(Special to Johnston and Ward)

MORNING MARKET GOSSIP

The New York Stock Exchange, New York Curb, Montreal Stock Exchange, Montreal Curb Market and Chicago Board of Trade will all be closed Saturday July 29th.

The market demonstrated yesterday its ability to resist selling and then rally. We expect a steady market today, with probably higher prices. G. U. Burdett, Laid, law and Company

MORNING MARKET LETTER

The market opened strong and active yesterday and maintained a firm tone until late in the day when a sharp reaction developed followed by an equally sharp recovery.

The steels which had been laggards the day before, were strong with Bethlehem the feature.

This Company may participate in shipbuilding program of the government. Rails also did better than they have been doing recently. The strength in stocks was aided by large advances in the grains. Some stocks exceeded their prices of the first recovery, but the general market has not. It would not be surprising to see further strength, but it should be remembered that a normal secondary recaitno can scarcely be said to have taken place yet.—Laidlaw and Company.

TRADING FORECAST

The market is expected to make further progress on the upside today, under the leadership of the steels, Rails and Motors.

Wall Street Mirror says: "Irregularity will continue to rule in the stock market, and the suggestion continues to be that traders maintain a trading position. Not all the stocks are going to move in the same direction for some little time to come. The sudden selling wave which developed in the gold stocks on Thursday was set down to rumors from Washington and carried the whole market for a time. Support which was rushed into the standard leading issues snapped prices upward in a hurry. All of this irregularity occurred in the face of extreme strength in the grain pit.

Wall Street as a rule believes that a general test of the market's position is near at hand. At any rate, it further strengthens the advisability of only making fresh committments on the long side on weak spots. Due to its position in the shipbuilding industry through subsidiaries, Bethlehem Steel could have and independent move. Bethlehem was one of the issues used to rally the market on Thursday, and it would not be at all surprising to see the stock market move into high ground when the contracts for new ships are awarded. The previous high for Bethlehem Steel was 49¾.

The excellent reports being put forth by the railroads are making themselves felt market-wise. In connection with the increase in Rail earnings it is generally felt that as the roads reach the point where fixed charges are being earned they will begin to spend money for equipment. As pointed out on numerous occasions equipment buying, when it does begin, could very easily extend well above a half a billion dollars. The equipment shares, therefore merit the serious consideration of both traders and investors—Mirror.

COLOR CHART FOR BROWN-EYED GIRL

The girl with brown eyes, brown hair and creamy complexion can wear a wider range of colors than the blonde, the redhead or the white haired sisters.

She looks well in black, if there is a bit of bright color with it, she can wear red, navy and French blue, and brown if it is a warm velvet tone.

Almond green flatters her, she can get away with yellow.

But she should avoid purple, beige unless it has a pink cast, and dark grays.

LINSEED OIL FOR OXIDIZED METAL

To remove stains from oxidized metal, rub quickly with a soft cloth moistened with linseed oil. If the stains are obstinate, apply the oil and leave over night; then the following morning polish with a soft duster until no trace of the oil remains.

Cheerful people, says a doctor, resist disease better than glum ones. The surly bird catches the germ.
