

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

IN MEMORIAM

MR. GEORGE H. TANTON

The death occurred in this city at noon Tuesday of Mr. George H. Tanton, aged seventy-three. Mr. Tanton was a son of the late W. D. Tanton, of Charlottetown. When a youth he was connected with the mechanical departments of the "Patriot" and the "Herald," at one time being foreman of the former paper. He was also engaged in reportorial work, and was acting editor of the Patriot during the absence of the late Hon. David Laird when attending the Ecumenical Council, in Edinburgh, Scotland. He subsequently gave up newspaper work, and went to Massachusetts, where he was engaged in business at Charlestown and Everett. He was elected Town Councillor in the latter city. During the big fire which swept Everett his establishment was burned out, and after that he returned to Charlottetown where he has been since residing. Mr. Tanton was an excellent citizen and a valued contributor from time to time to the press, being well posted on the affairs of the day. He was a prominent member of the Orange Order. He leaves to mourn a widow, one brother W. D. Tanton, of the Halifax Herald, two sisters, Mrs. Wm. Small, Vancouver, B. C., and Mrs. Wm. Cameron, of Belmont, Mass. The funeral will take place after the arrival of a grandson, Mr. Oakes, from Boston.

MRS. ANN BRADLEY

On December 22nd, St. Teresa's lost one of its respected citizens by the death of Mrs. Ann Bradley, widow of the late John Bradley. Her demise came as a shock to her family and many friends, for although she had reached the age of eighty two years she still had the vigor and youth of a much younger woman and was quite as well as usual on the day previous to her death. The late Mrs. Bradley possessed all the qualities of a sterling character and was held in high esteem by her many acquaintances, especially the poor and needy, who never lost her door unaided, her unflinching aim to comfort the distressed. She leaves to mourn two daughters, Agnes of Boston, Mass., Mrs. D. C. Rorke, Haverhill, Mass., and one son, Charles, on the homestead. The funeral took place on Friday morning to St. Cuthbert's Church St. Teresa's, and notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads, was largely attended, bearing testimony of the many who came to pay the last sad tribute of respect to the departed one. After a solemn High Mass of Requiem was chanted by the parish priest, Rev. I. R. A. McDonald and the services performed her mortal remains were laid to rest to await a glorious resurrection. Mass cards were received from the following: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley and family. Agnes Bradley, Boston. Marguerite Bradley, St. Teresa. John F. Gormley and family, St. Teresa. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McInnis, Charlottetown. Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney, Peabody. Mary Donnelly, St. Teresa. Spiritual Offer of St. Teresa. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bradley, Letters of Sympathy John Mooney, Boston. Bertha Byrne, Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Byrne, Bedford. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McGrath, Morell. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Greenan, Kinross. Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuaid, Kelly's Cross. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rorke, Haverhill, Mass.

There the matter stood for two years until this week when Dr. Pocock and Ellison were summoned. Dr. G. W. Doxsee, president of the league assured The Star today that the case would be fought to the bitter end.

This Lizzie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans, of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Portage La Prairie, Man., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks VapoRub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had croup at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds."

Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsillitis, bronchitis, croup or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin.

DR. W. L. HOLMAN OF SUMMERSIDE DEALS WITH MICROBES

The one constant menace to mankind, the most potent dictator of the lives and habits of the people, the thing that must be reckoned with before all else, for in ignorance is disaster; this thing is the microbe. As Dr. W. L. Holman, of Summerside, P. E. I., professor of bacteriology at the University of Toronto, told the story last Saturday night in Convocation Hall to the members of the Royal Canadian Institute of the effect of the microbe on human society, there was unfolded by degrees a tremendous drama of gigantic proportions greater in effect than all the wars of all time. "Notwithstanding the tremendous harm which microbes have done," declared Dr. Holman, "we have learned that the vast majority of them are not only harmless to man, but they are of great benefit to him and, indeed, continuous life on this earth is dependent on bacterial actions. All formed living things—insects, animals, fish and man, would after death in a reasonably short time, cover all the earth with their dead bodies and without the bacteria of the necessary elements for further life were it not for the bacteria, which break down these bodies into the simplest forms which plants can use to start the life cycle anew. "Even this necessary function of bacteria has its drawbacks when our food becomes the material for the breakdown process and the economic loss from decaying food is, of course, very great indeed. To overcome this we have developed the canning industry and this industry, to be successful, depends upon the complete destruction of bacteria in the canned foods. The olive industry in California lost millions of dollars because a few cans out of many millions were not properly heated before closing. The bacteria that have learned to begin their activities in the living bodies, the disease-producing germs, these were the ones to be dreaded. The activities of bacteria manifested in the disease and death of human beings, despite the interest aroused by bacterial activities in agriculture and many industries, were the ones most interesting to the mass of people said Dr. Holman.

800 DRUGLESS DOCTORS LINED UP FOR A FIGHT

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—Eight hundred chiropractors, osteopaths and other drugless practitioners will be obliged to order new signs on their doors and windows and invest in new stationary and professional cards if a case now pending in police court goes against them. Dr. Hubert Pocock, osteopath, with offices in the C. P. R. building, and Dr. W. J. Ellison, chiropractor, 102 Annett street, were arraigned in court to-day charged with having assumed, used, and employed the title "doctor" contrary to law. The case was remanded until next week.

What The Act Says —During the session of 1925 an amendment to the Ontario Medicine Act was passed by the legislature, section two of which is as follows: "Any person not registered pursuant to this act who takes or uses any name, title, addition or description implying or calculated to lead people to infer that he is registered under this act, or that he is recognized by law as a physician, surgeon, accoucheur or licentiate in medicine, surgery or midwifery, or who assumes, uses or employs the title, "doctor," surgeon, "physician" or "physic" or any prefix indicative of such titles as an occupational designation relating to the treatment of human ailments or advertisements or holds himself out as such shall incur a penalty of not less than $25 and not more than $100."

A Member Of The Board —At the same time an act was passed through the legislature to provide for the registration and regulation of drugless practitioners. Provision was made for a board of regents, comprised of five persons to be appointed by order in council.

These regents were subsequently appointed and consist of two chiropractors, two osteopaths and one medicine doctor, Dr. McKay of Ottawa, who is the secretary. Oddly enough, Dr. Hubert Pocock, one of the defendants in the pending police court case, is a member of the board.

The drugless healers particularly the chiropractors, strenuously opposed the passing of the amendment giving, as they claim a monopoly in the use of the prefix "doctor" to medical practitioners. They were not successful in preventing action by the legislature and in anticipation of the next move by the medical society they organized the "Drugless Defense League" for the purpose of raising funds with which to fight the matter in the courts when the time came. They retained Arthur W. Roebuck as
