benefited by the experience." This is the testimony of all who attend.

Already the enrolment has reached the large number of 236, and additions are being continually made.

Friday afternoon an excursion was held at Morris Lake, a beautiful spot on the line of the C. P. R. One hundred and eighty persons representing the Botany and Geology classes left the C. P. R. station by train at 2:30 p.m. In half an hour the lake was reached and dividing there the geologists sought the summit of the bluff, where specimens of Cambrian and pre-Cambrian rock were to be found. On this bluff Dr. Bailey, surrounded by eager students of geology explained the glacial period showing the effects as they were illustrated around him. The glacial boulder will not hereafter be a mystery to those who listened to the Doctor's description.

On the edge of the pond above the bank surrounding Mr. Vroom, the efficient instructor in Botany of the school, were to be found an enthusiastic company who eagerly sought for and studied the plants of the section. The chief attention was given to water plants, lilies were in abundance. Most interesting was the account given by the instructor of the way in which plants adapt themselves to their environment. The submerged leaves of the water lily were examined and were found somewhat like dulces. Mr. Vroom explained that he had once visited the place after the water had been drawn off for about three weeks and found the emerged leaves not flat but erect and turning a green color.

This in addition to the regular classroom work of from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. gives an idea of a day at the Summer School. St. Stephen, N. B., July 23, 1902.

PROMISES SENSATION IN IRELAND

NEW YORK, July 29.—A writ of conspiracy issued by Messrs. GOOD HEALTH FOR CAPITAL.

Maintaining good health is to the majority of people the most vital question in the world and nature affords no more efficient strengthener for the system and restorative for the nerves than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Naturally, gradually, and certainly, it forms new red corpuscles in the blood, creates new healthy nerve cells and puts into the system the snap, energy and vitality that defies disease.
