Here's a rule you'll find will pay - Change your undies EVERY day!

THE ORDINARY SEAMAN
He may never be too stylish. But he's the stoutest, bravest fighter He doesn't wear a uniform Of tailored Navy blue. That the world has ever seen, He's the Ordinary Seaman Of the Mercantile Marine.

He's the lad upon the tanker, With its precious load of oil; He's the one who mans the freighter, With the products of our toil; He's the one that dres her raider And the lurking submarine; He's the Ordinary Seaman Of the Mercantile Marine.

Let's give credit to our Air Force And the boys in khaki, too; Let's give credit to our Navy, And wherever it is due. But don't forget the vital cog In great Britain's war machine— He's the Ordinary Seaman Of the Mercantile Marine.

Join the LUX DAILY DIPPER

What girl wouldn't blush for shame at being found guilty of undie odor? Yet some girls think nothing of wearing the same undies day after day!

It's awfully foolish to risk popularity when it's so easy to be a Lux Daily Dipper. Just dip your undies in Lux every night as soon as you step out of them. Lux gets rid of the perspiration that causes undie odor... keeps nice undies fresh and new-looking. Start dipping your undies tonight.

Stranger In Shady Gulch

By Denver Bardwell

"Shooting might come later, but right at first, there's work without any shooting required. You get on your horse by daylight, Rooster, and go riding with Mr. John Bascom, the land commissioner for this district. Get out to his house before sun-up, and go with him to Thumb Creek valley. He's going to take a look-see at those unfinished wells and other proofs that those Thumb Creek homesteads were never improved lawful. How many other men did you round up tonight?"

"We found six," Chick put in, "and they don't have three or four more by tomorrow."

"Good!" Radkin approved, highly pleased. "I hope you two and the others have never used your honest rights anywhere, because you're going to use them now. I want you two fellows to file claims on those two last homesteads astraddle of Thumb Creek at the east end, where it comes down from Half Diamond range and bends westward."

"We'll move Bar M headquarters quarter section numbers from the quarter while mostly riding for me. Likewise the other men will file. That'll keep Thumb Creek valley open for my cows and give old Tom Lally fits."

"You talk like you do already bought the Bar M," Rooster said. "Chick will be helping something while you ride nurse on the land commissioner tomorrow. You get Bascom out there and get here by Thursday night—that's day after tomorrow. We've got to get those county records and we'll have the re-enter them Friday if Bascom does what he promised. While you're out there, get the Meehan boys and the three boys of the MW to come in and enter claims Friday; you can persuade 'em."

"Sorta backwards and forwards, Chick replied. "He used to drink with 'em."

"Fine!" You take this ten-dollar bill," Radkin directed, "and get out soon the saloons open in the morning. If you can't find a saloon, bring it up to Ormond's room, and have him good and soused by eleven o'clock. Just make sure he don't get too far gone to sleep. I gonna help you buy the Bar M tomorrow."

"No, you still good friends with Ben Ormond?"

"Sorta backwards and forwards, Chick replied. "He used to drink with 'em."

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE Hits CATARRH Misery Fast!

When acute catarrh makes breathing difficult—causes stuffy head, watery eyes, nasal irritation and distress, put a few drops of Vicks-Vapo-rinol in each nostril and enjoy the relief it brings.

V-A-T-R-O-NOL is so successful because it does three very important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose, (2) clears out discomfort-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many catarrhs, says V-V's best-selling agent, are relieved by V-V.

Dorothy Dix Says—

MARRYING A DRUNKARD MEANS A FAREWELL TO HAPPINESS

No Miracle In Marriage Ceremony That Will Cure Man's Thirst

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of 18 deeply in love with a boy of 20. He drinks like a fish and acts like he is crazy when he is drunk. He says all sorts of insulting things to me and threatens to slap me. But still I think more of him than anybody in the world. He tells me that when he gets in the army he is going to drink twice as much as he does now and won't give a damn for anything.

If he acts like this now, what will he do after I marry him? Will I be one of the women with tears on my pillow?

ANSWER—Have you been so fortunate as never to have known a woman who is married to a drunkard? Have you never seen one of the poor, pathetic creatures who have been dragged down into the gutter by their drunken husbands? If you haven't, ask the policeman on your corner to take you to a drunkard's home.

You will find it a shabby place, with broken chairs and makeshift furniture, with no comforts and conveniences. You will find the drunkard's wife the saddest-faced and most hopeless woman you have ever seen, who looks years older than she is, for she has burned out her youth listening for the sound of the dragging step and watching for the man she loves to come staggering down the street, hooded, at by the hoodlums. You will see undernourished, ragged little children whose father has spent on liquor the money that should have gone for good food and warm clothing.

CONSIDER THE FUTURE

When you look at a drunkard's wife, say to yourself: "There, but for the mercy of God, am I. That is the way I will look if I marry a boy who is a drunkard. That is the sort of children will have if I commit the crime against them of giving them a drunken father. That is the sort of squalor I will live in if I marry a man who spends every cent he makes on liquor."

One good-night kiss, if it is given on the pay-for-taking-me-to-the-movie basis, probably has no more significance than a handshake, but one should be the limit. More are dangerous. A girl can get just as drunk on kisses as she can on liquor.

BORED HUSBAND

DEAR MISS DIX—Every time I suggest anything to my husband he shuts his eyes and mumbles: "Oh, God, now WHAT?" How do you interpret this?

ANSWER—I should say that he is extremely bored and feels that he has come to the limit of human endurance.

Could it be, by any chance, that you are a nagger and that you tell him over and over again to do the same thing, or that you harp on some one thing he has made a mistake about? But whatever the reason, your husband's aversion for endurance, I would suggest that you take stock of your home conversation and see what it is that you talk about that makes him so weary, and try to get a new and more sparkling line.

Sore Mouth, Loose Teeth

Bleeding gums, sore mouth and loose teeth are signs that you are a victim of Pyorrhea or Gingivitis that may sooner or later cause you to lose many of your teeth and have to wear false teeth before you are 40.

Amosan must promptly and effectively overcome sore mouth, curb bleeding gums and help restore the firmness of your teeth.

Amosan may be obtained from your druggist. Buy Amosan in bulk for the best protection.

THE COOK'S CORNER

PEANUT BRITTLE

One-half cup golden corn syrup, 1-4 cup maple syrup, 1 cup shell, and the juice of a grapefruit and 1 large lemon Pour into pan lined pie plate, cover top of pie with meringue if you like or 2 1/2 cups pastry to make a crisp-crust, and bake at 325 deg Fahr for about 35 minutes—having bottom of pie part of baking to prevent crust soaking.

COORN KISSES

(Sugars)

One-half cup white corn syrup, 1 to 1-4 cups crisp corn flax, 1-2 cup grated coconut (if available) if not use chopped walnuts or peanuts. 1 egg white. Beat the egg white until stiff and slowly add the corn syrup—if you do not add it slowly the white will collapse. Fold in corn flax and coconut or nuts and drop onto buttered pan and bake in moderate oven of 35 degrees F. for about 8 minutes, then reduce heat to 275 and bake until biscuit colored, and until, when cool is taken from oven and exposed to
