THE sky is the limit at the great International Proving Ground of General Motors.

limit of its ability. The new Oldsmobile went through 1,117,000 miles of testing at the Proving Ground before it was ever offered to the public—tests far more severe than any other could ever give.

Engineers and critics confirm what these tests prove when they speak of it as "two years ahead" and "The Fine Car of Low Price."

And thousands of buyers throughout the world have added further proof in the form of millions of miles of driving.

But don't accept even this proof as final. Come drive the Oldsmobile yourself and make your own comparisons.

Every phase of a car's performance is tested to the limit.

It possesses unusual hill-climbing abilities, there are hills varying from 7.2 to 21 per cent. in grade, and from 125 to more than 2,000 feet in length.

If it is endowed with exceptional stamina, it may be driven 24 hours a day, week after week, as long as it will stand the strain, over roads which duplicate every ordinary driving condition.

Funeral Services Of The Late Miss Martha Clark

The funeral services of Miss Martha Clark of Sompetta, India, native of P. E. I., and sister of Superintendent Clark of the Experimental Station who died recently after 34 years of missionary service in India.

The service was held in the Baptist Church yesterday at 1 p. m. and was conducted by the Minister, Rev. Ross C. Eaton, assisted by Rev. Arthur Matheson of Dundas, P. E. I., and Rev. Dr. E. H. Ramsay of this city.

Dr. Ramsay read the scripture, and Rev. Mr. Matheson led in prayer. Mrs. H. S. Henderson sang very effectively, "One Sweetly Solenn Thought."

By special request of the officers of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union, the Hymn "Servant of Christ Well Done" was rendered by the choir at the service.

The following was Mr. Eaton's address:

We are called aside from the duties and absorptions of our lives today, to the quiet of this sanctuary to pause and reflect on the departure to the Great Beyond, of a life of rare worth and outstanding service.

It is most appropriate that we gather in this public place of worship, not only that space may be do her tribute, but that a large and public recognition should be given to this noble servant of God who has finished her course. Many are called to serve God and spend their days in the more quiet and secluded ways of the home, not remote from the hand of their birth, where amidst a relatively intimate circle of friends they go in and out.

There are the few to whom the call comes to broader fields of service in some more particular sphere in lands remote. Such was her life.

She was a worthy daughter of Prince Edward Island brought up in a community of rare charm and beauty. Her father did not seem to leave her fair imprint upon the soul, but Grace at an early period wrought a work within her heart and she became a Christian, earnestly concerned about all those interests which relate themselves to the church and Kingdom of God.

Very often in the ministry, one is called upon to perform a duty and face a task for which one realizes his unworthiness and inadequacy. We share the feeling of a John the Baptist as he sensed his unworthiness to perform even the menial task of unloosing or tying the latch of the shoe of his great master.

When the great Apostle of God mentioned the distinguished ranks of those who serve the Lord by particular gifts, He places first in rank the Apostle or the Missionary. There are other fields of service of rich compensation but should we not today recognize the unique and high place of the servant of God who is the Herald of the Evangel of the Ambassador of God to a remote land and alien race. While we all may share in their joys and achievements they are the trail blazers and the road makers of Christian Civilization which are yet to be in these more darkened lands. We honor them all today in paying our tribute to one who for a period of 34 years has given unstintingly of her life of talented culture and christian personality. Only those who have followed more closely the detail work on the Mission field and are intimately acquainted with our Canadian Baptist work can fully appreciate the inestimable contribution she has made to the noblest work to which a person may devote self. A full and adequate appraisal of her life and work will appear at a later date in the columns of our Church paper written by those who have walked and worked with her and know of her efforts as we in the homeland cannot.

Her going is a very deep loss to the intimate relatives and more personal friends who loved her dearly. The home ties of those who go to foreign lands are not broken lightly, in fact they deepen in appreciation with the long distances and passing years.

Her passing is of more than personal significance. For years she has been cherished by a great Christian body in these Maritime Provinces.

"Naramata United Church was the setting for a very pretty wedding on June 7th, when Miss Alice Elizabeth Myers, who graduated from the University of B. C. with honors in 1926 and Mr. Frank Harper Hughes of Penticton were united in marriage.

The church was beautiful with roses and ferns, the arch under which the bridal group stood being formed of white ribbon and pink roses.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a frock of white silk georgette trimmed with pearls and brilliants. Her hand embroidered veil of silk tulle was crowned with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink and cream roses and white carnations. Miss Myers is a niece of Rev. Dr. Myers of Toronto, and of Rev. Professor Myers of Hartford Theological college.

Miss Marjorie Dimmick of Armstrong, also a B. A. of U. B. C. was bridesmaid, and was dressed in blue and silver shot taffeta. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations, and asparagus fern. Two little flower girls Miss Catherine and Frances Hughes, neices of the groom, were lovely in dresses of mauve jorgande. They carried dainty baskets of rose petals and carnations. Mr. Joseph Marsh of Peachland supported the groom and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Atchison pastor of the United Church. During the signing of the register, Miss Carrie Price sang, "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mr. E. C. Royall, who also played the "Wedding March." A guard of honor was formed by Boy Scouts from Mr. Hughes' troop in Penticton, and Mr. Charles Kennedy and Mr. Robert Gilley acted as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were decorated with masses of roses and syringas, and a three tier wedding cake stood on the bride's table. Her mother was dressed in black satin trimmed with silver, while Mrs. D. O. Hughes, mother of the groom, wore black georgette with touches of blue and gold.

The popular young couple left for a honeymoon trip surrounding the west coast of Vancouver Island, and on their return they will reside on Baird St., Penticton B. C.

Note—Miss Myers is a daughter of James and Mrs. Myers, Naramata B. C., formerly of Lake Verda, P. E. I. and a granddaughter of the late William L. and Mrs. Morrison of North Tryon, P. E. I.

Mission Meeting

Those present at the gospel tent on Gerald St. Tuesday night were favorably impressed with the personal appearance and message of the Rev. D. M. MacDonald on the "Tragedy of the Soul". His wife, Faith MacDonald, who with her parents and other members of the family have spent nearly a score of years in Missionary work among natives of Africa, delivered a very touching address to the goodly number of boys and girls who listened with rapt attention as she graphically related the early conversion and call to the Mission field of her father and mother Saunders.

At the close of her remarks, during which time she exhibited a number of curios and explained their relation to the heathen Zulus, she asked all the boys and girls who wanted to yield their lives to Christ and his service to come forward. Thirteen responded and in simple faith offered themselves to the Master.

The sight was impressive. After the singing of "Just as I am without one plea" and "Jesus lover of my soul," Mr. Turpel dismissed the meeting with a prayer for the future welfare of the young lives that had taken the decisive step toward Christ.

Evangelist Turpel will bring the message tonight (Thursday). A cordial welcome to all.
