

WHAT IS YOUR DEFINITION of ECONOMY?

Ideas differ. Few men think alike. We approached three men who own motor cars and asked them if, in their opinion, there was such a thing as economy in motor car lubrication.

The MISER said:

"Economy? Certainly there is such a thing as economy in motor oils. Would I buy CASTROL? I should say not. I can buy oil that costs far less. How is my car running? It isn't running. It's out in the shed. The engine seized up last week. Costs too much to drive a car anyway!!!"

The PROFLIGATE said:

"Economy? Where have I heard that word before? Why bother? Motor oil only costs a few cents anyway. I just drive up to any old garage and say 'Fill her up with oil, Jack.' How is the engine running, do you say? Well, I've only had her six months and I'm thinking of trading her in for a new one. She sounds like a cement-mixer."

The THRIFTY MAN said:

"Do I use CASTROL? Most decidedly! Every thinking man does. It costs about 10c a quart more, but I get twice, often three times the mileage. With the money I saved by using CASTROL last year I sent my boy to a summer camp."

In the Interests of Economy Use WAKEFIELD CASTROL MOTOR OIL

The United Sunday School, on Sunday morning last, observed its quarterly missionary services. The attendance of sixty-five was somewhat larger than usual, and the missionary contribution was also well above the average. The program throughout was conducted by the Juniors who had been very carefully trained by their teacher, Miss Janie Andrews. After marching to their places on the platform, to the accompaniment of softly played music, Howard Wedlock opened the school and announced the hymns. John Gillis led in the responsive Scripture reading, and the class led in Prayer. The program consisted of a duet by Irene Nicholson and Edith Bagnall, Reading by Eric Brown; recitation by Doris Smith, singing by Marion Stevenson, Edith Bagnall, Irene Nicholson and Doris Smith; recitation by Stanley Watts; singing by the entire class, and during the offering, singing by the boys of the class.

A good time is again being looked forward to when the Rally Day service will be carried out on Sept. 30, and considerable interest is also being taken in the Prize Temperance Study Campaign which opens November 18th. A number of scholars have already signified their intention of entering the competition and doubtless many others within the age limit specified will join up. The lessons are splendidly illustrated and simply written. They have no reference whatever to sect, politics, or prohibition, but contain in a readable form the latest known facts and findings of science regarding the effect of alcoholic beverages. At the close of the series, examinations will be held and a thousand prizes, local, provincial and national, are being offered for those making the best standing. A prize also is being awarded to the Sun (y) school obtaining the highest aggregate marks in proportion to its membership. Also at the school hour Sunday morning, delegates were appointed to attend the convention in connection with the Maritime Religious Education Council, which meets in Pleasant Valley church for afternoon and evening sessions on Monday, Sept. 10. At the afternoon session, the local school will take part in the program, one of the delegates reading a paper on "How shall we measure the success of our Sunday School?" Mr. Chapman, at the evening service in the Murray Harbor church, conducted the annual Autumn Thankoffering Service for the W. M. S. of that place.

Rev. A. E. Chapman, pastor of the United Church here, conducted the services in the Murray Harbor congregation, a former pastor, on Sunday last, exchanging with Rev. CAR WILDLY DRIVES OVER HIGH BANK AFTER CRASH
"Youthful Driver Loses Control After Collision—Trees Keep Car from Plunging Into River—Three Girls Injured."
BRIDGEWATER, Aug 29.—A collision, a wild dive over a forty-foot embankment, and a crash against a cluster of trees on a river bank, struck terror into the hearts of spectators, and caused severe injuries to three young girls tonight.

Fred, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Caseley formerly of Georgetown P. E. I. was driving the three girls from Bridgewater, to LaHave. It was reported he was traveling at a fast rate. Not far from Bridgewater, he crashed into the car of Rev. Mr. Tuck, of the Church of England, LaHave. The youthful driver lost control of his car, which dashed down a forty-foot embankment and crashed into a clump of trees on the water's brink.

One of the girls was knocked unconscious by the force of the impact, and received severe injury to her spine. Another had her face and her eyes badly cut and bruised, and the third sustained injuries to her arm. The youth apparently was unhurt. The vehicle was badly damaged.

Rev. Mr. Tuck, escaped unharmed and his car was only slightly damaged in the crash.

A strange coincidence of the accident, was the fact that Mr. Bruce E. Riggs, now of Bridgewater, but formerly of Charlottetown, P. E. I. was included in the proposed trip. After partaking of his supper he proceeded to his room to dress; feeling a little tired, he decided to rest for a little while-but hardly decided to visit slumberland-but nevertheless he did. While in the meantime, his friend, Fred, searched high and low without success for Mr.

Riggs, until finally he decided to proceed without him. No sooner had he gone, when Bruce with a start, roused himself from his refreshing sleep, and, needless to say, rushed to meet his chum, only to learn with considerable disappointment that Mr. Caseley had already gone, but his disappointment was short-lived, when shortly after he received the news of the above serious accident.
