VICTORIOUS ALLIES STILL DRIVING THE GERMANS THE AUSTRIAN ARMY ALMOST WIPED OUT

AUSTRIANS HAVE SUFFERED DEFEAT

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Copenhagen to the Central News says Berlin messages received at Copenhagen admit that the main Austrian Army suffered an absolute defeat but claim it is retiring in good order. "General Von Auffenberg's Army" the correspondent continues, "is said to be on a dangerous position, being cut off from the main army. The Austrians have had terrible losses."

CHURCHILL ENDS ALL TALK OF TRUCE TILL GERMANS ARE BEATEN

ANNOUNCES BRITAIN WILL PUT ONE MILLION FULLY EQUIPPED FIGHTING MEN ON THE CONTINENT AND MAINTAIN THEM THERE—RUSHING NIGHT AND DAY COMPLETION OF NEW BATTLESHIPS, WHICH WILL BE PUT INTO SERVICE AT EARLIEST POSSIBLE MOMENT—EXPECTS REVERSES AND HAS ALLOWED FOR THEM

MENACE OF GERMANY MUST FOREVER BE WIPED OUT, FIRST LORD DECLARES.

LONDON, September 15.—That there is not the slightest hope for speedy peace is accepted everywhere in England to-day. There will be no compromise with Germany, this was made emphatically certain by no less a personage than Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty. His speech last night at the London Opera House is everywhere accepted as the final word of the Government to the suggestion of compromise coming from the United States. England will depend on her own resources to crush Germany. Kitchener has decided that a million men are to go to the continent. And in revealing this, Churchill also made it very clear that his own department, the navy, expects to end forever the menace to peace of a German navy. The speech was the most notable yet delivered in the present war. There was no claim made of continuous sweeping victory. Instead the First Lord warned that serious reverses must be expected and declared that the Government has made allowances for them.

WILL GERMANS TRY RAID ON CANADA?

United States Watching Germans Suspected of Attempts on Canadian Railroad

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Reports from various parts of the country that Germans are secretly drilling and looking for some opportunity to injure British interests are causing grave anxiety to the Department of State and Mr. Bryan. It is feared the Germans might conduct a raid into Canada and destroy a considerable section of the Canadian Pacific Railway. To forestall such a movement, Mr. Bryan has issued orders that the closest possible watch be kept on all Germans in this country who show signs of seeking some measure of assisting their Mother Country.

SIR JOHN FRENCH IDOL OF HIS TROOPS

LONDON, September 15.—"Sir John French is in health and spirits and looks twenty years younger than when he went off to the war," says a letter from an army officer of the British headquarters staff, which has reached here. "His army idealizes him and the 'Tommys' are crazy about him. "After one day's work he insisted upon visiting the trenches. This was during the British retreat, and his staff was hard put to it to prevent the old boy running needless risks. Whenever the word went through the ranks, that Sir John was around the men cheered him to the echo. After the magnificent tribute which the Field Marshal paid to his men, this testimony on their side shows the inspiration of his personality. "This instance of Sir John's personal kindness is told. When the Field Marshal left London for Paris he undertook with what those who know him well say is characteristic courtesy and simplicity, to convey some small parcels to her children from a lady, who is a friend of Lady French. These children were stuck in Paris with their governess and were about to be taken to the south of France with two or three families similarly situated. "Lady French lives near London and devotes her time to good work in the interest of the troops under her husband's command.

The money to pay them for their work will be furnished by working girls still employed, who are members of the "Vacation Fund Committee." The Vacation Fund treasury will be drawn upon to help out and special contributions from the working girls will make up any deficiencies.

RHEIMS OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—"The occupation of Rheims by the allied troops is officially announced. Six hundred prisoners and twelve guns were captured yesterday by a corps on the right of the British. "PARIS, Sept. 15.—The Figaro asserts that Germany is already making overtures to Belgium for an agreement whereby, in return for making certain concessions, the war between Belgium and Germany can be ended, but that her suggestions have been brusquely rejected.

GERMANS NOW DEMAND TRUTH.

GENEVA, Switzerland, via Paris, Sept. 15.—News of the German retreat, despite every precaution, has passed through Switzerland to the north, and has caused profound depression in Germany, after so many announced victories. According to advices received here, people have gathered in the streets in various German towns, shouting: "Tell us the truth, give us the news." "The newspaper offices at Munich have been closed as hoisders are feared.

SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION

Yesterday's cablegrams dealt mainly with the plans of the Allies in France. On the right the troops were engaged in the hilly district south of Argonne; on the left, under General Pau, they were attempting to cut the lines of communication of General Von Kluck, and a report from Dieppe indicated they had been successful. The General was stated to have surrendered with 25,000 men. The British were engaged north of the River Aisne, their efforts being directed to the relief of Rheims and Laon. The former was reported officially to have been occupied yesterday by the Allies, and should Laon follow suit the Germans would be left with only one line of communication by way of Reims. Charlesville, to Namur, and even that would be threatened. "The Crown Prince's army attempted to break through the lines of the Allies between the fortified towns of Verdun and Toul, but failed and was driven back in the direction of the River Moselle. According to The Times, the loss of the Austrians in Galicia totals not less than 400,000, or one-third of their forces. In addition they have lost 1,000 guns, more than two-thirds of their available artillery. The German cruiser Hecla was sunk by a torpedo, but where it is not stated. Almost all the crew was saved. The German submarine which sunk the Pathfinder has herself been sunk by fire from British ships. These reports indicate that the fleets have been in touch, but when or where has not been divulged.

PACIFIC COAST SEEMS SAFE FROM ATTACK

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—All danger of an attack by German warships on the Pacific coast seems to be over and the British Columbia militia regiments which were called out for defence duty have now been ordered to their homes. Only enough are still on duty to make small garrisons at Vancouver, Victoria, and Prince Rupert, and to guard public works, bridges, etc.

CLAIMS SHE HAS FOUND NEW MOUNTAIN IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A mountain, 11,000 feet high, which Miss Mary L. Jobe, explorer, instructor in history at Hunter College here, believes has never been mapped, was discovered by her in the wilds of British Columbia and a report concerning it will be made, she said to-night, to the Canadian Government and to the National Geographical Society. Miss Jobe locates the mountain, to which she will give an Indian name, as about 150 miles north of Mount Robson.

RUSSIAN PROGRESS UNRESTRICTED.

(Special to the Guardian)
PETROGRAD, Sept. 15.—The general staff has issued an announcement as follows: "The Russian troops are progressing along the lower stretches of the San River without meeting any resistance from the defeated enemy, who continue to retreat. After having occupied Grodek, 16 miles west of Lemberg, and reached Moseieka, 37 miles southwest of Lemberg, the Russians find themselves within a single day's march of Przemyśl. There was no fighting Monday in Eastern Prussia.

OTTAWA, Sept. 15.—The appointment of Colonel the Hon. J. S. Hendrie, of Hamilton, Minister without portfolio in the Whitney Government, as Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, to succeed Sir John Gibson is expected to be made in the course of a few days. It is understood that the Cabinet has practically decided upon the appointment, but it will not be officially gazetted until Colonel Hendrie has completed his present task in connection with the remount work of the Militia Department. The present Lieutenant-Governor, Sir John Gibson, was appointed on September 22, 1908, and his five-year term of office was extended last September for another year.

HOME RULE SUSPENDED

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, Sept. 15.—After the Unionists had made a formal protest and had left the Chamber, the Commons this afternoon passed through all stages a bill introduced by Premier Asquith to suspend the operation of the Irish Home Rule and Welsh Disestablishment Bills. In the House of Lords a motion for second reading of the Home Rule Bill, was adjourned on a vote of 93 to 29. In introducing his bill Premier Asquith strongly repudiated the assertion that the Government had violated any of its assurances not to proceed with controversial legislation. To have postponed the passage of the bill until after the termination of the war, he said, would have had a deplorable effect on the Irish race all over the world and on Irish recruiting. The Premier promised that before Home Rule Bill came into operation the Government would introduce an entirely new Amending Bill. "Bonar Law, Opposition Leader, during whose speech the Liberals left the Chamber, entered his protest against the bill introduced by Premier Asquith. "John Redmond, Irish Nationalist Leader in the Commons, replied to Law in a speech supporting the bill. The Irish Leader expressed the hope that in the intervening period when Ulsterites and Nationalists were fighting shoulder to shoulder a new spirit would arise all over Ireland making a real settlement possible. "Welsh and Labor Leaders have expressed their satisfaction with the bill. It passed through all stages with cheers from Nationalists and Ministerialists. In the Lords, during the debate on the Marquis of Crewe's motion for a second reading of the Home Rule Bill adjournment was taken.

A LEAN SEASON FOR LABRADOR FISHERMEN.

ST. JOHN'S, N.L., Sept. 14.—Conditions along the Labrador coast this season are the worst in many years, is the report received here from Dr. W. Grenfell, the missionary. All of the people on the coast are dependent on the fisheries and in many places the catch this year has been the smallest for a generation. Dr. Grenfell has informed the Colonial Government that there is certain to be much distress among the Labrador fisher folk, and he urges that measures be taken for their relief.

BRITISH AIRMEN SUCCESSFUL

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The Exchange Telegraph Company has received the following despatch from Nish: "Following their capture of Semlin, the Servians, acting in harmony with the plans of the Russian General Staff, are preparing to march on Budapest, where they will unite with Russian columns which are advancing westward. This will constitute a menace to the German flank. The Servians are leaving the bulk of the work in the invasion of Austria to the Montenegrins.

AUSTRIAN ARMY WILL MAKE STRONG STAND

ROME, Sept. 15.—A despatch from Petrograd received officially here says the few German contingents which assisted the Austrians in their last encounters with the Russians were so exhausted they could scarcely fight. News received here from Austria says the Austrian Army is everywhere rallying and will make a strong stand against a further Russian advance.

INTERESTING INCIDENTS RELATED BY GEN. FRENCH

In his latest report of the British army's operations around Paris, Field Marshal Sir John French relates the following interesting incidents which occurred during the fighting: "On the tenth of September, part of our Second Army Corps advancing into the north, found itself marching parallel with another infantry force at some little distance away. At first it was thought this was another British unit. After some time, however, it was discovered it was a body of Germans retreating. "Measures promptly were taken to head off the enemy who were surrounded and trapped in a sunken road where four hundred men surrendered. "On September 10, a small party under a non-commissioned officer was cut off and surrounded. After a terrible resistance it was finally decided to go on fighting to the end. Faced by the non-commissioned officer and one man only were left, both of them being wounded. "The Germans came up and shouted to them: 'Lay down your arms.' "The German commander, however, signed to them to keep their arms, and then asked permission to shake hands with the wounded non-commissioned officer, who was carried off on his stretcher with his rifle by his side. "The arrival of reinforcements and the continued advance have delighted our troops, who are full of zeal and anxious to press on. "One of the features of the campaign on our side has been the success obtained by the Royal Flying Corps. In regard to the collection of information it is impossible either to award too much praise to our aviators or to specify the way they have carried out their duties or to over-estimate the value of the intelligence collected, more especially during the recent advance. "In due course, certain examples of what has been effected may be specified and the far-reaching nature of the results fully explained, but that time has not arrived. "That the services of our Flying Corps, which has really been on trial, are fully appreciated by our Allies is shown by the following message from the Commander-in-Chief of the French armies received September 9 by Field Marshal Lord Kitchener: "Please express most particularly to Field Marshal French, my thanks for the services rendered every day by the English Flying Corps. The precision, exactitude and regularity of the news brought in by its members are evidence of their perfect organization and also of the perfect training of the pilots and the observers. "To give a rough idea of the amount of work carried out, it is sufficient to mention that during a period of twenty days up to the tenth of September, a daily average of more than nine flights of over 100 miles each, has been maintained. "The constant object of our aviators has been to effect an accurate location of the enemy's forces, and, incidentally, since the operations cover so large an area, of our own units.

ROYAL CANADIANS ON SERVICE IN BERMUDA

Canada's permanent forces are now on overseas service. The Royal Canadian Regiment, nearly eleven hundred strong, arrived in Bermuda on Sunday night to do garrison duty there in place of the Lincolnshire Regiment who some time ago left for Europe. How long the R. C. R. will be kept in Bermuda is a problem, but every man from Colonel Fages down to the youngest bugler was praying with all his might that their stay in Bermuda would not be long, and that in a short while their place would be taken by some of the troops now at Valcartier, while they would be sent to the front. This is the first time that Canadian Regulars have ever served outside the Dominion. When the Canadian Contingent went to South Africa in 1899 they were created a battalion of the R. C. R. for administrative purposes, but they were solely a volunteer unit. After over thirty years service in various parts of the Dominion, the battalion is now on foreign duty and are their return to Canada, every man in it hopes they will have new battle honors to add to "Saskatchewan," "Paardeberg," and "South Africa," which now adorn their colors. "Saskatchewan" commemorates the service of the Infantry School, as the corps was then known, in the North West Rebellion. "Paardeberg" and "South Africa" are borne because of the service there of the Second Battalion of fifteen years ago. Now that the Regiment is in barracks at Bermuda the facts of their departure can be made public. Escorted by the fine Canadian cruiser Niobe, under command of Captain Corbett, R. N., the Royal Canadians left Halifax on Friday at noon on board the Dominion liner Canada, a most happy and appropriate combination of circumstances. It was exceedingly fitting that in addition to Canadian regulars being escorted overseas by a Canadian warship, the transport they sailed in should be named the Canada and should belong to the Dominion Line, and the combination evidently brought about a successful and speedy voyage, for the men were only a little over forty-eight hours at sea. It is of interest, too, that Canada has sent her first troops abroad in the present war, to the aid of the Mother Country, through the port of Halifax, the Atlantic gateway of the Dominion. The ships received an enthusiastic ovation as they left the harbor and several points, and it is said that the military and naval forces starting off together in a joint operation, which was then witnessed for the first time, held a deep significance for every one who witnessed the departure.

CUNARD LINER ASHORE.

QUEBEC, Sept. 15.—The Cunard liner Ivernia grounded off Cape Luze, below Father Point, yesterday. Efforts are being made to get her off.

SERVIANS PLAN TO MENACE THE GERMAN FLANK.

NISH, Servia, Sept. 15 (via London).—It is announced that the Servian offensive continues successfully. Servian troops have crossed the Save at several points, and it is said that the Servians are being received enthusiastically by the population of Hungary. "ROME, via London, Sept. 15.—The Nish correspondent of the Messagero states that the Austrians lost 500 killed and 500 wounded at Mitrovica, Servia. The Austrians continue to retreat, leaving behind hundreds of pieces of artillery and thousands of prisoners.

BRITISH GENERAL KILLED.

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, Sept. 15.—Brigadier General Findlay of the Royal Artillery has been killed in action, according to official announcement made to-night. General Von Kluck, however, is looking for reinforcements from Belgium if they have not already reached him. With these he might make another stand against his relentless pursuers.
