

He Married an Angel!

"Boy! Annabella's Angel Cake is downright delicious right to the last velvety crumb!" says Amiable Ambrose, "ordinary cake may be all right for some people, but I'm glad my wife's a real Cook—she always uses Swans Down—and the wonderful results she gets!"

Mrs. Ambrose knows that Swans Down is carefully made from the softest of selected Canadian winter wheat, ground and re-ground, sifted and re-sifted through silk until it's actually 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Swans Down's excellence ensures success if you follow the directions. Novice or expert, you'll find that Friend Husband will rave over your cakes if they're made with Swans Down! And it's economical too, because Swans Down guarantees no waste of other ingredients.

Uigg Farmers' Institute Meeting

The 12th annual meeting of Uigg Farmers Institute showed that the Institute has operated for 12 years. A summary of business done showed a volume of seventy thousand dollars for the above period. Conjointly our Institute has encouraged when possible whatever was thought of interest and benefit to our community. During the past year it fostered the organization of a boys' and girls' club and poultry club. With the construction of improved highways and increased tourist traffic, the beautifying of our homes by the higher officials has been urged as being a provincial asset and enhancing the value of farm property, and it was discussed by members present encouraging the extension of the electric line to Uigg and Kinross which would find favor with not a few.

In discussing the economic and agricultural conditions the following extracts from the president's address may be of interest to members who were not present. "We feel we are still in the throes of depression or suffering from the consequence thereof. Farmers say 'this is the hardest fall yet.' The revenue from farms is incomparably low. According to provincial statistics our farm revenue dropped from 25 million dollars to the present low level of 5 millions. This financial condition is in some measure due to poor crops, but more so to limited market and high cost of overhead. The deplorable condition of agriculture in the province is shown by the number of vacant farms, 700 in all, and many acres slipping back into reforestation. The youth of our province are leaving us and finding employment elsewhere. The exodus from our province results in decreased taxable property and an embarrassing situation for any government to carry on the public affairs of the province. Acknowledging as we all do that agriculture forms the basic industry of the province upon which the economic prosperity depends, one would presuppose its recovery and prosperity would form the chief concern of our governments and all classes of citizens. In this regard we note the utmost indifference. When the 'axe of economy' is laid as to government expenditure, agriculture receives it in the neck first of all. In this regard we note that provincial grants formerly $15,000,000 and for the year 1936 there were 500 cases of firms who went through bankruptcy and had their debts discounted. Obviously the question arises 'Why should not farmers be entitled to like privileges?'"

"Another depressing aspect of agriculture is seen in the number of mortgaged farms; fully 50% of farm properties are heavily encumbered beyond their market value. This condition coupled with starved fertility would require considerable capital to bring them back to profitable production. To improve the status of agriculture there should be an effort made to appeal for coordination in a logical and reasonable manner. It should be imperative that every farmer should endeavour to work out the cost of production of what he grows and sells. It should be a reasonable proposition to demand that our government should establish a 'bureau' for estimating the cost of growing various crops and feeding of stock. When the results are obtained our government should at least recompense the farmer to at least the cost of production."

"A detailed account showed the cost of producing to the average farmer, 1 bus. of potatoes, oats, turnips and wheat. The results of investigation showed that:
1 bus. of potatoes cost from 50c. to 60c.
1 bus. of oats cost 80c.
1 bus. of turnips cost 13c.
1 bus. of wheat cost $1.00 plus.
"The high cost of production is no doubt due to the high cost of machinery which has doubled within the last 25 years. The western farmers are successful in getting the ear of the government for assistance while the eastern farmers' interests are entirely ignored. It is evident of late years, that the tendency of governments today is to go more and more into business. Governments should stand or fall as to their ability to create markets of highest value. In order to meet subsidized competition governments have to fix prices and take the kick of falling markets. A country can only become wealthy by the volume of exported goods whether from the factory or farm. It is not an unreasonable thing of a thing to be ashamed of for agriculture to preach the cost of production. A farmer must feel he is prospering to carry on."

Financial Statement
In presenting the financial statement for 1938 the secretary stated that seeds of the highest quality were handled. The seeds were generally obtained from the Kenora district and produced beneficial results. When not able to get seed from the above district, local firms were dealt with and seed obtained at reasonable prices.
The amount of seed handled for 1938 was 2082 lbs. valued at $435.60.
Twine handled for 1938 was 10 bales valued at $41.50.
Feed handled for 1938 was 50 bales valued at $173.99.
Total business—$651.00.

Greek Steamer In Difficulties

TEKOMASTON, Me., April 11—(AP)—The Greek steamer Elongo A. Kydoniatis was reported in distress two miles north of Cape Verde in a message intercepted by MacKay radio station tonight. MacKay said the call did not indicate the nature of the ship's difficulties. The distress call did not make clear, MacKay said, whether the position given referred to the Cape Verde Islands, off the west coast of Africa, or Cape Verde on that coast. MacKay said local interference made reception of the Greek ship's message extremely difficult to read. Because of the ship's remote position from the United States its distress call did not necessitate halt in normal traffic on this side of the ocean.
