

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR

It bakes Great, Big, Golden Brown loaves of nut-like flavor that only a genuine hard spring wheat flour can produce.

S. S. To Newfoundland

The S. S. "Canadian Adventurer," owned by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, will be due here about December 14th and will load full cargo of produce, etc., for St. John's, Newfoundland direct. Particulars regarding space are requested to be sent to St. John's, Newfoundland this season. Apply to BUNTAIN, BELL & CO., Agents

AUCTION SALE

GROceries AND FURNITURE. I will sell for J. J. Duffy, Esq., in the store corner Fitzroy and Cumberland streets on Thursday, Nov. 27th commencing at three o'clock in the afternoon and seven in the evening of the same day, all the groceries and shelf goods, store fixings, cooking, show cases, scales, oil tank, gas tank, etc., etc., also a quantity of furniture. Terms cash. BENJ. CARTER, Auctioneer.

Clearance Auction Sale

I am instructed by James Lane of Hermitage, Lot 49, to sell by public auction on Wednesday, 26th day of November, 1919 at one o'clock p. m. Stock, crop, implements and house hold furniture. STOCK—One mare 12 years old (Parkside Jr.) with foal by Prince Major; one horse 2 1/2 years (Prince Major); three good milk cows, one fat heifer, one heifer 1 1/2 years old; three calves, five good young breeding ewes, three fall pigs, 3 months old; 100 hens (White Leghorns and White Wyandotters). CROP—3 tons good hay, a quantity straw, sheaf, oats and mixed grain, 200 bus. potatoes, 150 bus. turnips. IMPLEMENTS—Cart, new; truck wagon, pole and shafts, driving wagon, box sleigh, new; two robes and wraps, fur coat, wood sleigh, McCormick disc drill, wheel harrow, spring tooth harrow, set, Dickson fan mill, scythe, gang plough (Maple Leaf) single plough, two pairs leather traces and reins, set driving harness, cart saddle and breeching, two collars and harness, shovels, forks, hoes, etc., cream separator, (Malotte). FURNITURE—Washing machine and wringer, two milk cans, tubs and pails, apple peeler, kitchen range, new, Queen heater, Star cook stove and boilers, Karn organ, sewing machine, new, two bedroom suites, dining room and kitchen furniture, oilcloths and rugs, and all other household articles too numerous to mention. TERMS—All sums of five dollars and under cash; over that amount twelve months credit on approved joint notes. Six per cent off for cash. If not fine sale will be held first day following. J. A. McDONALD, Auctioneer

Mail Contract

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon, on Friday, the 28th December for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed Contract for four years six times per week each way, over Northern Rural Route No. 2 from the Postmaster General's pleasure. Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed Contract may be seen and blank forms of Tender may be obtained at the Post Offices of Northam and at the office of the Post Office Inspector. JOHN F. WHEAR, Post Office Inspector. Post Office Inspector's Office. 14th November, 1919. 2573-11-18MTues.

SAUNSONE SAUSAGES

Use SAUNSONE SAUSAGES made from selected young pork. The most economical meat food on the market. Made and sold only by Saunders, Newsom & Co. Market Building 1868-10-28-mimo.

Announcement

It is drawing close to the first of December, and as this will be our last and final request in this regard we wish to state that any accounts remaining on our books unsettled on the above date without satisfactory arrangements having been made, will be placed in the hands of our collectors for settlement. There is no excuse to offer, as we buy anything you have to offer at top prices, either for cash or placed to your credit on account. We are taking potatoes and turnips until December 1st.

M. KENNEDY & CO., Bradalbane.

NOTICE OF MEETING

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the shareholders of Premier Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd., will be held in the hall at Bedouque on Tuesday, December 2nd at 2 p. m. for election of directors and transaction of such business as may come before the meeting. THOMAS MOYSE

Farmers' Notice

I am receiving dressed hogs daily and am prepared to pay highest market values. Would prefer having hogs killed on Monday or Tuesday and delivered early Wednesday morning. D. M. McLeod, agent for the Sims Packing Company Ltd.

Farm for Sale

80 acres in good state of cultivation 10 miles from Charlottetown. Near railway, churches and schools. Apply to ALBERT PAUL, Brookfield 2482-11-22M31pd.

WANTED

An experienced fox rancher to take full charge of a ranch in the United States must have credentials. Married man preferred. Good comfortable house to live in. A splendid opportunity for the right man. Apply to James S. Hanson, Queen Hotel Summerside, or to Queen Hotel, Charlottetown.

WORLD'S WELFARE.

Conditions on the Labrador (By Ester M. E. Sundelof, M.D. in the "Woman's Medical Journal.")

There is not, I believe, any physician living more well known than Dr. Grenfell. That he should have achieved fame depends, of course, upon the personality and the character of the man himself; but, that he should have achieved such world-wide fame, considering the fact that he lives far from the heart of civilization, far from the whirl and bustle of this workaday world, is no less than marvellous. I spent the summer of 1913 on the Labrador at Dr. Grenfell's Mission Hospital at St. Anthony installing X-ray equipment, training a technician and doing general medical work, and am therefore in a position to enthuse upon his remarkable life and work. Twenty-seven years ago when Dr. Grenfell first came as a young man to the Labrador, there was not a doctor on the coast, living conditions were almost intolerable and unspeakable, and educational facilities did not exist. Now, owing to Dr. Grenfell's perseverance, there are no less than eight hospital centres, i.e., at St. Anthony, Battle Harbor, Indian Harbor, Harrington Pileys Island, Fortear, North West River and Spotted Islands. There is an orphanage and a school at St. Anthony; and, besides the "Strathcona," the doctor's own hospital ship, there are three smaller launches on which the mission doctors make trips up and down the coast to see the sick. Besides, there are industrial activities of all kinds supported by the mission—a loom-room, machine shop, handiwork of all kinds, as well as a sailors' mission at St. John's. But first let me describe conditions exactly. The population is made up of fisher folk almost entirely (about 250,000 the mission takes care of) scattered over a coast line several thousand miles in extent. The Labrador includes in the mission vernacular, the northern part of Newfoundland as well as the Labrador proper and the largest mission hospital, which is at St. Anthony is in Newfoundland. Large towns simply do not exist. The people live, of course, on the coast in small scattered communities of 5 to 200 houses. The coast is bleak and barren, rocky in the extreme, rather grewsome but majestic the rocky cliffs rising to a great height and clad with scanty vegetation. I can remember my first impression of the coast of Newfoundland when we landed in July at Port-au-Basque. A young girl, a native of Labrador, who had been sent to school in the States by the mission and was returning to the mission, stood by my side as we entered port. It was a bleak cold, rainy, windy, nasty day. The town of Port-au-Basque looked god-forsaken, huddled a mere handful of houses beneath the meagre shelter of the snow-covered barren cliffs, and I could not agree at all when the little native on the Labrador exclaimed, "Isn't it beautiful!" Before the summer was over I could agree with her perfectly, however; for, in spite of the barrenness, the cold, the austere brutality of the country, there is something about it that creeps into your blood—there is a fascination, an intoxication that will not be denied, but grows in spite of everything. Rivers are few; trees, except in the interior, are sparse; the agricultural resources, practically nil. The elevated and exposed tracts and especially the greater part of the coast line of Northern Newfoundland and of the Labrador itself are generally destitute of soil and therefore of all vegetation though here and there may be found a sparse growth of stunted shrubs and trees. In the North little vegetation exists except moss and lichen. The fogs and violent gales which have been practically exterminated by the white settlers. Now the population is made up of British and French for the most part. The natives of the Labrador proper are Esquimaux who subsist by hunting and fishing. They trade their fish, oils and furs for supplies from England. The main wealth of the Labrador is in its fisheries, of course; and schooners from Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Canada as well as hundreds of American schooners are engaged in the Labrador fishing. Nineteenths of the entire population are engaged in fishing, and although this industry includes cod, herring, salmon, and seal fisheries, so predominant is the cod fishing that in Newfoundland the term fish is understood to mean only cod. On the small schooner, to my surprise, I was asked by the waiter whether I would have fish or salmon. Much rain falls during the summer in fact is seemed to me that we had rain last summer practically six days out of the seven, and it was not only rainy, but cold, and the combination was not pleasant especially when sick calls had to be made in open motor boats on trips fifty and sixty miles away. Five or six hours at a stretch spent in an open boat when you are soaked to the skin and shivering with cold are far from pleasant. But when the weather is pleasant it is wonderful indeed. There is a crispness, a fresh tang to the air that sets the pulse bounding. Nowhere are skies so blue, nowhere sunsets or sunsets so magnificent. And after a crisp glorious day nowhere is the Aurora Borealis so magnificent. The winters are extremely cold, the temperature often falling 30 degrees below the freezing point. From December to June the sea is frozen and travelling by land or sea becomes almost impossible. The Strait of Belle Isle between Labrador and Newfoundland, however, is never frozen, though no mail steamers travel along the coast from December to June. The travelling in winter time is done by dog teams, and many are the trips of mercy Dr. Grenfell and his colleagues have made in the bitter winter time. But his recitals of them are far more interesting than any repetition of them I can make and I therefore advise you to read his own accounts of his work. As I have stated before the people are practically all fisher-folk, and they are poor, very poor, but honest, kindhearted and cordial in the extreme. They are intelligent, though uneducated. Because of their poverty, their bad hygiene and living conditions, their restricted diet, tuberculosis especially is rife among the population. The scarcity of doctors, is appalling, for there are none except those whom Dr. Grenfell has been able to secure through the Grenfell Association, a result many people living many miles away from the mission hospital unable to travel to see the doctor, or living too far away for the doctor to come to see them are forced to wait months, especially in the winter time and as a result, become hopelessly incurable by the time they eventually secure medical aid; and, needless to say, large numbers die unattended by a doctor. Practically all births are attended by self-appointed mid-wives and those that I personally met were always the oldest women in the village. Everywhere the people know and love Dr. Grenfell. Everywhere they wait anxiously for his yearly visit, for Dr. Grenfell visits every village at least once a year to minister to the sick in soul and body and to bring help in the way of supplies and clothing. On these trips too, he brings back with him to the nearest mission hospital the sick who are in need of hospital care, and brings back with him to the orphanage at St. Anthony those children whom the vicissitudes of life have left without fathers and mothers for, as I have said before it is an evil coast and wrecks are frequent. Sometimes homes are found for those orphans, but many are taught to lead useful lives at St. Anthony. There were over forty orphans at the orphanage last summer. Dr. Grenfell is now collecting funds for a larger orphanage to be built at St. Anthony as soon as possible, for the present orphanage is entirely too small. St. Anthony is the biggest mission station. Here is where the doctor and his family live. Here also is the biggest hospital practically always filled to capacity. St. Anthony is so situated that large numbers of fisher-folk on their way north or south, to and from the fishing grounds, stop at St. Anthony to have their illness attended to, and there is, therefore, a constant stream of patients day and night while every mail steamer brings large numbers also. Many of these cannot be persuaded to stay in the hospital for necessary treatment, since they are urgently in need of money for the necessities of life, and insist on working though ill. Dr. Grenfell is assisted in his work among the fisher-folk by volunteer workers who come up to the mission stations to help during the summer time, and by a few salaried workers who remain also during the winter and it is a privilege indeed and an inspiration to work with and for Dr. Grenfell and his fisher-folk.

Got a Cold?

Peps will give you relief. Simply dissolve a Peps tablet in your mouth. Your breath carries the medicinal Pine vapor, which is released, to all parts of the throat, nasal and air passages. Peps contains absolutely no harmful drugs and is therefore the safest remedy for children. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25. All dealers, or Peps Co., Toronto. Send 1c. stamp for postage on free trial package.

Peps

MAKE BREATHING EASY

majestic the rocky cliffs rising to a great height and clad with scanty vegetation. I can remember my first impression of the coast of Newfoundland when we landed in July at Port-au-Basque. A young girl, a native of Labrador, who had been sent to school in the States by the mission and was returning to the mission, stood by my side as we entered port. It was a bleak cold, rainy, windy, nasty day. The town of Port-au-Basque looked god-forsaken, huddled a mere handful of houses beneath the meagre shelter of the snow-covered barren cliffs, and I could not agree at all when the little native on the Labrador exclaimed, "Isn't it beautiful!" Before the summer was over I could agree with her perfectly, however; for, in spite of the barrenness, the cold, the austere brutality of the country, there is something about it that creeps into your blood—there is a fascination, an intoxication that will not be denied, but grows in spite of everything. Rivers are few; trees, except in the interior, are sparse; the agricultural resources, practically nil. The elevated and exposed tracts and especially the greater part of the coast line of Northern Newfoundland and of the Labrador itself are generally destitute of soil and therefore of all vegetation though here and there may be found a sparse growth of stunted shrubs and trees. In the North little vegetation exists except moss and lichen. The fogs and violent gales which have been practically exterminated by the white settlers. Now the population is made up of British and French for the most part. The natives of the Labrador proper are Esquimaux who subsist by hunting and fishing. They trade their fish, oils and furs for supplies from England. The main wealth of the Labrador is in its fisheries, of course; and schooners from Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Canada as well as hundreds of American schooners are engaged in the Labrador fishing. Nineteenths of the entire population are engaged in fishing, and although this industry includes cod, herring, salmon, and seal fisheries, so predominant is the cod fishing that in Newfoundland the term fish is understood to mean only cod. On the small schooner, to my surprise, I was asked by the waiter whether I would have fish or salmon. Much rain falls during the summer in fact is seemed to me that we had rain last summer practically six days out of the seven, and it was not only rainy, but cold, and the combination was not pleasant especially when sick calls had to be made in open motor boats on trips fifty and sixty miles away. Five or six hours at a stretch spent in an open boat when you are soaked to the skin and shivering with cold are far from pleasant. But when the weather is pleasant it is wonderful indeed. There is a crispness, a fresh tang to the air that sets the pulse bounding. Nowhere are skies so blue, nowhere sunsets or sunsets so magnificent. And after a crisp glorious day nowhere is the Aurora Borealis so magnificent. The winters are extremely cold, the temperature often falling 30 degrees below the freezing point. From December to June the sea is frozen and travelling by land or sea becomes almost impossible. The Strait of Belle Isle between Labrador and Newfoundland, however, is never frozen, though no mail steamers travel along the coast from December to June. The travelling in winter time is done by dog teams, and many are the trips of mercy Dr. Grenfell and his colleagues have made in the bitter winter time. But his recitals of them are far more interesting than any repetition of them I can make and I therefore advise you to read his own accounts of his work. As I have stated before the people are practically all fisher-folk, and they are poor, very poor, but honest, kindhearted and cordial in the extreme. They are intelligent, though uneducated. Because of their poverty, their bad hygiene and living conditions, their restricted diet, tuberculosis especially is rife among the population. The scarcity of doctors, is appalling, for there are none except those whom Dr. Grenfell has been able to secure through the Grenfell Association, a result many people living many miles away from the mission hospital unable to travel to see the doctor, or living too far away for the doctor to come to see them are forced to wait months, especially in the winter time and as a result, become hopelessly incurable by the time they eventually secure medical aid; and, needless to say, large numbers die unattended by a doctor. Practically all births are attended by self-appointed mid-wives and those that I personally met were always the oldest women in the village. Everywhere the people know and love Dr. Grenfell. Everywhere they wait anxiously for his yearly visit, for Dr. Grenfell visits every village at least once a year to minister to the sick in soul and body and to bring help in the way of supplies and clothing. On these trips too, he brings back with him to the nearest mission hospital the sick who are in need of hospital care, and brings back with him to the orphanage at St. Anthony those children whom the vicissitudes of life have left without fathers and mothers for, as I have said before it is an evil coast and wrecks are frequent. Sometimes homes are found for those orphans, but many are taught to lead useful lives at St. Anthony. There were over forty orphans at the orphanage last summer. Dr. Grenfell is now collecting funds for a larger orphanage to be built at St. Anthony as soon as possible, for the present orphanage is entirely too small. St. Anthony is the biggest mission station. Here is where the doctor and his family live. Here also is the biggest hospital practically always filled to capacity. St. Anthony is so situated that large numbers of fisher-folk on their way north or south, to and from the fishing grounds, stop at St. Anthony to have their illness attended to, and there is, therefore, a constant stream of patients day and night while every mail steamer brings large numbers also. Many of these cannot be persuaded to stay in the hospital for necessary treatment, since they are urgently in need of money for the necessities of life, and insist on working though ill. Dr. Grenfell is assisted in his work among the fisher-folk by volunteer workers who come up to the mission stations to help during the summer time, and by a few salaried workers who remain also during the winter and it is a privilege indeed and an inspiration to work with and for Dr. Grenfell and his fisher-folk.

15 YEARS SUFFERING FROM PILES

Mr. J. McEwen of Dundas, Ont., writes: "For fifteen years I suffered with Piles and could get no permanent cure until I tried Zam-Buk. Perseverance with this herb-balm resulted in a complete cure, and I have not been troubled with the painful ailment since."

Mr. Henry Fougere of Poulton, N.S., says: "I suffered terribly with Piles and could find nothing to give me relief until I tried Zam-Buk. This cured me. I consider Zam-Buk the finest ointment on the market."

The above are specimens of the many letters we are constantly receiving from men and women who have ended their suffering by using Zam-Buk. Why not do likewise? Zam-Buk is best for eczema, blood poisoning, ulcers, sores, cuts, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send this advertisement with name of paper, and one cent stamp for free trial box.

ZAM-BUK WRITE FOR FREE SAMPLE

FOR SALE

One Boulevard Arc Street lamp, three Kbris lamps, complete best lights for store, hall or church. Apply A. B. C. o Guardian. 2433-1-20M1st31

FOR SALE

Farm of 100 acres 6 miles from Charlottetown. Good dwelling house, large and convenient out buildings, wire and cedar fenced, well watered. Has been a dairy farm for 50 years. C. H. ROBERTSON, Marshfield via York

FARMERS' NOTICE

We are prepared to buy any quantity of hogs on hoof, commencing Monday 15th Sept paying highest market prices. We are buying hogs every Wednesday at Hunter River Kensington Albany Station Summerside Tuesdays at Murray River. For information call CANADIAN PACKING CO. LTD. J. M. ROOP, Manager Plant, Kensington Road. Phone 553 and 532. 947-16-Mt.

What's Wrong With Your Eyes?

Do you suffer from headache? Do your eyes tire? It is a signal of overwork. Perhaps, unconsciously, you strain your eyes. Good eyesight is not always strainless sight. Eye strain with good vision is a most common and dangerous form of eye trouble.

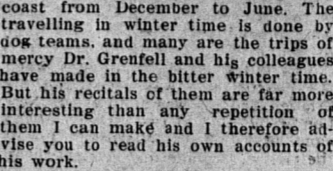

Don't tamper with the precious gift of eyesight. Heed Nature's call for help. Have your eyes examined. What you need is proper glasses. They work wonders for the eyes and usually tone up the whole physical system.

We have all the facilities for testing the eyes and fitting glasses. Why not see us about it tomorrow?

H. J. Mabon

Optomtrist & Prescription Druggist Montague, P. E. I. Next Door Bank of Commerce

WE CARRY EDISON PHONOGRAPHS

Do you intend buying a phonograph this year? If so, call on us for demonstrations of the different models we have in stock. OR Write us for quotations, which will have our prompt attention. We sell them on the installment plan. Call or write today.

Carruthers & Parkman Limited

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Chemicals, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Paints Etc. Montague, P. E. I.

The cleanliness of the sealed package appeals to the daintiness of a woman.

She knows that it protects the contents from dust, dirt, odors and moisture.

She will be doubly pleased with our new waxed board package which we have adopted after several years of testing—because it is stronger, more secure and more completely air-tight; altogether the best container for tea that has yet been devised.

Ask your grocer for Red Rose Tea in the sealed carton.

Red Rose Coffee is as generously good as Red Rose Tea

Red Betty. This is a novel way of preparing tomatoes. Take 3-1/2 cups of stale bread crumbs, soaked in milk; mix thorough with a cup of tomatoes that have been cooked until all the water has evaporated, the yolk of one egg and 1-2 cup of corn meal. Season to taste place in greased baking dish and cover with a layer of bread crumbs spread with dabs of butter. Bake in a moderate oven for about twenty minutes and serve with the meat chicken.

EASTERN STEAMSHIP LINES, INC.

INTERNATIONAL LINE— FREIGHT AND PASSENGER SERVICE ST. JOHN AND BOSTON Steamship "Governor Dingley" will leave St. John every Wednesday at 9 a. m. and every Saturday at 6 p. m. (Atlantic time.) The Wednesday trips are via East port and Lunenburg, due Boston 10 a. m. Thursdays. The Saturday trips are direct to Boston, due there Sundays, 1 p. m. FARE $9.00. STATE ROOMS $2.50 UP "Direct connections with METROPOLITAN FREIGHT STEAMERS for New York via Cape Cod Canal. For freight rates and full information apply A. C. CURRIE, Agents, St. John, N. B." 5521-5-7ME1f. Maritime Province Wholesale Distributors H. L. HEWSON & SON, LTD. Amherst, N. S.

TO FOX BREEDERS

I am about to receive a quantity of the famous Boneless Horse Meat packed by LeSage and Co., of Montreal, P. Q. The quality of this meat is excellent. All horses being examined by a duly authorized veterinary surgeon before meat is packed which comes in boxes of 100 pounds net, no charge on boxes. There is a great difference in the quality of horse meat and the proof that Lesage's is the best lies in the fact that it is being used by the majority of large ranchers in this vicinity. Now is time to order season's supply. Price and full particulars on application to P. A. FARQUHARSON, Prowse Block, Charlottetown, Phone, Office 655, House 752. 2328-11-11M1f.

LIVE HOGS WANTED.

Our agents will take delivery of good fat hogs at the different points as follows: All points west of Summerside and east of Charlottetown on Wednesday of each week. At Summerside, Kensington, Freetown, Emerald, Hunter River and Albany on Thursday of each week. We want good stock for which we will pay highest market value.

WILLIAM DAVIES CO., LTD. E. M. Craig, Manager, Prince Edward Island. 1851-11-27MMTWedJan.

Charlottetown New Universities Dictionary COUPON

How to Get It For the Mere Nominal Cost of Manufacture and Distribution

3 Coupons and 98c

secures this New, authentic Dictionary bound in black flexible seal grain, illustrated with full pages in color and duotone. Present or mail to this paper three Coupons with ninety-eight cents to cover cost of handling, packing, clerk hire, etc.

MAIL ORDERS WILL BE FILLED Adds for Postage: Up to 20 miles 6cts. Over 20 miles 14cts. For greater distances, ask Postmaster rate for 3 pounds. 25 DICTIONARIES IN ONE All Dictionaries published previous to this one are out of date.