EVIL INFLUENCE OF HOPE DIAMOND

LONDON, May 27.—A writer wonders whether the famous blue Hope diamond has been existing in its evil influence again. It has a remarkable past, and the latest phase of its history seems to give the superstitious another argument.

The diamond was originally stolen from the crown of an Indian Rajah early in the seventeenth century and brought to France by Jean Baptiste Tavernier, Baron d'Anouance, at the beginning of the last century, after various vicissitudes, it was brought by Hope, the banker, and it is said that all his heirs who by turns owned the blue diamond met with tragic ends.

Finally Lord Francis Hope's necessities required that the diamond be sold out of the Hope family's possession. It then became the property of an American who sold it last year. Its next possessor was none other than Abdul Hamid, the deposed Sultan of Turkey. Whether he has taken it with him into his retirement, or left it to average him on his successor, Mohammed V., is not known.

PARIS, May 28.—(Special)—As investigations continue the scandals in the matter of naval supplies and construction appear more and more serious. JEROME WAS HISSED BY CROWDS

NEW YORK, May 27.—William Travers Jerome, District Attorney of New York, took his seat at Cooper Union last night after an evening unique in the political annals of the city, during which he attempted to explain the administration of his office, pursuant to his agreement to "give an account of his stewardship." Hundreds of questions were literally hurled at him, and after a turbulent meeting, the 2,000 or more persons who packed Cooper Union, declined to register a vote of censure. An attempt to bring about such a vote was made, but it was hissed down by Mr. Jerome's opponents. This ended a political innovation which had been looked forward to as a precedent—that of a public officer vindicating himself by frank recital before the people.

SIXTY FARMERS JOIN IN MAD DOG CHASE

OXFORD, Pa., May 27.—Mounted on their swiftest horses, sixty farmers of Colerain township, Chester County, had an exciting cross-country run after a mad dog on Sunday morning. The rabid animal was first noticed by Charles Anderson, of Mount Vernon. It ran through his dooryard, and bit several of his dogs, and then started across country, snapping at every animal it met. Anderson at once jumped on a horse and started in pursuit. He gave the alarm as he passed by farmhouses, and sixty men with their dogs followed the quarry over yields and fences.

PROVINCIALIST HAS NARROW ESCAP

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—While policeman J. A. Anear of the South, 17th station, San Francisco, was returning to his beat on the morning of April 16th, he was attracted by the sound of a police whistle coming from the direction of South Park, and at the corner of Second street came upon Y. Matsumaya, quartermaster of the steamer Chivo, Maru, lying at the mill dock. The latter informed him that a Japanese sailor had just run away, and pointed to Tomio Kawamoto, who was running some distance off.

The Japanese drew a knife and attempted to stab him. Anear pulled his club and tried to beat his assailant, but Kawamoto used jiu-jitsu and was too much for the policeman. Anear felt himself being overpowered, and determined to try to frighten his opponent. He pulled his revolver and fired once in the air. The Japanese drew away for a moment, but seeing that the policeman did not intend to shoot him, he sprang back to the attack. Once more Anear fired, this time over the head of Kawamoto, but as the latter closed upon him he cut a rash in his cheek and slashed his uniform.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians

THE BEE INDUSTRY IN THIS PROVINCE

A SMOKER (Continued.) A smoker is useful and where a large number of hives are kept, an indispensable article. A tin or copper tube 2 1/2 to 4 inches in diameter, six to eight inches long, with a small under bellows is its main feature. Many designs are in use, the Bingham being the most popular in Canada. Some rotten wood, chips, jagging or other material is ignited in this tube and by means of the bellows the smoke is kept alive and directed as you wish into the 'hive of bees which it will cause to fill themselves with honey or else disperse as you making them very tractable and easily manipulated. A BEE VEIL is also a convenience to the timid and to the new beginner and occasionally to the veteran and expert. It is just made of silk tulle or brassils net, and covers the face and head from the hat rim down to the chest. (Continued on page 12.)
