Almost every day The Guardian receives orders by mail to insert news matter of an advertising nature. In most of these cases the senders, who are frequently not known to any member of the staff and who have no account in the advertising department, write "Please insert the following and oblige." The subscription price is not sufficient to even pay the actual cost of paper, ink, presswork, mailing, bookkeeping and other expenses of the circulation department. Proper, and thus subscribers have no privilege of free advertising and are on the same footing as non-subscribers. Seldom ever does the sender state whether the item is to appear in the Morning Daily or in the Evening Daily, whether for one or more times in either Daily, or in both, whether as a display advertisement, announcement, business local, classified ad or otherwise. When for church or charitable purposes they seldom ever say or do not enclose sufficient money to pay for same, all of which will be returned by first mail in the event of the item not being chargeable, or if more money is sent than necessary to pay for the item the surplus will be returned at once, there being a discount for cash with order for advertising in churches & than for regular business. In all such cases the Advertising department communicates with the sender as quickly as possible by mail or phone, often paying the messenger service to get them to the telephone not being a factor, thus saving all possible time. People writing this office to know if News, Letters to Editor, etc., are charged for, and to all such there is but one reply—all items etc., are money making nature, even though they be somewhat of a news nature, are chargeable. For instance, the advance notice or notices of a concert, lecture, picnic, etc., are chargeable if there is an admission fee, silver collection, sale of pies or sale of food or refreshments, etc. Advance notices of purely religious services, even though a silver collection is to be taken up, are not chargeable. The particulars of any of the above, often they have been held, are, however, news and thus not chargeable. The news of any past, present or future business, which is still being conducted, is chargeable, if it is apparent that the object of it is to make the business more widely known and thus increase it. Verases accompanying death notices are also chargeable. Even items which are actual news and not chargeable but ones in either Morning Daily or Evening Daily or both are chargeable for more than one insertion, as they are thus not news.

The above facts are given for the purpose of assisting persons who have items, etc., to mail to this office, so that delay and disappointment will be avoided.

PASTOR RESIGNS TO BECOME UNDERTAKER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The Rev. Dr. Bradford Leavitt has resigned his pastorate of the First Unitarian church of this city to become an undertaker. Dr. Leavitt made this announcement yesterday, saying that he had been compelled to abandon the ministry on account of weakness of the eyes, and that he was entering the undertaking profession in the hope of "dispelling its atmosphere of superstition and gloom which has been inherited from the heathens and sometimes heathen methods and ideas of the past."

"There is something barbaric in our method of dealing with death," said Dr. Leavitt, in resigning his pastorate. "The Chinese are far more civilized in this. I am averse to the darkening of houses, the pulling down of blinds and the general morbid atmosphere that is affected in a house stricken by death."

It has been arranged for the hockey teams of the league to meet on the 18th of this month and some splendid sport will no doubt be in evidence as each club has a reputation for clean, fair, sport to uphold. The hockey games will be double headers, four teams going on the ice the same night. The first games will be the Connaughts vs Abbies and St. Dunstan's vs Vics.

FIRE INSURANCE MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Charlottetown Fire Insurance Co., was held in the Board of Trade rooms last evening. The attendance was large and the director's report of the years business highly satisfactory. A resolution was unanimously passed thanking the retiring directors for the splendid manner in which they had conducted the business of the company for the past year. The directors elected for the ensuing year are: Geo. E. Hughes, President, Herbert Fennell, A. C. Duchemin, R. C. Goff and J. A. Farquharson.

ANOTHER SPLENDID PROGRAM.—Patrons of The People's Theatre, Charlottetown, last evening witnessed another well casted program of pictures. In fact the whole evening's entertainment was good thereby furnishing the audience with many enjoyable moments. The comedies by the Keystone Co. entitled, "At Coney Island" and "A Grocer Clerk's Romance" were rip roaring pictures. The Lubin drama, "The Sheriff's Daughter" is splendidly acted out besides showing some very pretty scenery. Gaumont's Weekly pictures are always interesting keeping one in full knowledge of the different events of interest that happen throughout the world. The singing of Mr. Ritz was very fine. His enunciation is perfect, every word being understood and his voice stood out lovely in the song "Over The Ocean Blue." His other number "That's My Personality" is another of the clever kind he is singing. The incidental music for the pictures was rendered by Mrs. Tomlins in fine style, making the bill for last night a well constructive one.

REFER STRIKES TO ARBITRATION.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Compulsory arbitration was denounced today by Samuel Bompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a speech before the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation.

William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, also denounced compulsory arbitration. "Employees and employers in the United States and Canada are most at one against it," he asserted. "Both sides declare that until some more satisfactory method of adjusting disputes is reached, strikes and lockouts are preferable to any system of surrender to injustice. They are largely divided on the question of compulsory investigation with voluntary acceptance of the award of a board of investigation and arbitration."

Oscar S. Straus, chairman of the board which arbitrated the railroad engineers' demands, said that the employment of public service corporations, including railroads, are entitled to a national wage commission for their protection in wage matters, with powers, if necessary, to raise railroad rates to insure increased pay for employees.

A. B. Garreston, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Conductors, criticized the method of arbitration of this body, he declared knew nothing of the problems involved. "If we must arbitrate we will arbitrate along accepted lines. We'll accept no more vagaries," he declared. He supported the firemen in their call for arbitration under the Erdman law.

LECTURE AT THE SHORT COURSE

(Continued from page nine.) breeders of light horses to breed one of three distinct classes that are in demand in the country to-day. These are the carriage horses; these are the carriage horses; these are the carriage horses.

The carriage horse is produced in the largest numbers and of the most suitable types by using a hackney sire, of good quality, and straight, clean action, about 15-2 to 15-3 hands high, and weighing in the neighborhood of 1,200 lbs. In order to produce good saddle horses it would be necessary to use thoroughbred blood. The lecturer cautioned the people to be careful, as the thoroughbred being the most prepotent horse in the world to-day would reproduce his own characteristics. If he were an animal of good type, sound and tractable, with plenty of bone and size, he should prove beneficial to the community.

On the other hand, if the thoroughbred is of the long-legged, light-bodied, flat-racing type, unsound and bad-tempered, no horse could do more damage to any community. The students were strongly advised, they were using thoroughbred, to get one of the right type, or else not try to breed that class of horse.

Road horses were the third class discussed. As the Island does not use motor power of any kind on the roads, and therefore all their road work has to be done by horses, the road horse should prove particularly suitable to the people if bred properly. The advice given was to breed them fairly large, 1,000 and upwards in weight, in height from 15-1 to 15-3 and strongly built throughout. The more beautiful the horse, the more money he was worth, if he were sound and clean-gaited. As road horses, square trotters are much preferred to pacers, and it should be the aim of the breeder to get what will suit the market best. While the small road horse may do well for city driving in a light runabout, it is not advisable to have farmers breed this class, as even a number of misfits are produced which are very little money. On the other hand, a larger horse, even though somewhat coarse and lacking in the qualities that go to make up the first-rater can nevertheless be sold at a fair price, as a light expresser or delivery horse, or falling that to find a market as a useful horse on the farm.

The animals for the class work were supplied by the McKinnon Drug Co., Hammond Kelly, Dr. Petrick and G. D. Wright. These gentlemen very kindly placed their animals at the disposal of the class for judging purposes, and also for comparison as to their good and bad points.

The work in field husbandry, seed judging, etc., at the Agricultural Short Course is practically concluded for this week. Great interest has been taken in this branch of the course and the attendance has been all that could be expected. On Thursday the chief work taken up was in the judging of the seed of clovers and grasses. After the regular sessions, optional work was given in weed seed identification and in the eradication of weed pests. This line of work is of particular importance to farmers whose fields are already infested with some of the weeds which so commonly find in our commercial grasses and clover seeds. The failure of the farmer to detect and so guard against introducing weeds is a notorious nature into an otherwise clean farm is of prime importance. A few weed seeds added to the hundreds of millions already in his farm does not seem much if those weeds are only such as he finds already in his fields. If, however, through his inability to detect these species of noxious weed seeds in these clovers, he introduces some new weed even in small amounts on his farm or in his locality which may do incalculable harm. Added to this the fact that the germination of some of the common commercial seeds is not as high as it should be. This makes it possible for the careless farmer to buy and pay for large amounts of seed material, thus making the price of the good seed which the sample contains very much higher than he realizes. Another feature prominently brought out in this discussion is the fact that no seed sold in the markets is necessarily government tested, while all seeds sold as seed is liable to government inspection and must average up to the grade for which it is sold. Failing this, the seller of such seed is liable to prosecution.

Next week the work of this branch will be in potatoes, roots, such as mangels, turnips, etc., and corn. For this work, as mentioned before, Mr. Doying of Macdonald College, Mr. Blair, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm, Kentville, N. S., Mr. S. J. Moore, Seed Inspector for New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, as well as J. A. Clark, Superintendent of the Experimental Farm here in Charlottetown will be present.

Tuesday and Wednesday of next week there will be classes in Sheep Husbandry conducted by James A. Telfer. On Tuesday Mr. Telfer will shear a sheep and roll up the fleece in the most up-to-date way. Optional classes begin at 11 a. m. and end at 3.30 p. m.

W. E. Calbeck, Tryon, maritime representative of the De Laval separator, will give a demonstration at the short course to those interested in dairying. An exceptionally close skinning was done yesterday, so low that it was beyond enumeration barely leaving a trace of butter fat.

Advertising phone No. 132-3, instead of 133, although all those departments and their respective phone numbers are plainly given in the telephone book. Some people, instead of looking at the book, even phoned one other department. All this is a great waste of time on the part of the person phoning, the operator at the Central, and the clerk in the department wrongly phoned. The news staff, on an upper floor, cannot give the necessary information about either advertising or subscriptions, nor the advertising staff about subscriptions or news, nor the subscription staff about advertising or news. In other words the clerks know and can do but their own work in their own departments, and if it were otherwise they would be continually running from one department to another, upstairs and down, mixing work, wearing themselves out and causing the greatest possible confusion. On and after 6 p. m. daily it is useless to ask for any phone numbers except 132 and 133.

Patrons who consult their phone books for the numbers they really want will greatly lessen the work of the patient Central telephone and Guardian clerks and thus help make their lives much brighter and happier.

DUBLIN, Jan. 31.—The Nationalists have a majority in Derry of 57.

WHAT YANKEES CAN DO

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Brig. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, U. S. A., blames the school histories for the public's alleged lack of interest in the army. He thinks a spirit of braggadocio has been bred in the average American due to statements over the seasons of British troops; they are taught that the same class of troops whipped the English soldiers in the war of 1812, and so on through all the wars. There never was such rot put into the form of history. Our fighting in these wars was pitiable and the conduct of the raw and untrained troops with one or two exceptions was disgraceful.

"We were beaten in every battle in 1812 with two exceptions, one of them fought after the war closed and our capital and public buildings were burned. The same thing came near happening again after Bull Run.

"We are without a mobile army which could be used in case of sudden war. We could not train the citizen soldiery which would have to be recruited short of a year. No one doubts the ability to make soldiers out of the citizens of this country, but it cannot be done in a month or six months.

"At the beginning of all our wars the untrained troops have always proved ineffective and inefficient, yet our school histories have been issued year after year teaching the youth of the land the falsehood that we can lick all creation. It is time that this false impression was corrected and that our people became informed of the true state of unpreparedness for war or an emergency requiring any extended use of troops."

OBJECTIONS TO HUSBAND AND WIFE ON JURY

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 29.—It is not proper for husband and wife to sit on the same jury according to a decision made to-day in a damage case in the Superior Court. Judge Gillies permitted counsel for the plaintiff to challenge Mrs. J. D. Dean, of Kent, whose husband had been accepted as a juror. Mrs. Dean was asked if the presence of her husband on the jury would tend to influence her verdict should he happen to disagree with her.

"It would not," answered Mrs. Dean. "I think I can decide fairly and impartially, whether Mr. Dean is present or not." The lawyers then asked Mr. Dean if Mrs. Dean would influence his decisions. He was just as positive as his wife that he was independent in deciding a question. "I would rather she would not be there, though," he added. Mrs. Dean was excused.
