THE WALL FLOWER BY MARION RUBINCAM BUDDING ROMANCE Chapter 17

Morton delivered his oration in great style and Dora applauded him at the end of it. "You do it beautifully," she murmured, "and you make it so much more effective by your gestures."

"My elocution teacher taught me gesturing," he continued. "She said that if you do it right, it will help you to get your meaning across."

"You are a very good actor," she said. "I have never seen you so good before."

"I am not an actor," he said. "I am only a boy who has learned a few things from my teacher."

Purify Your Blood

THIS SPRING TAKE HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, THAT GOOD TONIC MEDICINE.

In nearly 50 years of use it has won the people's confidence as pure, clean, safe and wonderfully helpful.

All claims for Hood's Sarsaparilla are backed up by many letters telling of relief in a multitude of cases of scrofula, eczema or salt rheum, psoriasis, blood-poisoning, catarrh and rheumatism, and of loss of appetite, that tired feeling, and low or run-down conditions common in the spring.

It originated in a physician's prescription and is recommended and used by many physicians today. It purifies, builds up, "makes food taste good."

SPRING MEDICINE.—"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family for years, as a spring medicine, and have always found it beneficial." Miss Dorthea McDonald, 10 Buckingham Ave., Montreal, Que.

IT IS IDEAL.—"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and can say that it is all it is advertised to be—an ideal spring medicine. I can and do recommend it, especially to all who suffer from sick headache." Miss C. W. Fairweather, Moncton, N. B.

RUN DOWN.—"My brother became completely run-down. His blood was poor, whole system out of order. Hood's Sarsaparilla produced wonderful results. In a short time, after using only three bottles, he was cured. Hood's Sarsaparilla is certainly the best for a run-down system." Lena Banner, 125 Bloor St., Toronto, Ont.

BLOOD AND STOMACH.—"I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for disorders of the stomach, and as an excellent blood purifier. As a spring medicine, we never used anything else equal to it." Ethel W. Hill, 149, Argyle St., Toronto, Ont.

Hood's Sarsaparilla PURIFIES, VITALIZES AND ENRICHES THE BLOOD.

Beer & Weeks

She wondered whether she might dare to ask Morton for Sunday's supper—and impulsively mailed him a letter. As the postman called and a letter came, she scanned it and found it was a week or less, now, she invented an egg to drive to the post office in a town. She could not ask her uncle to mail it for her.

Morton came, with his pleasant smile, his horse coated in white mud, a muffer around his neck, of a shade of scarlet that fought violently with his sandy hair and his freckles. The never-ending winter dragged on, this Sunday was raw and cold, with a leaden ray sky, an occasional spitting gusts of snow.

In spite of which the two walked to the rock on top of Knob's Hill where Morton delivered a series of select quotations, com's, tragic and otherwise and Dora admired and applauded.

As they returned to have Sunday supper in the big kitchen, Morton from the glowing range, Morton said it was a delicious meal—as it were, for Dora had utilized every resource of the farm and served a hot broth and a cold chicken salad and a slice that would have scandalized Aunt Maude because of the eggs it took, and coffee with thick and yellow cream skimmed with a spoon from shallow pans in the dairy.

Jim pretended "he or" mare" was sick and needed attention, in order to have them alone after supper. And Morton dried dishes and remonstrated at their first meeting.

"I went out in the kitchen at Gladys' to help," he said. "Gee, I was glad to escape that chattering crowd! They're so empty-headed I can't talk to them even if I could get a word in now and then."

"That's because you have serious things on your mind," said Dora. "I can't—well, I don't know why—stupid, I expect. I can't think of anything to say and when I do they don't pay any attention."
