(Special to The Guardian.) LONDON, Oct. 31.—In the House of Commons yesterday Major Lane Fox asked the Premier if he was aware that there was a growing feeling throughout the country against bringing the ex-Kaiser to trial and in favor of leaving him to the punishment of his own conscience and the contempt of the world. Bonar Law replied that he was not aware of any wave of feeling against the trial. The government saw no reason why this provision of the peace treaty which had been approved by the House should not be carried out.

Cardinal Mercier Greeted in Toronto

(Special to The Guardian.) TORONTO, Oct. 31.—The Russell theatre was filled to overflowing this afternoon when Cardinal Mercier gave his simple and impressive address in which he offered the thanks of his people for Canada's help. The tall figure in the scarlet robe, with the firm though careworn face, dominated the scene from the moment that the audience spontaneously and as soon as he appeared rose to its feet and greeted the Cardinal with three cheers as he strode to the centre of the stage. The gathering was under the auspices of the Canadian Club. His Eminence with natural ease spoke in French and English. Sir George Foster was called upon to present His Eminence by Mr. J. E. MacPherson, President of the Canadian Club who was in the chair. Sir George made a characteristically brief but effective speech.

ONTARIO PREMIER TO RETIRE AT ONCE

Formation of New Coalition Cabinet Presents Difficulties. Dr. Coady Goes Out With Old Ministry and None in New Party Capable of Filling Position.

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—After a two months tour in Western Canada, Sir William Hearst is expected to place the resignations of his cabinet in the hands of His Honor Sir John Hendrie either today or on Saturday. A meeting of the cabinet was held yesterday afternoon when the chief subject of discussion was the date when the ministers should tender their resignations in view of the action of the United Farmers and Independent Labor party in choosing Mr. E. C. Drury. The position taken by the ministers, it is learned, was that they should get out of office as soon as possible and that there should be "no jockeying," as one minister put it. The opinion also prevails that while they were willing to retire at once it would be unwise for them to hasten handing in their resignations if Mr. Drury was not yet prepared to undertake the formation of a government.

E. C. Drury leader of the United Farmer Labor coalition conferred with Sir William Hearst at the Parliament building yesterday afternoon and as a result there is a clear understanding between the Prime Minister and the Prime Minister-to-be in connection with the transfer of administrative authority. When the Lieut. Governor invites the new leader to form a government the first event following upon the conference will be the resignation of Sir William which will probably be formally tendered to Sir John Hendrie today. The Lt. Governor following constitutional practice will call upon Sir William for advice regarding the choice of a successor and the Prime Minister, it is understood, will thereupon suggest the name of Mr. Drury as leader of the largest following in the legislature. Within the next day or two the Lieutenant Governor is expected to send for Mr. Drury and hear from him his plans and his prospects of forming a Government that can command sufficient support in the House. It is entirely unlikely however that His Honor will at once invite the Farmer-Labor leader to accept office. It is stated that while Mr. Drury has his cabinet shaped in a general way he desires time for full consideration and may not be ready to take over the reins of office for a time.

The following communication was given out from the Secretary's office last night "the statement in the Toronto Star this evening that the mail brought to the E. C. headquarters 100 King St. East, a message from the Secretary of the Lieut. Governor asking Mr. Drury and the United Farmers to state their position with regard to the formation of a Government is absolutely untrue. When the Government retires there will be no strategists. Rumors that Hon. Dr. Coady will continue as Minister of Education in the new administration were set at rest yesterday when the Minister made an emphatic declaration of his intention to drop out when the present ministry resigns. He said, "I go out with them and under no circumstances have I any intention of continuing my connection with the Department of Education. My congregation are most anxious that I should return to my full parochial work and that opportunity has come. I intend to embrace it." Dr. Coady's post will be one of the biggest portofolios here in the ranks of the former coalition—is there a man who can fill Dr. Coady's shoes nor in either of the old parties for that matter. In the time he has been in office however he had laid foundations for educational progress that others can build upon and his most important policies, technical and industrial education and the stimulation of rural education through a system of consolidated schools, are so well developed that they cannot collapse. He provided they are in sympathetic hands."

Horn, despite his protest, was removed to jail.

Canada Protests U. S. Labour Council

(Special to The Guardian.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Canada filed a formal protest against the proposed composition of the Governing body of the international labor office to be established under the league of nations. The point at issue is regarded by the Canadian delegation here as of the greatest moment, involving the right of Canada, by reason of her industrial importance, to name one of the members of the Governing body rather than to take her chance of election as one of the nations of lesser importance from industrial point of view. Although Americans are not officially represented in the peace treaty, her representatives were invited to be guests of the conference, the resolution to that effect being seconded by Mr. Rowell.

House of Commons Takes longer Hours

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—On Tuesday next the House of Commons will commence to sit morning, afternoon and evening, and Saturday will also be a full day. This will make about a forty eight hour week. The Opposition however believes that this is too long for a man to concentrate his attention upon the difficult and complicated problems of the day and Hon. W. S. Fielding, Frank Cassill of Pontiac, Jean Joseph Denis of Joliette, and D. D. McKenzie, House leader, opposed the proposition on that and various other grounds, when the government introduced the proposal yesterday.

Indian Trouble Makers Will be Punished

(Special to The Guardian.) SIMLA, Oct. 30.—Owing to the hostility of the Wazir, Mahads during the last few months, the Government has become necessary to adopt measures to prevent continual attacks on British posts and convoys and raids into British territory. Representatives of these tribes are being summoned to hear the British terms. In the event of their non-compliance with the terms they would be given time to remove women and children and will then be subjected to a period of intense aerial bombardment which would be followed by other punitive measures against the tribes implicated. In the recent outrages six infantry brigades as well as cavalry and artillery commanded by Major General Climo are being employed.

Two Round Robins Circulated in House

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—Two round robins fluttering about the corridors have gathered up between them nearly all the names of the Government's supporters. The first of these deals with prohibition and expresses the feeling that the Government should quietly drop its two temperance bills, if such a drop could by any possible means be made quiet. The second round robin has received the signatures of nearly all the Unionist members. It asks that the next session of Parliament shall be called in January next. They are anxious to get the business of the year done before the hot weather comes and have a good long recess, which they have not had since 1918. There will have to be a caucus to consider these demands.

House of Commons Takes longer Hours

(Special to The Guardian.) OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—On Tuesday next the House of Commons will commence to sit morning, afternoon and evening, and Saturday will also be a full day. This will make about a forty eight hour week. ## A Bad Fire At Kensington

(Special by Phone) The whole plant of the Imperial Canning Co. at Kensington was destroyed by fire Thursday night. It is supposed to have originated from the furnace though every precaution had always been taken to guard against such a catastrophe. The machinery included a boiler and steam engine and a completely modern canning outfit. The Company suffer an acute loss, about $25,000, which is only partially covered by the insurance. The indications were that a prosperous year was ahead, the Company just beginning the filling of a large contract. The Manager Mr. J. S. Cousins and his foreman Mr. A. Hiltz were working in the cannery, all day and left the building shortly before nine o'clock. Everything was as usual and seemed to be perfectly safe and nothing was in evidence to suggest a fire. The Company are considering the erection of a new plant.

City Canvassers Hold Conference

Mr. C. H. B. Longworth, Chairman of the Victory Loan Provincial Committee last night entertained the chairmen and members of the City Canvassing Committees, to the number of forty at luncheon at the Victoria Hotel. After luncheon the work for the coming week's drive was outlined and such steps agreed upon as will make the loan a success. Mr. Longworth announced the objectives for Charlottetown and Summerside, the former $400,000 and the latter $125,000. Mr. Longworth referred to the necessity of making this loan a success in Canada, principally to provide credits to Great Britain in order to enable her to buy the products of Canadian farms and fisheries. He also said the canvassers had no apology to make in soliciting the purchase of bonds. The parties to whom they sold last year held bonds today which were worth more than was paid for them in addition to receiving five and one half per cent on their money. His closing words were the slogan "Come on, lets finish the job." Mr. W. Harry Tidmarsh gave an excellent address full of pointers for the canvassers and wound up by calling upon his colleagues to aim at doubling the city's objective, namely $800,000. Mr. George Inman gave a short and witty speech with many good points for the canvassers. Among the guests was Mr. J. P. Gordon, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, who made the announcement that a large German Field Gun was offered for competition between Charlottetown and Summerside. This gun will be awarded to the city obtaining the largest percentage of its objective.
