CANADA'S LOSSES

OTTAWA, June 7.—The week-end casualty list containing the names of 39 Canadians killed, 293 wounded and 15 missing received at the department of Militia considerably swells the grand total of the Dominion's fighting men, who have been put out of action at the front. The killed reported up to this morning now number 1,170, the wounded 5,074 and the missing 1,545.

As the cables state that the week-end casualties received at London are the heaviest on record, it is likely that Canadian lists will continue to come in, unless the Dominion troops have recently been held in reserve as has been stated in cabled despatches.

ITALIANS SPARE

AMPHITHEATRE.

VENICE, June 6.—(Via Paris, June 7).—The Italian military authorities have issued instructions to ships and airships, to spare from injury the remains of the famous Roman amphitheatre at Pola, the American naval base on the eastern side of the Atlantic.

DRINK PROBLEM ON THE RIVER CLYDE.

GLASGOW, Scotland, June 7.—A statement made by Sir John Pelluce and quoted in a White Paper now issued, is as follows:

"I am very uneasy about the labor situation on the Clyde and Tyne. My destroyer dockings and refits are delayed in every case by these labor difficulties, and they take twice as long as they need to." This White Paper contains numerous reports and statistics in support of the two main propositions put forth by the chancellor of the exchequer; first, that there exists a serious loss of time in particular areas, and second that drink is very largely responsible. These reports. The first is that the best of the men are away on war service, hence men have to be taken on who would not be accepted in ordinary times. The bad time is confined to certain branches of the work, notably riveters, caulkers, platers, riggers, and too a much less degree, engineers.

The method of working known as the 'black squad,' is said to encourage excessive drinking. A squad consists of a blacksmith, two riveters, one holder-up and two boys. The wages are paid to the leader of the squad and usually divided in a public house, where the custom of treating is observed. If one man fails to turn up at 6 a. m. the squad cannot proceed, and so four or five will lose a morning's or possibly a whole day's work. As riveters are scarce they know that they are not likely to forfeit their work through losing time.

SUNDAY WORK.

Reports agree in saying that Sunday work has not helped to push the work forward as those who work on Sunday work has not helped to push the work forward, as those who work on Sunday, tempted by the double pay, generally take two week days off instead, and frequently remain out till the following Wednesday. As the wages are good, it is doubtful whether the increased price of liquor will be as strong a deterrent as it is expected to be. Some means of stimulating thrift in laying by part of their very ample wage would be of greater benefit to the men, which might be effected by the government insurance organizations. At present grants and bonuses only accentuate indifference. Another helpful thing would be more opportunities for obtaining good plain food and hot and cold non-alcoholic drinks in or near the works. The general view is that only a small minority of the workers deserve the censure meted out of them. Of the big majority most are above reproach and their actions are worthy of all praise.

MORE PRISONERS AT INTERMENT CAMP, AMHERST.

AMHERST, June 7.—The Steamer "Halifax" of the Plant S.S. Line arrived in Halifax on Saturday evening, from Jamaica having on board two hundred and ninety seven German Prisoners taken from Kingston, Jamaica. Nearly all of the prisoners were sailors, who had been captured on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. There were, however, three civilians who have been engaged in the mercantile business in Kingston. In charge of the prisoners were thirty-three guards, three officers and a medical officer, but in addition to these regular guards, there were also a large number of sailors on board the "Halifax." The prisoners were placed on a special train about ten o'clock Sunday morning and arrived in Amherst between three and four in the afternoon. They were given a very hearty reception by their fellow-prisoners in the internment camp, who cheered them heartily as they marched from the train to the quarters and once in the camp they all joined heartily in singing German Patriotic Songs. The prisoners were a very fine type of physical manhood. One of the officers in charge, informed the News that during the voyage from Jamaica to Halifax, that they gave the guards no trouble whatever. The discipline was of a very high order and the men were orderly and well behaved. There are now nearly eight hundred prisoners in the internment camp in Amherst and the guards here of course will be very materially strengthened.

There were a large number of our citizens about the internment camp yesterday afternoon to catch a glimpse of the sturdy sailors, whose ship was put out of action so speedily by the British Cruiser "Highflyer."

GENERAL FRENCH ALLOWED MAJOR MERSEREAU'S WIFE TO SEARCH DANGER ZONE.

MONTREAL, June 7.—Details of the heroic struggle of Major J. Mersereau of Hampton, N. B., to carry out his orders, though terribly wounded, reached his brother, Captain H.C. Mersereau, commanding a field ambulance corps here. At the battle of Langemarck Major Mersereau and Major Kemmis Bay of Halifax, were given dispatches to carry to the firing line. Both were injured by splinters from an explosive shell. Major Mersereau receiving a piece in the skull he lay unconscious for several hours, and then, barely able to struggle along, he delivered his message. He again became insensible and remained so for ten days. He was ultimately found at Bouloigne by his wife, who secured permission from Field Marshal French to search the hospitals and pluckily went through the danger zone.

"LAURIER: THOSE BORDEN PEOPLE MUST BE HOUSE-CLEANING!"

SAY U. S. RECRUITS ARE ENLISTING.

BOSTON, Mass., June 8.—Federal investigation of the alleged activities of persons interested in obtaining recruits for the British army among Americans, has brought to light four cases, in which inducements had been offered youths to ship abroad, according to a statement by Congressman Peter F. Tague.

Two young men, located by federal agents yesterday, said they were told they would receive a bonus of $100 besides free transportation to England if they would become British soldiers. Another boy, James Pope who is fifteen years old, said he crossed to Liverpool as a hostler on a transport steamer, and enlisted there, but later deserted and returned home, as a stowaway. He asserted that he and other young hostlers on the steamer, who also enlisted, were instructed by a recruiting sergeant to say that they were Canadians and 19 years old.

The British consul general at this port, Frederick P. Leay, disclaimed any connection with the matter, saying the responsibility lay with the United States immigration officials. Congressman Tague announced that he would go to Washington today to discuss the situation with Secretary of State Bryan and officials of the department of justice. He said he had lettered from the parents of sixty young men in this state, who had enlisted in England.

HIS CIGARETTE FIRED HER AIGRETTE.

TORONTO, Ont., June 7.—People on Yonge street above Adelaide believed they had seen the wildest freak of fashion when a middle-aged woman walked serenely up the street with smoke rising in wreaths from her hat. Overcoming their astonishment some of the pedestrians noticed the innovation, and off came the hat.

It seems that a cigaret butt tossed from a window had fallen on the hat and set afire the feather recently cleaned with gasoline. The lady refused to give the policeman on the beat her name, saying that she had always hated smoking and this settled it!

FROM FRANCE

The following interesting letter has been received by Mrs Daniel Stewart, 302 Fitzroy Street, from her son, Ira, who is in the firing line in France:—
May 21st, 1915.

Dear Mother,—Your most welcome letter, dated April 26th, reached me a few days ago.

I expect to write often now that for some time past, as the last letter I wrote you were passing through a very trying time, for our battery fought in the battle of Ypres, and you may form some idea of how busy we were at that time by what you read in the papers. I was ammunition orderly.

I have been most fortunate so far, and seem to be one of the lucky chaps, but some of the others have not fared so well, as I have seen a great number wounded and two killed in our battery.

I received a letter from Jack, dated from Halifax. He likes garrison duty very much; it is nice he is so near you.

I received the pen and the other things you sent, and like them very much, and wish someone would send me some reading matter.

Tell Alexander that we are not allowed to write everyone. Give him my love. Remember me to all my friends for their kind messages.

Now, mother, I must close, with much love to all. I remain, your loving son,

IRA STEWART.

How sleep the brave who sink to rest
By all their country's wishes blest!
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallow'd mould,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Fancy's feet have ever trod.
By fairy hands their knell is rung,
By forms unseen their dirge is sung;
There Honour comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay;
And Freedom shall a while repair,
To dwell a weeping hermit there.
