A TRIBUTE TO LOYALTY IN KING'S COUNTY

Sir,—I have recently read a letter signed J. D. L. King's Co., re production, remuneration, loyalty, etc., followed by another, signed A. A. Stewart, King's Co. on the same strain—a grievance. Being the mother of a boy who is at present in the titanic struggle with that ignominious foe— the ruthless Hun, I believe Sir, if ever there was a time that patience ceased to be a virtue, it is now.

Farmers! of King's Co., and elsewhere you have been asked to show your loyalty, not only as farmers but as men. How have you responded? I can't go, I have a farm, I must stay and produce, I must increase my acreage." Evidently you have increased your acreage, and also your storehouse capacity, and "fared sumptuously every day."

Dear Messrs King's Co. injured farmers, you are both of military age, it is also evident that the former's son is "Somewhere in fairyland" while the latter's is in the "Kiltie regiment," which will not be called to go on draft until 18 years hence—pray, where is your grievance?

You have refused, 85 cents per bus. for potatoes, last fall, while vessels were lying to, at wharves for weeks, idle, waiting for produce. You say "it was not enough to pay your expenses and live," that it was not sufficient remuneration. Alas! it was not loyalty.

Brave boy! somewhere in France, with rats and vermin for your companions, the thunderous roar of the artillery in your ears, the bursting of shells constantly around you, the poisonous gas in your nostrils, with sleepless days and nights, oftentimes cold, hungry and exhausted, you too have been asked to show your loyalty. How have YOU responded? Did you ask for remuneration? What remuneration can be offered to you.

Dear manly boy! strong, both mentally and physically, you could also produce. How have you responded to your country's call? You had a farm! Dear heroic boy! worthy toiler of the sea, you have produced a harvest from the deep in abundance; you who would, cheerfully, till the soil, wield a pen or brave the dangers of the deep, without remuneration did you deem it sufficient for your country, you to whom the whir of the motor and the roar of the surging billows was music to your ear—How have you responded?

Dear noble, honest-hearted boy! after you know your young brother was returning a hopeless cripple, your brother had fallen where your widowed mother was not permitted to drop even a tear on his grave in far away France—How did you show your loyalty? Brave boy! you donned the Khaki with the determination to avenge your brother's death, to take his place—for Canada.

Dear patient weary boy! after many months of hardship in your encounter with the Hun, after your brother had fallen by your side, two more brothers with you, in danger on the field—all of that noble family of sons—after the appeal from the broken, down mother had reached your ears, what is your conception of loyalty? How did YOU respond? "Mother, dear, keep up your courage until the Hun is beaten—I am here come what may, to see the finish of this"—Surely, this is loyalty.

Dear courageous, orphan boy! still in your school boy garb with your youthful school mate yet in your teens this call was not for such as you, but it was sufficient for you to respond, it was your country's call. These have left farms, business, dependents—These have responded. "I will leave all, I MUST leave all I hold dear—mother, father, sisters, brothers. I will give all, I will go—even unto death.

Mothers of these brave boys who are at present upholding the honor of Canada in the line on the Western front! Mothers of the fallen brave! Have WE a grievance? Nay; verily—they responded to the call to protect the weak, to uphold Righteousness, to die, if need be, for those principles which we transmitted to them. Farmers of Canada! talk not of remuneration, you are being remunerated. Why should you not increase your average and produce sufficient above your needs to feed the brave boys who are combating the fierce Hun, enduring such hardship in order to protect you and your loved ones! Arise; talk not of compensation at the present hour—when your empire is tottering and our very Freedom is threatened, when the blood of our brave boys is flowing on the field of Flanders and elsewhere—should they faint or falter or grow disheartened through your negligence, what remuneration, think you, would the Hun give you for your potatoes of your hogs. Arise! show your loyalty (if you are physically unfit) produce to feed those brave boys. Produce, with this thought only driven back, but to his knees, and our loved ones return Victorious—then shall not this be sufficient remuneration and also true loyalty.

I am Sir, etc.

Facts and Figures of this Great Sale.

Some of the Pianos have been used; others have been rented right here in Charlottetown. Still others have been taken as part payment on Player Pianos, but the vast majority are Brand New, High Grade, Guaranteed Pianos direct from the factories and fully warranted.

Come Here to This Sale.

Included in this sale are brand new, high grade $400, $450, $500, $550 Pianos, and all are going at prices so low that competition is out of the question. The end is in sight. There are no two ways about it; every single, solitary Piano, Player Piano and Organ must be sold at some price. This is absolutely flat and final.

The Last Word has Been Spoken.

We have received final instructions from our factory. It is: Sell everything at some price—Do not be afraid to slash into high prices—We do not want you to ship anything; let go everything, even the desks, fixtures, stoves etc. Do not refuse any kind of a reasonable cash offer. This gives us unlimited latitude for the last few days, and out they go regardless of consequences.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

The Crucifixion would never have taken place had it not been for the insane jealousy of the exponents of the old law. The mad cry of Fake from the Scribes and Pharasees precipitated the most inhuman murder ever called to the attention of mankind. We poor mortals who sell pianos and conduct our own business in our own way expect to be shouted at by the modern Pharisees who gouge the piano-buying public for exhorbitant prices. Come here to this sale—See for yourself—Make us prove our statements that this is the greatest, the grandest, the most liberal Piano Sale ever attempted in the Dominion of Canada.
