PASSMORE - MILL — A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Central United Church Marshfield-Dunstaffnage, on Saturday evening, September 29, at 6.45 o'clock, when Minnie Ferne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lea Mill, Marshfield became the bride of L.A.C Richard Edmund Passmore, only son of Mr. and Mrs Richard Passmore, Hamilton, Ont. The double ring ceremony was performed by the church pastor, Rev. J.A. Nicholson. Entering the beautifully decorated church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the girlish bride was gowned in a floor length dress of white English brocaded satin, slightly entrain, with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands. Her veil of tulle illusion fell from a headdress in Mary Stuart style and extended beyond her train. She carried a bouquet of Better Time Roses. Miss Dorothy Gibson cousin of the bride was bridesmaid, she was prettily attired in blush rose taffeta with matching headdress and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Miss Faye Mill, only sistre of the bride, dressed in apple green taffeta and carrying a basket of mixed flowers made a charming little flower girl. The groom was attended by Graeme Boswall and the guests were ushered by Victor Williams and Waldon Boswall. The wedding music was played by the bride's uncle, Mr. James Harris, Summerside, and during the signing of the register Miss Kathleen Royston sang very effectively "I'll Walk Beside You. The bride's mother, chose for the occasion a dress of claret rose crepe with black accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Charlottetown hotel for about forty guests. The bride's table was nicely decorated with Autumn flowers and was centered with a three tiered wedding cake. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold wrist watch, and among other lovely gifts received, was a silver casserole and candle sticks from the staff of the Bank of Commerce of which the bride was a valued employee. Mr. and Mrs. Passmore will take up residence in Hamilton, Ontario, and have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy future.

C.G.I.T. Conference

On Sept. 29th and 30th a C.G.I.T. Conference was held at Murray Harbour under the direction of Miss Lois Tupper, Maritime Girls' Work secretary. The conference opened on Saturday morning with a registration of about forty girls from Murray Harbour, High Bank, Montague, Valleyfield, Heatherdale, Grand View, Uigg and Kinross. The visiting girls were given a gracious welcome by Alice Chapman, president of the Murray Harbour group. A morning of fellowship and study followed with worship led by Mrs. Lea of Murray Harbour.

The afternoon session opened with a display of C.G.I.T. insignia and books. This was followed by discussion and suggestions regarding the year's program. At the close of this period the girls were divided into activity groups.

An enjoyable part of the conference was the supper meeting when the leaders, girls and guests were treated to a delicious meal by ladies of the church. Following this, the group was entertained by numbers prepared by the activity groups of the afternoon. The highlight of the evening program was a talk by Miss Tupper. She told a story of an old sea captain who believed that the three things most affecting one's life are the place in which one is born, the people with whom one comes in contact, and the things one does not have. She closed with a very lovely service of worship.

The closing meeting of the conference was held in the United Church on Sunday morning. The service was conducted by Alice Chapman assisted by Joyce Martin of Kinross, Provincial C.G.I.T. vice-president. The address was given by Miss Tupper, who spoke on the theme of the conference: "We Would Be Building," presenting a splendid challenge to girls and leaders alike.

Of Ace War Correspondents Is Enroute Home

By MICHAEL O'MARA

NEW YORK, Oct. 3 — (CP) — One of Canada's ace war correspondents is on his way home after more than five years on the battlefronts of Italy and Western Europe, and in war-ravaged Britain—and is mighty glad to be going back to Canada.

Douglas Amaron, lean, 30-year-old newspaperman who reported for The Canadian Press many of the most vital—and violent—battles which Canadian troops fought in the Second Great War, docked in New York this week from London, and tonight boarded a plane for his native Montreal.

A man whose business is to tell the exploits of others, Amaron was reluctant to talk about his own adventures in Italy, Holland and Germany. When he did admit to having witnessed hot actions—at dangerously close range—it was with masterly understatement.

But about the Canadian troops and the people of Britain he was willing to talk at length.

Canadians Were Great

"The Canadians were as great as anyone ever said they were," he remarked. "They were the best advertisement Canada ever had."

The people of Britain were tremendously grateful to Canada on several counts — because her troops helped man the coastal defences when a German invasion seemed likely; because it was Canadians who cleared the flying bomb and V-2 nests in the late months of the war; because of Canada's generous mutual-aid program which still is bringing comfort to the hungry, ill-clothed British public.

Because of the respect and admiration for Canadian servicemen, and through new knowledge gained of the Dominion by meeting these unofficial ambassadors, Britons now are far more interested in Canada than they were five years ago, Amaron said.

"When I went ovre there (in July, 1940) a Canadian just about had to have quintuplets to get his name in the English papers. Now they are full of Canadian news — as much in one day as there used to be in a month."

Amaron saw the blitz days in London, and paid periodic visits to the capital between lengthy trips to the frontlines on the continent, beginning in 1943. With the notable exception that bombs no longer are falling, he said, London—and Britain generally — is as badly off for food and clothing as it has been since the war started.

Amaron and his pretty, brunette wife, Marie — an English girl just discharged from the W. A. A. F.—both remarked on the abundance of luxuries available in New York.

"If they saw all that food in London, they wouldn't believe it."

Because we can drink milk again and eat chocolate bars — and because he was getting homesick — Amaron is glad to be back from Britain. "I want to go back there some day," he said. "It's a great place—even in wartime. But I'm darn glad to go home for a while. When I started saying 'lift' for 'elevator' and 'petrol' for 'gasoline', I knew it was time to leave."

MACKENZIE - IRVING WEDDING

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Church Manse at Tryon on Wednesday, September 26h, when Miss Ethel Ann Irving, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Wylie Irving of Borden was united in marriage to Mr. Herbert Gillis MacKenzie, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles MacKenzie of Winsloe, Rev. Austin Jardine officiating.

The bride looked charming in a street length dress of heaven blue with fushia accessories and carried a lovely bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her hat was an imported model with nose veil. She was attended by Miss Phyllis White of Borden who wore a gown of moss green with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Charles MacKenzie.

The mother of the bride wore a pretty black dress with a corsage of pink roses, while the mother of the groom was attired in navy blue with a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for the immediate relatives and friends. A buffet luncheon was served and the dining room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells amid a profusion of autumn flowers. Mrs. Fred Irving, Mrs. Brewer Auld and Miss Nadine Howatt served and Mrs. A. G. Chappell poured tea. The bride's table was centred with a three tier wedding cake flanked by tall pink and yellow tapers in cut glass candlesticks.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes amid the good wishes of a large number of friends and relatives who gathered to wish them God-speed. For travelling the bride wore a suit of olive green with brown hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Previous to her marriage the bride was tendered a miscellaneous shower in the Borden Legion hall. The stage was decorated in pink and white and the bride to-be was seated in a beautifully decorated chair beneath a large bell of confetti while the wedding march was played by Mrs. Ralph Toombs. Large baskets of gifts were carried in which were opened by Miss Lorraine Richard and the verses and good wishes were read by Miss Nadine Howatt while they were placed on the table by Miss Norma Howatt. The gifts were many and beautiful, consisting of pyrex, linen, silverware and money. The bride-to-be in a short speech thanked those present for their gifts and good wishes. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and bouncing the bride-to-be, the evening was pleasantly spent in music and dancing.—A
